Oregon State Downs Vandals 69-53

Beavers Fight Back To Take Two-Game Conference Sweep

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 18 (AP) — Oregon State fought from behind in the second half to defeat the University of Idaho, 69 to 53, and win both games of a Northern Division, Pacific Coast Basketball Conference series here.

It was the fourth straight loss for Idaho since entering Oregon last week to meet two conference rivals. The Vandals lost both games against Oregon last week and then two more here.

Coach Slats Gill's substitution of Big Alex Peterson as the second half opened was the spark that set off an Oregon State drive. It put the Beavers far enough in front that the Vandals never caught up.

Peterson banged in a goal within one minute and in the next six minutes had added four more while team mates Glen Kinney and Dick Ballantyne were helping.

SLATS GILL'S Oregon State cagers vaulted into a second place tie with the Webfoots after winning last night's tilt with Idaho, giving them a series sweep.

Prep for Weekend Series in Seattle With Washington

Oregon's varsity cagers got down to serious work yesterday, following a light workout Monday. John Warren sent his squad through a long practice session to ready them for the two game series in Seattle this weekend against Art McLarney's Huskies.

This will be the Webfoots last road trip, except for the short jaunts to Corvallis later in the season to meet Oregon State. The trip could mean the difference between a good year and a so-so one.

The Washington hoopsters, despite an unimpressive one won, three lost record in the Northern Division, will be tough on their home floor, especially if All-Coast Sammy White is ready to go.

White A Questionmark

The tricky forward sprained his ankle last weekend in Pullman, where the Huskies dropped two games to the current leaders, Washington State.

McLarney will have his quint in a fighting mood after the Cougar series and the ensuing drop in conference standings. Washington needs at least an even split in the series and will be hoping for a sweep.

Warren feels that his new-found combination, that worked so effectively against Idaho, can pull in at least one game and if the Ducks get some breaks, might get both.

The Webfoot mentor felt that one of the biggest factors would be White. If he is ready to go, the Huskies will be twice as effective.

Lineup Set

Warren is tentatively planning on using his regular lineup of Jim Bartelt and Will Urban at forward, Roger Wiley at center, and Paul Sowers and John Neeley at guard. Reserve strength will be in better shape with Bob Amacher available to relieve Wiley when the big pivotman gets tired.

Almost certain to miss the trip, however, will be another reserve center, Jerry Switzer. The 6-foot 4-inch southpaw left yesterday afternoon for Oakland by plane after receiving word that his father had died. The ex-University High star has been playing on the second unit.

The Webfoots plan to leave Eugene Thursday and rest up in Seattle the day of the opening game. The games will be played in Edmundson Pavillion, the basketball

Cassill Opposes Pre-Season PCC Cage Tourney

SEATTLE, Jan. 18 (AP) — The pre-season coast conference basketball tournament, held last month at San Francisco, is not likely to become an annual event, Harvey Cassill said tonight.

The University of Washington Athletic Director said the tourney, in which all conference teams except Idaho took part, probably would not be held next winter.

"Personally I am opposed to an annual tourney of that kind," Cassill said, "and no decision was made by the conference at its winter meeting."

Utah Won't Seek To Join Ranks Of Pacific Coast

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 18 (AP) President A. Ray Olpin of the University of Utah told a meeting of student body leaders today Utah has not applied for admission to the Pacific Coast Conference.

"Moreover," he said, "we don't contemplate making any application."

The question was raised after publication last week of a sports column in the Chronicle, student newspaper, urging that Utah join the Coast Conference. The column said Utah found little competition in the Skyline Six, of which it is now a member.

Headed for Husky-Land

OLD RELIABLE—That's Jim Bartelt, Oregon's classy 6 ft. 2 in. forward, who has flashed some fine basketball since recovering from an ankle injury and returning to the lineups. Right now the three-time letter winner is fixing his sights on the Washington Huskies, against whom he'll take the court this weekend. At that time, he will try swapping baskets with the Huskies' Sammy White.

All-America Conference Meets

CHICAGO, Jan. 18—(AP)—All America Conference club owners huddled for six hours today without a decision to determine whether the three-year-old circuit will merge with the rival National loop or continue the costly professional football feud. Ben Lindheimer said that based on the day's discussion, the prospects for next season appear "very bright." He did not elaborate as to whether this had to do with continuation of the AAC, or a merger with the National league.

Varsity Scrums Frosh

In yesterday's practice, the varsity scrimmaged the freshman team, coached by Don Kirsch. The Frosh gave the big boys some trouble, but were unable to pick up a win.

In a battle of centers, Roger Wiley, veteran pivotman, led the varsity to a 34-16 triumph, despite some fine playing by Duckling pivotman

Jim Vranizan. Wiley was high in the scoring column with 10 counts, while Vranizan bucketed 8. The Duckling gave Wiley a bad time under the boards for a while, but the veteran settled down and controlled both boards at the game's end.

Paul Sowers followed Wiley for the varsity, scoring eight points with Bob Lavey tallying five. Bill Korpela was second high for the Yearlings with five.
