

Erika Mann Featured on KOAC 'University Hour' Program at Four

A special interview with Erika Mann, noted lecturer and author who spoke here last night, will start off the radio studio's "University Hour" this afternoon at 4 on KOAC.

Miss Mann was interviewed by Norm Lamb, of the radio studios, on tape recording following her lecture here.

"Something for You," a program of popular music which starts at 4:15, will feature the vocals of Claire Lewis and James McMullen, accompanied by Wayne Sherwood at the piano. Announcer is Norman Weekly and director is Howard Speer.

The radio drama, "William Ireland's Confession" starts at 4:30. It features Norm Lamb as William Ireland, Bob Litten as his ghost, and Bob Croisant as William's father.

Also included in the all-male cast are Paul Ryman, Thomas Panages, Keith Harry, and Paul Nagel. Gordon Burbee is announcer and co-directors are Carol Jo Driskell and Jay Ryerse.

The play features William Ireland and also his ghost.

William, who his literary-minded father considers a stupid dull boy, attempts to gain the love of his father by forging some Shakespeare. The forgery looks enough like the real thing to fool his father and a number of other literary experts.

It doesn't fool one expert, however, and the resulting investigation gives William a hectic time throughout the play.

The voice of William's "ghost," incidentally, is ably portrayed by Bob Litten. In order to get the hollow resounding sound necessary for a proper ghost, Litten talks in front of a waste paper basket with the mike inside.

Studio Notes Change In Picture Schedule

Kennell-Ellis photographers will take pictures today, but not Saturday, for the 1949 Oregoniana, contrary to previous announcements.

This change was made because of the large number of students who had to wait several hours to have pictures taken Thursday.

The photographers said individual pictures will be taken next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday for the benefit of those students living off-campus, seniors, or others who want re-takes.
