

IM All-Star Football Squad Selected

Volleyball Competition Moves into Second Day

Kappa Sigma battled its way to victory over Pi Kappa Phi in the second day of intramural volleyball competition yesterday, turning out a pair of 15-10 triumphs.

Alpha Tau Omega made short work of Wesley house, which had only three men in the lineup. The quick disposal was accomplished in 15-0 and 15-2 fashion.

The Phi Gamma Delta sextet scored a decisive victory over Nestor hall. The first game was 15-6 and the second 15-5.

of the day was the Minturn, Theta Chi battle, and it was a battle all the way.

Santos Shines

Louie Santos, who made the IM all-star football team, looked like he might repeat in volleyball as he time and again smashed Kihei Brown's setups to the ground with dazzling force.

The Theta Chis were no push-overs, both games going to Minturn by a 15-12 count.

Delta Upsilon smothered Phi Kappa Sigma 15-3 and 15-1.

Easily the outstanding contest

First Team	Position	Second Team
Ed Dick, Sigma Nu	End	Bob Kehrl, Delts
Chuck Strader, Chi Psi	End	Dick Mase, McChesney
Bud Herbert, Sibma Nu	Guard	Duff Kimsey, Sigma Nu
Ellery Feorsen, SAE	Guard	Ed Vannet, Theta Chi
Bill Hanna, Phi Delt (tie)
Moe Thomas, ATO	Center	Frank Rauch, ATO
Louis Santos, Minturn	Back	Jim Bartelt, Sigma Nu
amsRey Fendall, ATO	Back	Rog Dick, Sigma Nu
Bill Hutchinson, Theta Chi	Back	Bud Helm, SAE
Chuck Rufner, Chi Psi	Back	Mel Krause, Campbell club

With the final horn already sounded in IM touch football play, the Emerald's intramural staff has selected the cream of the pigskin crop for its all-star squads.

Both teams are heavy with repeaters. Bill Hanna and three-fourths of last year's backfield of Ramsey Fendall, Bill Hutchinson, and Chuck Rufner were again named on the mythical miracle team. Ed Dick and Church Strader, first string ends, were both on last year's second teams. Moe Thomas traded places with housemate Frank Rauch to cop the center spot, and Rog Dick, field general of Sigma Nu's champions held his second string back position.

Rookie Cuts Swarth

Outstanding among the newcomers is Louis Santos, Minturn hall's triple-threat back. At the start of the season Santos had the difficult task of filling the vacancy in the Minturn backfield left by diminutive Joe Tom, who is now playing varsity ball. He did the job so well that it wouldn't be a surprise to see the stocky, black haired lad playing with the big boys next year too. Had Santos been surrounded with better talent, Minturn hall could have been the surprise team of the season.

Chuck Rufner, Chi Psi perennial spark plug, passed and kicked his team into the playoff again this year to distinguish himself as the only player to be named to the first team three years in a row. It was Rufner's punts that kept Chi Psi opponents playing deep in their own territory.

Cool-Headed

Master of the art of laying the leather in the laps of his pass receivers was little Bill Hutchison of Theta Chi. It was Hutchison's signal calling and cool-headedness on the field that led them into the finals only to be overpowered by Sigma Nu.

ATO's title hopes were all tied up in the rubber arm of Ramsey Fendall, who led his housemates to the runnerup spot in the championship round. Fendall's long aeriels were consistent game winners for ATO.

Ed Dick and Bud Herbert were Sigma Nu's contribution to the all star team. Herbert, a tiger on defense, was also responsible for the air tight protection given to passer Rog Dick while Big Ed was on the receiving end on those very passes.

Running mates to Herbert are Bill Hanna, squatty guard of the Phi Delt and Ellery Ferson, SAE cornerstone. Ferson's tremendous strength in line play earned him the title "Humphrey Pennyworth" with his teammates. Hanna and Ferson tied for one of the guard spots in the lineup.

Chuck Strader, the scoring end of the Rufner to Strader pass combo, was considered by opponents to be the hardest man to cover on pass defense. He was particularly effective at snagging passes on the Chi Psi weak side pass plays.

Arounding out the first team is Moe Thomas, ATO snapper back. He barely edged out teammate Frank Rauch to annex the top center spot.

Sigma Nu led all teams with five men on both squads while ATO was second with three. SAE, Chi Psi, and Theta Chi each had two while the rest of the teams only placed a single player.

DUCK TRACKS

With only two yards gained in one try against Washington State, Johnny McKay, Oregon left halfback, remained on top of team rushing statistics released this week. Only seven yards separate the first and second men in the rushing column.

McKay is first with 387 yards gained in 57 carries, for a 6.8 per-try average. Right half George Bell is in second place with 380 net yards in 90 carries, a 4.2 average.

Woodley Lewis moved into third position with his 103 net yards gained against WSC. The Duck speedster has 258 yards gained in 48 tries, for a 5.4 average. Fullback Bon Sanders slipped into fourth place in rushing figures, with 227 net yards gained in 55 times carried, a 4.1 per-carry average.

These "big four" in the Oregon backfield continue to dominate the Oregon rushing offense. Of 1,458 net yards gained, this foursome has accounted for 1,252.

The 400-plus Oregon yardage total turned in against WSC pushed the net yardage from rushing and passing to 2,135, compared to 1,343 for the opposition.

Van Brocklin's Percentage on Rise

Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin increased his passing percentage against the Cougars, and has a total of 45 completions in 88 attempts for 653 yards gained. His completion percentage stands at .511.

End Dick Wilkins moved into the lead in the pass receiving column, with five catches in the Washington State game. In six games, he has received 13 aeriels for three touchdowns and 256 yards. Dan Garza has caught 11 passes for 129 yards and one touchdown.

Saturday's game with the St. Mary's Gaels makes the final home game for ten Webfoot senior footballers, and seven of the ten are first-stringers either on offense or defense.

Jim Aiken, Jr., Wayne Bartholemy, Jim Berwick, Keith DeCoursey, Brad Ecklund, Dan Garza, Ben Holcomb, Don Stanton, Dick Wilkins, and Win Wright are the ten who make their final Eugene appearance this week.

Although ten men aren't too many to lose, Coach Jim Aiken has a job ahead to replace them. Seven of them, as we said, are key men, while the other three, Aiken, DeCoursey, and Wright, see plenty of action.

One very encouraging thing about 1949 Oregon football is that Aiken will have his same four backfield runners—Bell, Lewis, McKay, and Sanders—back next year, in addition to his great quarterback, Van Brocklin. Two fine ends and several rugged defensive players won't be here . . . but next year's football season is quite a way in the future right now . . .

PCC Gridders Featured in 'Sport'

"Sport" magazine, in the November issue, has introduced an interesting feature section on college football which is worth looking over. Entitled the "College Football Round-up", the section includes stories and pictures of important college football players from coast to coast.

Pacific Coast players featured include Van Brocklin of Oregon, Bob Hendren of USC, and Jackie Jensen and Rod Franz of California. The article on Van Brocklin was written by L. H. Gregory, of the Portland Oregonian.

Hoopsters in First Scrimmage

Taking a trick from Jim Aiken, John Warren sent the Webfoot hoop team through an extensive scrimmage session yesterday, the first of the season.

After going through the usual Warren warmups, the squad was split into groups of ten each, and took turns going through full dress scrimmages among themselves. They were short, around ten minutes each since it is early in the year.

No score was kept, but several players looked good. Roger Wiley performed well under the boards, as he starts his fourth varsity season. Others who looked good were Jim Bocchi, Jerry Switzer, Bob Lavey, Bob Don, and Kenny Seeborg.
