

Are They Hiding Card in Sleeve? Director Baffled

By the looks of things in the educational activities department, only one Oregon student knows how to play bridge. This startling fact was discovered in an interview with Dick Williams, educational activities manager, who claimed that, although he has announced his willingness to direct the recently publicized bridge tournament in February, he needs fifteen more bridge players to participate. Interested persons may contact Williams in his office in McArthur court.

A strict study program need not interfere, he stressed, as only one evening will be required to play the round-by-mail on the campus. Williams will be sent the kit containing the prepared hands, score sheets, and the necessary instructions for the round. This material will be kept secret.

The hands will be played February 23, 24 or 25, under Williams supervision, and the score cards must be in the mail by February 6.

But colleges must indicate their desire to enter the tournament no later than December 20, and before Oregon can enter it must have contestants.

Odontoglossum Grande Flown to Eugene!

Flowers Unlimited is featuring the Odontoglossum grande orchid, native of Chiapas, Mexico, during National Flower Week, Vincent Farina announced today.

Hailed in Life magazine as one of the most outstanding of all Mexican orchids, this bloom will bring the warmth and glamour of the Tropics into your date!

A brilliance of brown and yellow, the orchid will accent every costume. Sepals of bright yellow are barred with brown and the deep brown petals are tipped with yellow. The short cream-colored lip is flecked with delicate brown.

This exotic specie orchid is being offered during National Flower Week only by FLOWERS UNLIMITED for $1.50—one-half its regular price!

The Farinas invite you to drop in to Flowers Unlimited, 193 E. Broadway to see this beautiful flower. For further information call 6290.

Clothes for Europe.

Girl Scouts over the nation celebrated the anniversary of the founding of their organization by starting one of the most extensive and constructive projects in their history.

The National Council and the American Friends Committee have set 100,000 clothes packages for Europe as a goal for their project this year.

The supplement to government aid with personal contributions will help answer the desperate call for food and clothing from the European countries. It will also promote friendship between the people of the United States and Europe.

With each package of clothes will go a letter from the donor. Included also will be a package of paper and a pencil to further correspondence.

Although this project does not involve the time, money and expert planning of the European Recovery Program, it is one of the positive elements that will help to preserve the shaky peace.

"Clothes for Europe" will answer the "Do A Good Turn Daily" with letters of appreciation from European young people who will be a little warmer this winter. D. D.
