

Webfoots Meet Willamette

Pity Poor Little UO

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Poor little Oregon. It didn't get to go to the Rose Bowl.

So Oregon will just get around $118,500, while California, the team that will go to the Rose Bowl will get maybe $96,500.

Oregon's Cotton Bowl playoff is expected to be $112,000.

Chairman Dan Rogers of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association estimates Oregon's 42½ per cent share of the New Year's Day game in Dallas will total that amount. The bowl has a capacity of 67,000 seats at $4.80 a head.

The Rose Bowl division never has been made public, but the gate—at $5 a head except for 20,000 student tickets at $2—will be about $390,000. Added to this an estimated $100,000 for television and radio rights. Expenses and the bowl rental may reduce this to $360,000.

This will be divided equally between the Coast conference and the Big Nine. Of the coast's $180,000, California will get half.

Of the other $90,000, the conference commissioner's office will get $25,000. The remainder is split among the ten conference members—about $6,500 a share.

California's total thus will be about $96,500. Oregon also will get its $6,500 Rose Bowl share. Added to the Cotton Bowl take, it will make $118,500 for Oregon. Poor Oregon.

Roger Wiley has been the regular center for Oregon for four years.

VETERAN JIM BARTELT will see lots of action tonight when the Webfoot cagers clash with the Willamette Bearcats in Salem. Bartelt, a three-year letterman from Ashland, can play either guard or forward, and will probably play in both positions before the evening is over.

Bearcats Ready To Try For Upset Win

Tonight will be the preview on what's to come in the Northern Division race this year, for Oregon anyway. John Warren will take his boys onto the floor of the Men's Gym in Salem at eight to battle Johnny Lewis' ever-dangerous Bearcats of Willamette.

Warren isn't too confident, remembering the Bearcats upset win a year back. The Salem team has lost only one regular from that tough outfit, and are especially effective on their home floor.

Oregon, on the other hand, has lost three regulars and a semi-regular, with the departure of Dick Wilkins, Stan Williamson, Al Popick, and Reedy Berg. Jim Bartelt's injured ankles, which have kept him out of practice for six weeks, make him a doubtful starter, and he is one of the two regulars back, along with Roger Wiley.

Wiley will be at the pivot post for sure tonight, and the guard spots will be filled by lettermen Bob Lavoy and Kenny Seeborg. In case Bartelt doesn't start, Paul Sowers, flashy transfer from Vanport, will move into one forward position.

The other forward is up in the air, with 6-foot 8-inch Bob Amacher and Sophomore Will Urban both in the fight for it. Both are good backboard men and either may start.

Lewis is expected to start the two Johnson brothers, Bob and Jim, at forwards in hopes they can repeat the upset of last year, primarily engineered by these two. Both are good scorers and know how to work on the boards.

At center will probably be Doug Logue, a 6-foot 5-inch freshman from Astoria, who will have a difficult time with Wiley. A good man on the boards, Logue is not a big scorer.

Both guards from last season are still around, Ted Johnson and Tom Warren. Either one can go on a wild spree and rack up the points, remembering the Bearcats besides doing a workmanlike job in backcourt.

The Webfoot starters will have to produce or watch the game from the sideline, according to Warren, who will be taking 20 men to Salem. "With this the first game, I'm going to do a little experimenting, just to see what I have," the Webfoot coach added.

Others making the trip besides the possible starters include Jim Bocchi, Leroy Coleman, Paul Cooper, Bob Don, Lynn Hamilton, Jack Keller, Art Milne, Johnny Neeley, Don Peterson, Rod Slade, Jerry Switzer, Dick Unis and Dale Warberg.

Coast Wants AAU Meet

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP)—There were indications tonight that the National AAU track and field championships will be held on the Pacific coast next summer for the first time since 1940.

With the National AAU convention due to open here Thursday, it was announced by AAU headquarters that Fresno, Calif., had filed a bid for the title meet. Other Pacific coast cities also were understood to be interested in sponsoring it.

Utes, Tulane Snubbed

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 1 (AP) News that Tulane University players are irked about not getting a bowl invitation fell on sympathetic ears on the University of Utah campus.

One wit quipped today: "It looks to me as though Utah should play Tulane in the 'Snub Bowl'."

Doak Walker Wins Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Doak Walker of Southern Methodist has been selected as winner of the Heisman trophy as the year's outstanding college football player, it was announced today.

Walker, an All-America half-back in 1947 and strong contender for repeat honors this season, will be awarded the Heisman Memorial trophy by the Downtown Athletic club of New York.

First junior ever to win the trophy since it was inaugurated in 1935, Walker won with a total of 778 votes of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Second with 443 votes, was

North Carolina's Charlie Justice, while Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania was third with 336 votes. Others were Jackie Jensen, California, 143; Stan Heath, Nevada, 113; Norman Van Brocklin, Oregon, 83, Emil Sitko, Notre Dame, 73; and Jack Mitchell, Oklahoma, 68.

Van Brocklin, the ace quarterback from Oregon, is, like Walker, only a junior. He will have a chance again next year to beat out the Mustang star. The two will meet January 1 in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Last year Walker was third in the Heisman voting, being topped by John Lujack of Notre Dame, and Bob Chappuis of Michigan.
