

Student Court, Registration of Cars Proposed

Recent student traffic violations have resulted in the appointment of a traffic investigating committee by Bob Allen, ASUO president.

The committee, composed of Ed Ladendorff, Bob Uierce, and June Goetze, is studying the advisability of setting up a student traffic council. According to Miss Goetze, a student court may be devised which will try and sentence traffic violators.

Parking facilities pose one of the major problems to be solved. All students may be required to register their cars with University officials. Such registration would cost 25 cents and would add a little sticker to each driver's collection.

The committee is cooperating with the Eugene chief of police so that both the city and the University will benefit from the plan, if approved. Final approval rests with the executive council of the ASUO.

Artists Needed for Oregana Sketches

Students with drawing ability are needed this week, according to Ed Cauduro, art editor of the 1949 Oregana. He said they will be used Ladendorff, Bob Pierce, and June ing organizations' section of the yearbook.

Cauduro requested that interested students contact him at the Phi Psi house or Oregana office in McArthur court.

enforcement for junior weekend." Shirley Hillard, AGS candidate for the number two position, secretary-treasurer, was introduced by Nancy Hunter, liberal arts freshman.

"Shirley has a remarkable record in both high school and University activities," Miss Hunter stated. "She was treasurer of the student body and of her sophomore class at Astoria high school; where, in fact, she took part in more activities than any other girl in the student body."

Junior Rep

"She was junior representative to the Pacific Northwest College conference. She held high offices in the National Honor society and Quill and Scroll national journalism honorary, and in seven various clubs and organizations."

"Shirley has continued to make an outstanding showing in collegiate activities," Miss Hunter continued. "She is serving on the Emerald advertising and layout staff; she is active in her YWCA freshman commission, and is editor of the current edition of the Y paper, 'The Winniette.' She was WSSF house representative and has served on committees for AWS, WAA, and YWCA."

sues" as one of their main points.

Miss Beatty, interviewed following her speech for Virginia Wright, stated that "We believe USA stands for truly democratic ideals. If our candidates are elected, we will make a sincere attempt to revitalize the class. The recent abandonment of Frosh Glee by educational activities makes it more important than ever that freshmen establish new activities, which, once established, are effectively conducted. I think this frosh council idea of Virginia Wright's and John Chaney's picnic-and-dance planks are excellent beginnings."

Miss Vogue of 1949 To be Chosen Feb. 3

Miss Vogue of 1949 will be presented February 10 at a silver tea in Gerlinger hall.

The Oregana full-page girl is chosen annually by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, to preside at the organization's combined fashion show and tea.

Miss Vogue is chosen from candidates elected by their houses. Names of this year's title contestants must be submitted to Helen Sherman, Hendricks hall by Wednesday, June Goetze, president of the honorary, said.

Although Miss Vogue will be chosen on February 3, a week before the silver tea, all contestants will model the spring and summer styles provided by Russell's department store.

Fashions will be selected to suit the individual girl, Russell's has announced.

No qualifications as to term or major are set for Miss Vogue candidates, who will be judged on general appearances, poise and grooming. Not more than one contestant is allowed from a house.

KOAC Airs Educational Music Series

University students, under the direction of Miss Maude Garnett, are helping to acquaint Oregon school children with American folk music over "Let's Sing, America," KOAC's weekly broadcast.

Every Thursday from 1:15 to 1:45 p. m. a group of students interested in the field of public school music present some familiar, and some not so familiar, American folk songs and the traditions behind them.

A group of juniors and seniors who plan to be music teachers—Alberta Paydon, Lois Deanguard, Cora Skillern, Treva Rice, Mary Ellen Everton, Silvia Williams, Fay Schick, Lucretia Prentiss, John Lusk, Lauren Bush and Gertrude Rutherford—presented last Thursday's program.

"Comin' A 'Round the Mountain," and "My Darling Clementine" were coupled with the slightly less familiar spirituals, "Joshua Fit the

German Art Exhibit Nears End of Run

Exhibition of rare German paintings recently on exhibit in to draw house sketches for the liv-it was disclosed by Army Secretary Kenneth Royal. The money is to be used to aid German children in the U. S. zone.

After the paintings had an initial showing at the National Gallery of Art in Washington last spring, they were taken on a tour of thirteen American museums. Approximately 1,000,000 persons have viewed the paintings in Washington, and an estimated 710,000 have seen them in other cities.

The pictures are currently in Los Angeles where they will remain until January 22. The collection, made up of more than 200 old masters, will be shipped back to Germany next April.
