

Aquaducks Work For Meets With Vandals, Cougars

Oregon's Varsity Swimmers are in for a hot weekend when they face both Idaho and Washington on successive days this weekend in the Men's Pool. Both meets are scheduled to start at 2:30 P.M.

In addition to the fine performances which are guaranteed by the competing swimmers from each college represented some of the outstanding ineligible swimmers here at Oregon have indicated that they are ready for an assault on the pool records in special events to precede the official meets themselves.

Pete Van Dijk and Joe Nishimoto, will duel in the 220 yd Freestyle one day and the 440 yd Freestyle the next.

Both Van Dijk and Nishimoto have come under the pool record in the 440 yard event by some three seconds and should bring this down even more.

A most important event this weekend which will probably have much bearing on the final outcome of the ND diving finals will see Washington State's Mel Olson and Dick Vawter pitted against Jim Stanley of the Webfoots.

Stanley and Olson have both defeated the Washington divers in earlier meets and bid fair to reign as favorites in the quest for diving laurels.

Meanwhile at the Men's Pool the emphasis for the week so far and for the coming two days will be on time trials with speed primary.

All predictions point to these meets as the greatest mass assault on meet records in the history of Oregon Swimming. It is predicted that no less than five meet records will fall in each of these meets and probably many more before the cease fire is given.

Leading the Ducks in their assault on these records will be Louis Santos, Tom Nekota, and George Moorhead in the sprints, Earl Walter and Stan Hargraves in the Backstroke and Individual Medley events and Bob Hiatt in the distance events.

Both relay teams for the Ducks are certain to go under the standard against Idaho and against the Cougars the winning team in these crucial events will undoubtedly be under the listed mark.

Coach Borchardt urges all those students who have an interest in swimming to attend these meets for outside of the ND finals these two meets will show off the finest swimming in the parts ever. Both meets will begin at 2:30 in the Men's Pool Friday and Saturday this weekend.

San Francisco Quint Out to Down Webfoot Cagers in Weekend Tilts

John Warren sent his varsity cagers through a long workout against the Duckling squad yesterday, intensifying their drill for the coming series with San Francisco's highly rated Dons this Friday and Saturday.

The Webfoots will be in good shape for the tilts against the potent Californians, with guard John Neeley ready to take over his regular guard post.

"Neeley's play will do much to settle the team down, and that's what we will need against these boys," Warren stated. The slim sophomore has almost completely recovered from the cold that laid him low last weekend.

The Webfoot mentor's problem will be how to stop Don Lofgran and Joe McNamee, the top two Don scorers. Both are 6-foot 6-inches tall and are effective under the boards besides pouring in points.

Lofgran is rated as the harder of the two to stop, the lanky transfer from Sacramento's Grant Tech having stepped up his scoring in the last few games.

A newcomer will probably move into USF's starting lineup for their series here, guard Frank Kuzara. He played brilliant ball against Bradley Tech and San Jose State over the weekend and Coach Pete Newell has stated that he will get the nod over Ross Guidice, top scorer last season for the San Francisco gang.

Kuzara was the top guard for the Dons, and ranks sixth in scoring. The top man backing up the front line, Don Giesen, is expected to see plenty of action here this weekend. A six-footer, Giesen is a smooth floor man and has shown flashes of scoring ability this year. He ranked second in point-production to Guidice last year.

If they want to, the Dons can start the tallest man on the floor, reserve pivotman Walter Olson, who is an inch taller than either Roger Wiley or Bob Amacher. However, it is doubtful if he will even make the trip.

The Dons plan to leave San Francisco late tomorrow afternoon and arrive in Eugene early Friday morning. They do not plan to workout before the game.

YMCA Schedules $2 Ski Bus Trip

The YMCA has a ski trip planned for Sunday, February 20, at the Willamette Ski area. Busses will leave the YMCA at 7 a. m. and return at 6 p. m. the same day. Everyone interested in skiing or watching the preliminaries of the national ed to join in the trip.

