

Hoyman Co-Authors Health Chart Ad Association To Give Tests

Dr. Howard S. Hoyman, professor of health education, is co-author of a recently produced visual aid health chart.

The chart, put on sale in December and available throughout the country, is an answer to the urgent need for a come comprehensive and easily understandable method of teaching health and safety to public school, college, and teachers' college students.

Especially well adapted for classroom use, the chart consists of 33 large, lithographed sheets, with large color pictures and non-technical explanatory material illustrating the various points, on each. Included are sections on hygiene, safety and first aid, with the body functions and disease prevention stressed. The individual charts are arranged in logical sequence, and are presented so as to show the functional as well as the structural and factual aspects of the material.

Working with Dr. Hoyman on the project, were two Notre Dame experts, Dr. H. A. Gordon, and Professor R. F. Ervin, both prominent in Notre Dame's Germ-Free Life research program, and as scientist-educators.

Having had considerable success with the charts in both lower and upper division health courses at the University, Dr. Hoyman is now in the process of authoring the "Teacher's Aid and Guide," a 350-page manual to be integrated with the use of the charts, and to give advice and explanation of technique and terms, to the teachers.

Dr. Hoyman has become well known for previous work in the field of health education. He planned "a health curriculum for public schools, and has authored Guide Units for Oregon Teachers" and many other books, articles, and pamphlets.

Junior Weekend Chairman Needed

Committee chairmanships to be filled are all-campus sing, luncheon, float parade, traditions, junior prom, promotion, publicity, sunlight serenade, and the queen's contest and coronation.

by February 5. Additional information and application blanks may be obtained from House and Leland, Municipal Bus building, Portland.

Code Revision First Law Topic

"Code revision" will be the subject of a discussion by Professor Kenneth J. O'Connell of the law school faculty in room 3, Fenton hall, at 3 p. m. tomorrow. The talk will be the first in a series of legislative forums under the sponsorship of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity.

A committee of the Oregon State Bar association, headed by Professor O'Connell, has investigated code revision in other states and hopes to have the current Oregon legislature adopt its bill providing for condensation of the present 10-volume statute books into one or two volumes. The plan, which would eliminate excess verbiage and duplication, has met with favor with lawyers and jurists.

Later forums will deal with bills pending at Salem which are of special interest to lawyers and law students, said Donald G. Krause, local Delta Theta Phi head, in announcing the series.

New Biology Prof Appointed in LA

Offices of the college of liberal arts announced Monday the appointment of Dr. Lowell Jones to assistant professor of biology.

Dr. Jones received his Ph.D. in zoology at the University of California in 1943, and will come to Oregon from Utica College, Syracuse, New York. He will conclude the year as temporary replacement for Dr. Irwin Neewell, who recently resigned to take an associate professorship at the University of Hawaii.

Campus Liberals

Anti-Russian news, such as the threat to invade Iran, was played down or not mentioned. One of the editors demanded in vituperative signed editorials Emperor Hirohito's resignation in conformity with the then current Party line.

The resignation of six staff members followed the transfer of the two editors. For the first time in months the only American daily newspaper for over a half million Americans contained an undistorted account of the news.

Judging from the above case and the accounts of the OSC cause celebre it is doubtful whether the proposed "investigation" og "the Barometer" will achieve its avowed purpose or even the unmentioned aim now that someone has cried "Wolf."

Reds on the OSC Campus

On the other hand, had not one among 7000 mature students at your college had enough curiosity to try a brief dip in such an aggressive movement as communism, then you should have fired all your professors, junked your curriculum, and started over again to form an institution valuing knowledge more than memorization.

Footnote: Students have a tradition of liberalism, Mr. Strand and Mr. House. Without them there would be no one to point the way toward progress.

Mercury to Rise

The mercury will continue its slow climb today. The temperature is expected to reach a high of 37.

Women's Tennis Chairman Wanted

Petitions may be turned in now for general chairman of the women's tennis intramurals, to be held spring term. They may be turned in to Bep McCourry, WAA president, at the Delta Gamma house. Applicants must be members of the Women's Athletic association.

WHAT'S COOKING?

We've had a large number of inquiries from college men who want to know how to get into Aviation quickly—We think the idea is fine, but it isn't as easy as all of that. But, you can save time, get to be self-supporting in a shorter length of time and lay a foundation for a prosperous future career with great opportunities, and rapid advancement.

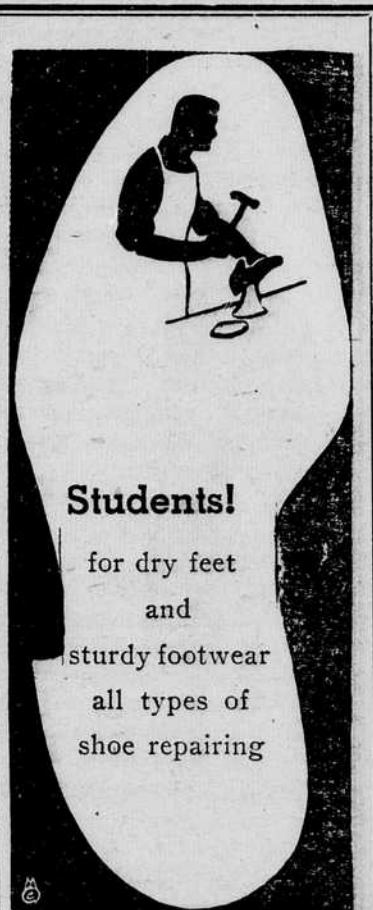

First of all, to undergraduates: continue and complete your education if possible. But if your plans are upset and you do not know what course to follow, get in touch with us, we may be able to help you.

Secondly, if you are an engineering student about to graduate, call us, we can help you after graduation to familiarize yourself with aircraft engineering practices that will enable you to step directly into a responsible aircraft position.

We have many college students and graduates with us who are filling the gap between academic education and practical application on the job.

If you are interested in Aviation and more money, it will pay you to get full details.
