

Deferments for Students

members of an organized unit of a reserve component of the armed forces.

3. Advanced ROTC students will be deferred until the completion of their course, provided they maintain satisfactory grades in academic and military subjects. They will be expected to accept a commission in a reserve component after graduation, and will be subject to call for two years of active duty.

The duty period for veterans who enrolled in advanced ROTC before June 24, 1948, who had less than 90 days' active service will be 21 months. Veterans in advanced ROTC who served 90 days or more will be subject to only 15 days of annual service in the reserve component.

4. Freshmen and sophomores in basic ROTC may indicate their desire for four years of military training at the University, agreeing to accept a reserve commission if tendered and to serve not less than two years if commissioned.

Deferment will probably be granted such students during standing in the University. their two years of basic training, depending on quotas allotted the University, according to the military science department. If, however, the student is not accepted for advanced ROTC upon completion of the basic course, he reverts to class 1-A and is subject to immediate call.

ROTC deferment will not be granted if:

a. Student is not standing in the University.

b. Student shows insufficient aptitude in ROTC.

c. Student fails to pursue ROTC course in any term in which he would be normally expected to enroll (excessive absences from ROTC); or fails to attend summer training camp.

d. Student fails to accept reserve commission when tendered.

5. Members of the National Guard or any reserve component of the armed forces who enlisted before June 24, 1948, or before reaching the age of 18 years and 6 months, will be deferred indefinitely.

6. A man with a wife, child, or other dependent may be deferred indefinitely on the decision of the local draft board.

7. The sole surviving son of a family in which one or more sons or daughters were killed in or as a result of active service in World War II will be deferred indefinitely.

8. After a man reaches the age of 26 he will be placed in class 5-A and deferred.

9. Aviation cadets who have been accepted for training but not called may be deferred for a period not to exceed four months.

10. Aliens will be deferred upon presentation of the proper application forms.

11. Divinity students will be deferred indefinitely.

This classification includes students who are satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, under the guidance of a recognized church or religious organization, preparatory to entering a recognized theological or divinity school in which they have been pre-enrolled.

"Periods of active duty" do not include:

1. Training camp of any reserve organization.

2. Army Scholastic Training Program (ASTP), AAF college training program, or similar training under Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard.

3. Training at West Point, Annapolis, or the Coast Guard Academy.

4. Processing for separation from or entry into one of the foregoing educational institutions.

The local draft board office is on the second floor of the Armory in downtown Eugene; the induction station shares neighboring offices.

This year physical examinations will be given in Eugene; during the wartime draft registrants were required to journey to Portland for their tests.

B. R. Wagner of Eugene is chairman of the new draft board. He is assisted by Mrs. F. E. Harris, clerk; Frank L. Jones of Springfield, secretary; and Earl H. Hill, Cushman, member.

All of the members have served on previous draft boards.
