

Friends Committee Secretary Speaks This Noon; Topic: "Are Our Civil Liberties In Danger" All Invited

Speaking on "Are our civil liberties in danger?", E. Raymond Wilson will talk to YWCA and YMCA members and other students at the YW bungalow today at noon.

Wilson, who has been executive secretary of the Friends committee on national legislation since its organization in 1943, has spent his career days as educational secretary of the peace section of the American Friends Service committee and has served as dean of faculties for the educational programs in 11 institutes of international relations in various parts of the United States.

His experiences include five years residence in Washington following developments in Congress, a year's study in Japan, four extended trips to Europe including two visits to Russia, and fourteen years of travelling, speaking, and organizing in the American peace movement.

Sent by the American Friends Service committee to England, France, Italy, Switzerland, he and Erroll T. Elliott carried greetings of the Religious Society of Friends in the United States to the peoples of war-torn Europe. He also spent two summers in Europe as a member of a seminar which made an intensive study of political and economic problems in England, France, Germany, Italy, and several others.

While taking graduate work at Columbia University, he was awarded the Japanese Brotherhood scholarship by Japanese students in America. This scholarship is designed as a gesture of goodwill to the people of the United States by giving an American student an opportunity to live in close contact with Japanese thought and life for a year. While there, he visited rural communities, schools, mission stations, and historic places, living part of the time with a Japanese family and later at the Imperial University at Tokio.

Wilson graduated from Iowa State college at Ames and received his master's degree in vocational education while serving as assistant secretary of the YMCA. Later he was granted a Roberts Fellowship for three years' study at Teachers college, Columbia University. He has been elected a member of Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Delta Kappa, honorary and professional societies.

Lawther to Speak

All YWCA members are urged to attend the open membership meeting at the Gerlinger alumni room from 6:30 to 7:30 Thursday

Spotlight on Games

(Continued from page one) their annual Civil War battle with Oregon State, and California entertains Stanford to compete for the Stanford axe. Both teams must win to maintain undefeated status, and this would end the season with the schools tied for the PCC championship.

Conference officials are going ahead with plans for the telegraphic poll, scheduled immediately following Saturday's games. Faculty representatives from each of the ten members schools will vote, the final outcome to be announced Monday morning.

Support for the playoff game has come from all quarters, with the press in both the northern and southern sections favoring arrangement of the game.

The Northern California Football Writers' association voted 17-3 for a playoff. The Southern California Football Writers' association urged that the game be played in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena November 27. This group favored Oregon as the Bowl choice in a 21-6 vote.

Northwest newspapers have advocated the game, and Victor O. Schmidt, Conference Commissioner, said there was no conference rule against such a playoff.

Jeff Cravath, Coach of the Southern California team which was beaten by both California and Oregon, said he would give Oregon the edge in any playoff because of Oregon's great passer, Norm Van Brocklin. He added, however, that he did not expect a playoff, and predicted California and Northwestern would wind up in the Rose Bowl.

UO Student Wives To Give Potluck

Dames, an organization composed of wives of University students, invites all married students to a potluck supper and social meeting at the Episcopal church annex at 6.

"This is a fine opportunity for married couples to get acquainted with one another," said Mildred Perdue, a member of the group.

Dancing another entertainment is planned by Dames. Each couple attending is asked by Mrs. Perdue to bring a dish of food—"anything they like."
