

Duck Tankers Dunk Vandals, 69-15

Oregon Breaks Seven Records

As predicted, the Oregon varsity swimming team came through yesterday in their meet with the Idaho swimmers sinking them 69-15 and at the same time breaking more records in one day than have been broken in years at old 'U'. Leading the Ducks in their all out assault were Earl Walter and Louis Santos.

Walter stole the show with two Northern Division records, and swimming a magnificent leg on the Medley Relay which broke the meet record by almost 12 seconds. Walter's two ND records were in the 100 yd. Back and the 180 yd. Individual Medley. In the first he hit a 1:03.7 to tip Sherman Wetmore's Record of 1:04.0 set in 1940 and the second saw him take almost four seconds off his own ND record of 2:12.2 in the individual medley.

Louis Santos though winning two events and anchoring the winning four man relay team put on a magnificent show with a meet record in both the 60 yard freestyle and the 100 yard freestyle. These records were set in 1939. In addition to this Santos' fine leg on the final relay resulted in a new record in which 6 seconds were clipped from the old standard.

style to nip the old record, -arttrt Another outstanding performance was turned in by senior Bob Hiatt who came through in terrific style to nip the old record in the 440 yard freestyle by almost a second. Hiatt's time was his best since the war.

Contributing to the third fastest medley relay time in Oregon's history, were Rod Harmon and George Moorhead who swam their best times all year and were responsible for the record. Walter's time in the Medley relay garnered him another honor as his 1:02.5 placed him on the All Time Duck Medley Relay team succeeding Sherman Wetmore. In the four man relay George Ealch and Tom Nekota along with George Moorhead's sensational century combined with Santos' fine time, to pave the way for a new record.

DUCK TRACKS

ITS AN ANCIENT CRY that's been heard before, but just the same it remains that in the minds of a great many serious followers of sports the All-America team is nothing more than a pre-fabricated hoax.

Generally, it should be accepted as a measure, though an imperfect one, of a player's worth.

However, insofar as the current basketball season is concerned, it seems that Northern Division fans need not quibble over the matter. For, while the Northland is chock full of pretty good players, there really isn't one among them who is entitled to the All-America label.

Frosh Topple Indians 52-43

Coach Don Kirsch's freshman basketball team hurdled the unlucky one last night as they won their thirteenth straight game against high school opposition by dropping Roseburg high, 52-43.

The Indians almost went without a field goal in the entire first quarter, being held to a pair of free throws with 15 seconds to play. Then Daryl Blanck, tall Roseburg forward, got their initial two-pointers, scoring on a one-hander from the key.

Frosh Forward Bill Clausen, as hot as a freshly fired pistol in the first period, sunk four field goals to pace the Frosh to an opening lead that was never hotly contested.

Duckling Jim Calderwood took over for Clausen in the second quarter, and set up his teammates with some brilliant passing, which carried the Frosh into a 27-12 halftime lead.

The second half was a slightly different tale, however, as the Indians did more than hold their own against the substitutes inserted into the lineup by Kirsch.

It was Roseburg's Don Hubbard who showed the way for the visitor's by scoring 12 second half points and a total of 15 for the game.

Clausen was high man for the Freshmen, adding one second-half fielder and then retiring in favor of the subs. His game total was 12 counters.

Box score:

Frosh (52) Pos. (43) Indians
Gilbert (0)F.....(15) Hubbard
Clausen (12)F.....(3) Agee
Hultgren (3)C.....(12) Blanck
Hunt (6)G.....(7) Carey
Korpela (4)G.....(5) Schindler

Substitutes: Frosh—Chaney (5), LanDucci, (4), Vranizan (3), Owens (3), Joyce (3), Calderwood (2), Kittilson (2), Settecase (2), Leter (1), Berg (0), Carr (0); Roseburg—Wissing (1), Rogers (0), Sanders (0), VanHorn (0), Olson (0), Blanck (0).

Vandals Deposit Huskies in Cellar

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 18 (AP) Forward Bob Pritchett hit the hoop for 27 points tonight as the University of Idaho dropped the University of Washington Huskies 62 to 55 in a Pacific Coast conference basketball game.

The victory lifted the Idaho Vandals one notch above the Huskies who now hold down the northern division cellar spot.

Sloan to Speak

Mr. Donald Sloan, president and general manager of Sloan and Wilcox, Portland, will be the guest speaker to Professor N. H. Comish's classes in retail merchandising, problems in distribution, and sales management, Monday, February 21.

Of course, it's no mean feat to be tabbed as one of the best ball players in the country, but, despite this, it is obvious that the players of the 1948-49 campaign are not going to uphold the rather distinguished tradition that belongs to the ND.

DISTINGUISHED? YES. Let's take a quick spin back into the cobwebby archives of the past. The Northern Division has been blessed with a raft of legends who were able to crack All-America, 26 of them according to the list compiled by the PCC Commissioner's Office.

Chaps like Lauren "Laddie" Gale and Urgel "Slim" Wintermute of Oregon, Ralph Cairney of Washington, Wally Palmberg of OSC and Gale Bishop of Washington State were basketball players of the first water. They helped to set a standard that is and will be plenty hard to match, and it seems that the present crop hasn't been able to do it.

There are six ball players in this division who have really done themselves proud. Taken together, they give the North one of the best and well-rounded All-Division teams in recent times. Cliff Crandall, Ed Gayda, Pres Brimhall, Bill Vandenburg, Sammy White and Rog Willey would gladden the heart of any coach.

NEVERTHELESS, WE DARE SAY that none of them stacks up to the requirements of a real, bona-fide All-American.

Undoubtedly, a couple, probably Gayda and Willey, will come in for some mention.

Both are good boys, but it still holds true that neither had a 34-point night such as did Alex Groza, and neither had the pre-season backing given a Macauley or a Beard. More important, no one in the division has been consistent.

As aforesaid, making All-America is no simple feat. However, it is disappointing that for the first time in three years and for only the third time in the last eleven years there isn't a cager in the ND who deserves a place on any of the various A-A selections.

FROM WHAT we have been able to gather, the situation is only slightly different in the South. Bill Sharman, USC, looks like the only chance bet, and some doubts persist on him, too.

All in all, the foregoing, plus the fact that there really isn't a great team anywhere hereabouts, does not speak well of the Northern Division in that respect. And judging from the sophomore and junior talent on hand, there doesn't seem to be any immediate relief.

Oregon Meets WSC Swimming Team Today

The Aquaducks meet Washington State this afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the Men's Pool, and a second place in the Northern Division is at stake.

The Cougars are reported to have a strong, well balanced team—one of their best in history.

Jim Stanley and Willie McCullough of Oregon will meet Mel Olson and Jim Vawter of the Cougars on the highboards. And the Ducks' Louis Santos is pitted against Jack Morelock of the Cougars in the sprints. Both men have swum the distance in about equal time.

The out come of the meet depends on Oregon's chances of winning second and third places in the individual events, and Coach Borchardt is depending heavily on Stan Hargraves, Art Bayly, and Tom Nekota.