Rickert, Series Sub, Holds Out For More Cash

SEATTLE, Feb. 15 (AP)—Marv Rickert, Boston Braves outfielder who got a special dispensation from Commissioner A. B. Chandler to play in the last world series, says he wants more money.

He reported the Braves were offering him $1,500 less than he was paid by Milwaukee of the American Association last year.

"I had a good year, both at Milwaukee and with the Braves in the series," he said. "I hope this is just a misunderstanding back there."

The Braves, meanwhile, had no comment other than General Manager John Quinn said the club considers salary a "matter solely between the player and the club, unless the player fails to show up for spring practice March 1."

Sigma Chi, Theta Chi, ATO, Delts Enter "B" IM Playoffs

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

- 3:50 Beta Theta Pi B vs. Phi Kappa Sigma B
- 4:35 Nestor Hall vs. Legal Eagles B
- 5:15 Omega Hall vs. Phi Kappa Sigma A

With action confined to the "B" circuit yesterday afternoon, four more IM basketball teams captured berths in the playoff scheduled for next week.

Result of the day's play was: Sigma Chi blasted DU 27-9; Theta Chi trampled Chi Psi 39-13; ATO walloped Pi Kappa Phi 23-13; the Delts stopped the Phi Sigs 19-10; the Phi Delts humbled the Tekes 27-14; and Pi Kappa Alpha downed the Fijis 27-21.

Sigma Chi's defending champs exhibited the wares that brought them the title last year as they ran over Delta Upsilon handily.

After a slow first quarter, the Sigma Chi five unleashed a white hot attack from a fast break to run away to a comfortable 16-to-4 bulge at halftime.

From here on, the blue and gold quintet, led by "Swede" Johnson, floated on to enter the final round.

Johnson's eight points was high for the victors, but every Sigma Chi player marked the score column.

Theta Chi's "little" red team served notice that it intended to throw a monkey wrench in Sigma Chi's title minded machine next week as it flattened Chi Psi 39-13.

Moving into a quick lead which was never challenged, the Hilltoppers built a 9-to-6 edge into a 19-to-8 command at halftime. They added ten counters in each of remaining quarters to round out the final score.

Roger Mockford, Doug Coghill, and Don Ruth spearheaded the Red offense with 12, 11, and 10 points respectively. Glen Walker dominated the losers' scoring by sinking 12 and tie Mockford for high point man of the contest.

ATO annexed its spot in the playoff with a brilliant second quarter surge that put them on the long end of a 17-to-8 midway score over Pi Kappa Phi.

The floor play of Ed Chrobot was the decisive factor as the rugged little ballhandler set up the ATO attack and generalised his team to victory. Chrobot also copped high man honors with six.

After trailing miserably throughout the first half, a stubborn band of Phi Sigs came to life in the third stanza with a six point rally to crowd Delta Tau Delta 12-10.

However, the determined Delts, guided by Gordy Marx, put down the threat by holding their opponents scoreless during the last quarter as they added seven to their total.

Marx led the victors with ten points.

Phi Delta Theta glided off to 14-to-6 advantage at halftime which it rolled into 27-to-14 triumph over Tau Kappa Epsilon before the final horn.

This game was of little significance since both teams had been beaten in previous games.

George Rasmussen's seven points was high for the Phi Delts as was Don Anderson's five for the Tekes.

In another also-ran game, Pi Kappa Alpha came from behind to trounce the Fijis 27-21.

After a bitterly contested first half which ended with Phi Gamma Delta ahead 11-to-9, the Pi Kaps went to work producing points and came up with the win.

Dick Patrick, Pi Kapp forward, pushed through 12 points to take top scoring spot while Don Lindstedt with nine and Dave Kolden with eight headed the losers.

Never slap a man's face is he is chewing tobacco. It isn't good taste.
