

Cal Paces Conference In Figures

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24—California completed its 1948 football season as the top offensive and defensive team in the Pacific Coast conference, according to the conference statistics released today from the commissioner's office.

The Bears averaged 372.6 yards per game from running and passing, almost double the 202.2-yard average they allowed their opponents to compile.

Oregon Second

Oregon, the co-leader with California in the conference won-lost standings, finished its 1948 schedule close behind Lynn Waldorf's team in both offense and defense.

Jim Aiken's Webfoots moved the ball downfield 3379 yards against their opponents this year, with five men, Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin, Halfbacks George Bell, Woodley Lewis and John McKay, and Fullback Bob Sanders carrying practically the entire offensive load for the Eugene team. The Oregon defenses were pierced for only 230.8 yards per game.

WSC Effective in Air

Washington State, mainly on its passing attack, rank third in total offense with a 295-yard average followed by Stanford, Oregon State and Southern California, closely bunched. The Cougars passing attack has been the conference's most effective this season, with more than 50 per cent of their passes being completed for 1201 yards in 9 games.

Six conference teams have completed their 1948 schedules and the remaining four each have one game to play.

Lemon-and-Green Varsity Toys with Freshmen Squad As First Game Approaches

Three long scrimmages with a developing Freshman team took up the varsity squad's afternoon yesterday with the opening game with Willamette a week off.

Veteran Roger Wiley was again the big wheel for the varsity, as they recorded three straight wins over the Yearlings by good margins.

The first tilt saw the veterans roll to a quick 18-4 yead, paced by guard Bob Lavey, and then coast to a lopsided 53-29 win. Lavey and LeRoy Coleman were high for the winners, each chalking up eight tallies. Jerry Switzer with seven points and Paul Sowers with five were also instrumental in the win.

Outstanding for the Frosh were guard Ken Hunt, center Jim Vranizan, and forwards Bill Clausen and Bob Gilbert. Gilbert and Vranizan gave Wiley a bad time under the boards.

Wiley was all over the floor in the second game, playing like a demon in gathering rebounds, sinking two out of three foul shots and a phenomenal seven out of nine from the floor. His 16 points were high in the 64-33 win.

Others showing well were Don Peterson with nine points, Paul Sowers with seven, and Bob Amacher, Kenny Seeborg and Leroy Coleman, with six.

Gilbert Pots Nine

Gilbert and Hunt again paced the Ducklings, Gilbert tallying nine points and working the boards well, while Hunt directed back court activities and was second high with six points.

The final scrimmage was shorter than the first two, the varsity again winning, 28-18. Dick Unis, letterman guard, went on a scoring spree and bucketed ten points to lead all scorers. Will Urban, starred in gathering rebounds, and Jack Keller both had six for the victors.

WARREN SERVES WARNING—From the way in which Coach John Warren's Webfoot basketekers have been showing in recent practice sessions, the PCC may take it as a word of warning that the veteran mentor has come up with a pretty cent ball club this season. Warren is beginning his third year as head man for the varsity.
