Last Trio of Little

week end in time for the Military Ball.

"We miss Beverly a lot," her friends say. "She has a cute sense of humor and is always making jokes."

Beverly is a junior in art. Her hobbies are drawing and painting and she is also interested in drama, having worked in the theater workshop. Her many house activities have led up to her being elected the new social chairman.

Oh, Dem Slippers

As a winter sports fan, Beverly especially likes ice-skating and skiing. Another of her passions is for bright-colored shoes. She simply can't resist buying shoes (she wears size 3) to match all her dresses. One of the most outstanding pair, her roommates say, are her purple ones.

Another of her hobbies is talking about her little niece, "Pootsie," who has become quite well-known at Alphi Phi. Beverly has gone back to Chicago several times to take care of her.

Pat Likes Sports

Little Captain Pat Husband, is another sports addict who likes swimming ice skating and horseback riding. Her plan for next summer is to work on a dude ranch in Ukiah, California. "I was terribly honored to be chosen Little Captain, especially so because I am just a freshman," Pat says.

Vital information concerning Pat includes the fact that she is five feet, seven and one half inches tall, has medium brown hair and brown eyes. Her home is in Eugene and she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

"I like to cook, especially chocolate cakes," says Pat, who is majoring in home economics. When asked if she were proficient in this art, she admitted that "her family eats it without saying anything." Two points of trouble in Pat's life include a seven-and a 14-year-old brother: "So you can imagine!"

Two years ago her family traveled from California to Chicago and then to Saskatchewan, Canada. Pat however, is true to the Northwest, and thinks Oregon is the only place to live.

Her campus activities have included Y and promotion and layout work on the Oregana.

Freshman Girls Will Entertain At Festival Tea

YWCA freshmen commissions will play a major part in the International Festival silver tea program Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. in Gerlinger's Alumni hall.

Working under the theme "Citizens of the World," four commissions will present entertainment depicting the countries of Norway, Mexico, Russia, and the Philippines.

Dances representative of various regions of the Philippine Islands will be given by the Tuesday afternoon commission under the direction of Felays Concuera, a graduate student from the Philippines. She will also dance one number, the "Bamboo Dance" alone.

Depicting Norway's Midsummer Night festival will be the Tuesday evening group. Folk songs and dances of this national Norwegian celebration will be presented under the direction of special student Alvild Drageset, who recently came to the University from Norway. In Norway the actual celebration takes place around a large bonfire, where the youths eat, sing, and dance.

Mexican Independence Day will be celebrated by the Wednesday afternoon freshman group in their performance of the dance "La Cucaracha." The music commission will provide accompanying music, in Spanish, for the dance.

A Russian dance will be given by the Thursday afternoon commission.

Girls participating in these various dances and songs will be clothed in the colorful and varied native dress of the countries they are representing. Many of the costumes have actually been worn in their native countries, while some are being made by costume committee members and freshmen groups under the direction of Norma Stearns, costume chairman.

Cookies typical of different foreign countries will be made for the tea by University cooking classes under the supervision of Miss Margaret Wiese, instructor in home economics.

This tea will afford University students an excellent opportunity to meet many of the foreign students enrolled in our school and some of those attending other Oregon colleges, as well as giving students an idea of the customs of other countries.

University Gets Grant for Work

One thousand dollars, to be used for archeological research in the Klamath river basin, was granted the University anthropology department by the Viking Fund Inc., national research foundation.

Next summer the third annual Klamath expedition will use the fund in attempting to trace evidence that the area was inhabited beyond the 10,000 years estimated by the two previous field trips.

Archeologists have unearthed clues, L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, said, that point to habitation previous to the volcanic explosion which formed Crater lake.

Accompanying the expedition will be about 25 University students, Cressman said, who will receive term hours of University credit for their work. Divided into two groups, the majority of the students will assist Cressman in research in the Indian reservation. The rest will work under Theodore Stern, assistant professor of anthropology.

It has been ruled in play that a hockey goal scored by a player in his own team's goal counts as a score for the opponents.
