

Speaker to Discuss Allied Occupation

Erika Mann, who is scheduled to speak in McArthur court at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, is exceptionally well posted on events and conditions in Europe. The famous daughter of Thomas Mann has, since her family's voluntary exile from Germany before the war, dedicated her life to the destruction of fascism and the promotion of the democratic ideal.

Miss Mann, whose topic Thursday will be "Occupation, Trial and Error," has made frequent tours of Europe, both before and after the war. During the war years, she acted variously as foreign correspondent, radio news analyst, and author. In conjunction with her brother, Klaus Mann, she wrote "Escape to Life" and "The Other Germany." She is also author of "School for Barbarians" and "The Lights Go Down."

After her departure from Germany, Erika Mann traveled throughout Europe wherever the tension was greatest. Before the of Germany, she cooperated closely with allied military governments in the prosecution of war trials.

She interviewed key people wherever she went. She closely studied Russian methods of occupation she visited Republican Spain, and Czechoslovakia at the time of the Munich crisis. During the war, she was in London at the height of the blitz, where she made frequent broadcasts for BBC.

During 1943-1944, she was the only woman correspondent in the Middle East, visiting, among other countries, Palestine and Iran. Starting on D-Day plus 10, she covered the western front for Liberty magazine.

For her excellent work in war reporting, Miss Mann received a citation signed by former Secretary of War Patterson. The citation read in part: "The war department expresses its appreciation for patriotic service to Erika Mann for outstanding and conspicuous service as an accredited war correspondent serving with our armed forces in an overseas theater of combat."

Soon after the end of hostilities, Erika Mann resumed her tours of Europe. As correspondent for newspapers and magazines in the United States and Great Britain, she spent over a year investigating conditions in postwar Europe. In Frankfurt, Munich, and other cities

Gordon Sabine To Speak to YW

Gordon A. Sabine, associate professor of journalism, will speak on the subject, "Will the Political Pollsters Go Out of Business?," at the YWCA sophomore commission dinner meeting this evening.

All sophomore women who have not already made arrangements through house representatives are asked to call the Y this morning and leave their names if they wish to attend. There will be a charge of 25 cents per person for the dinner.

Nelson to Speak

Lyle Nelson, University director of information, will address representatives from all living organizations today on the campus Community Chest drive at a special meeting at the Zeta Tau Alpha house at 4 p.m.

Virgil Tucker, general chairman of the student drive, asks that all houses have their vice-presidents, or other qualified representatives, present.

pation as compared to those of the western powers, and was present at the discovery of the Nazi masterfile, the card-index of all party members. This file proved to be one of the greatest documentary finds of the war. She was the only woman permitted to interview Hermann Goering and other high German war criminals in their cells at Mansdorf where they awaited trial.

In 1947, Miss Mann returned to Europe for further study of reconstruction work. Gathering material for her current lecture tour of the United States, she spent four months in Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Switzerland.

In addition to her accomplishments as a writer of books, Erika Mann has written articles for numerous magazines and newspapers in America and Great Britain.

As a girl, she studied for the stage under Max Reinhardt. Her greatest success in this field was, however, not as an actress, but as a playwright. She is the author of "Peppermill," a stirical revue which met with wide approval in the United States and other countries.

Classified Ads

WANTED: Waitress, full time on morning shift. Must have experience. Vet's wife preferred. Liggett's Cafe, 340 Bethel Dr. 39

FOR SALE: Stamp machines in dorms. Very reasonable. Inquire 1400 Willamette Street afternoons. 41

FOR SALE: Daveno—$15.00, wardrobe $5.00. Inquire University Trailer, T-41. 40.

LOST: Glasses in brown case on Kincaid St. Contact Wickman, Minturn hall. 40

WANTED: Ride to or near Montana over Thanksgiving. Will share driving and expenses. Ed Ladendorff. Ext. 385. 40

FOR SALE: Skis—Cheap. 6'22"—Hickory, No. 2 metal edges, cable bindings. $20. Write Rita Davis, 1353 Agate. 42

FOR SALE: '48 Chev. Convert Fleetmaster. Excellent condition. Must sell. See Bill Lance, Sigma Nu. Phone 324. 40

Watch the whiskers grow on the smoe at the Co-op.

in labor-management questions and in reaching decisions.

The conference will last two days, Dec. 30 and 31. About 150 professors, economists, and graduate students from the Pacific coast are expected to attend, Dr. Ellis said.

Order of O Meet

An Order of the O meeting will be held today at noon at the Beta Theta Pi house. President Roger Wiley has requested that all members be present.

Today's Staff

DAY MANAGER:

Elaine Loftus

DUMMY:

Jim Ivory

LAYOUT:

SOLICITORS

Emily West

Pat Finnegan,

Louise Johnson

OFFICE:

Lila De Jarnette

Jacklyn's Dance Studio

Beginning or advanced instruction in modern ballroom dancing . . . conducted by Jacklyn Henderson, recently from New York—formerly with ARTHUR MURRAY.

FOX TROT

WALTZ

JITTERBUG

RHUMBA

SAMBA

TANGO

24 W. 7th Ave.

SIMPLIFIED METHOD makes lessons fun as well as beneficial . . . for grace, poise, self-confidence, posture, health and exercise.

REASONABLE RATES. No charge for guest lesson and dance analysis.

HOURS: Mon. through Fri.: 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Saturdays: 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Phone 235-W

Which career is the one for you?

Administration . . . Aviation . . . Communications . . . Food Service . . . Personnel . . . Photography . . . Statistics and Finance . . . Supply . . . Weather?

These are a few of the fascinating fields that beckon in the U. S. Army and the U. S. Air Force. Naturally, you will choose the career that holds the most promise for your abilities, education, and interests, but no matter which you choose in the Army or the Air Force, you will find opportunities unlimited.

The Women's Army Corps and the Women in the Air Force have only recently been established as permanent parts of the Regular Services, so many of the jobs are brand new! Income and benefits compare favorably with those of civilian life. Advancement of qualified, career-minded women is rapid, and women in uniform have the same prestige and privileges as Service men. Some highly qualified applicants may be sent directly to Officer Candidate School for officer training. Many will travel to exciting foreign places. All will work with our nation's men to keep our country secure in peace. For an interesting and rewarding future after graduation, check these distinguished careers.

For further information, visit your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station: NURSES IN THE ARMY AND WITH THE AIR FORCE—as commissioned officers. WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS—enlisted and commissioned. WOMEN IN THE AIR FORCE—enlisted and commissioned. WOMEN MEDICAL SPECIALISTS—as commissioned officers.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE