UO Heads to Go To Cities Meet

Dr. S. Wengert, head of the political science department, E. L. Johnson, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, and Herman Kehrli, director of the University Bureau of Municipal Research, will attend a joint meeting of the Oregon City Managers and the Oregon chapter of the Society for Public Administration in Portland, Friday, February 25.

Professor Charles McKinley, Reed college, will speak before the delegates on "The Pros and Con of a CVA as an Administrative Device." His talk will be followed by election of officers.

Discussions will then be held on Professor McKinley's speech and mutual problem in the field of city management and public administration.

The conference, an annual affair to be held as a luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. at the Portland Chamber of Commerce building, is expected to attract about 100 Oregon delegates, including city managers, Oregon members of the Society for Public Administration, representatives of public administrative groups such as the State Unemployment commission, the Bonneville Power commission, and other welfare agencies, plus university and college professors.

Dean Johnson is president of the Oregon chapter of the SPA, a national organization of public administrators, professors, educators, and students of administrative techniques.

Varsity Golfers Meet

Members of the varsity golf team will hold a meeting tomorrow at 4 p. m. in the athletic office at Mc Court.
