Fiftieth Year of Publication and Service to the University

VOLUME L

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1949

NUMBER 105

School Ring Enrollment Slowly Chosen by UO Council

The University of Oregon now has an official ring.

The ASUO executive council Monday night put the official stamp of approval on the final plans for the ring. Arrangements for the ring have been made by the University Alumni association, which will also handle the sales.

Alumni Secretary Les Anderson could not be contacted, but it is believed that the Alumni association will place an immediate order for the rings, L. G. Balfour company, well-known national makers of college and fraternal jewelry, has designed the ring and will be sole manufacturers.

Several different styles of rings for both men and women are planned. The prices will probably run from about $10 to $25.

The face of the ring will be set the words "University of Oregon." or green onyx, spinel, and sardonyx. On one shank will be engraved the Oregon seal and on the other a reproduction of Deady hall.

The rings will be available to all alumni of the University as well as students presently enrolled. Members of fraternities can at a small additional cost have their crests superimposed on the face of their Further details will be announced later by the Emerald.

Sign Dean's Slip

Men interested in spring term rushing should sign cards in the office of the director of men's affairs, Virgil S. Fogdall, according to his secretary, Mrs. Betty Hei-

Transfer students now spending their first term on the campus 7:30 and 8:00 each night. may be pledged at any time after April 11; students who have been on the campus and have a 2.00 at any time.

The Weather

about 68.

Climbs; Hits 5348

Spring term enrollment was still climbing Monday as registrar's office figures reached 5348.

In contrast to the situation at Oregon State, University registration is still running ahead of last year's figures at the same time. A Portland Oregonian story stated that at the beginning of registration OSC enrollment this year showed a 6% decrease over spring term, 1948.

Vaudeville Acts was out of town yesterday and Promise Talent, Originality, Fun

With postcards telling the theme and number of participants in each organization's act due in the mails today, Velma Snellstrom, program chairman for the All-Campus Vaudeville show, has received several original themes already.

Kappa Alpha Theta is rehearsing a Danny Kaye arrangement of 'Farming", according to Miss Snellstrom. Orides, organization for offwith a round stone, surrounded by campus independent women, has scheduled a performance of "Ham-A purchaser will have his choice met," which is "probably an imitaof several different stones-black tion of 'Hamlet'," the chairman

> "I've Been to Hollywood," say the Alpha Xi Deltas of their act, while the Kappa Sigmas plan to enter a quartet.

Church organizations, as well as living groups, are eligible to enter the competition for the April 15 the World Student Service Fund. Friendly House plans to enter a magician, according to latest re-

Information Requested

"We have learned of several organizations which are interested in Men Rushing to entering acts, but who have not appointed representatives or contactpointed representatives or contacted me," Miss Snellstrom said.

"If an organization expects time in the eliminations Monday and Tuesday, they should let me know as soon as possible."

Eliminations will be held in Gerlinger Annex Monday and Tuesday, of next week. For the convenience of the entering groups, auditions mance languages, in charge of For Recital will be held in three shifts, 6:30

"Organizations are requested to observe their scheduled time for eliminations, in order to avoid wastcumulative GPA may be pledged ing the entrants' time," Miss Snellstrom said.

Ticket Sales Begin

"House representatives will start selling tickets in their living organizations tomorrow, and a booth Fair today and Thursday, high will be set up in the Co-op Friday

(Please turn to page three)

Dorothy McCullough Lee To Speak at YWCA Breakfast

zations for the annual YWCA spon-Sunday morning at 9:15.

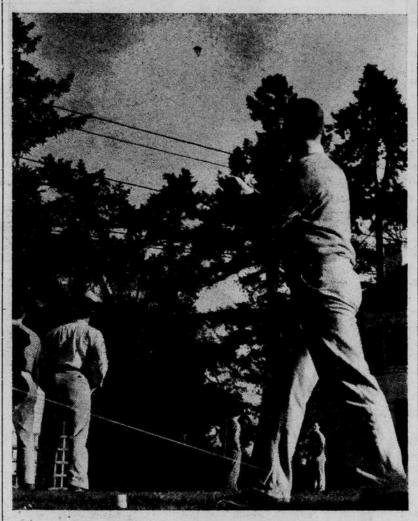

Chairman of the event is Joan O'Neill Foulon. Assisting her is each.

Tickets are now on sale in the Helen Caldwell. Committee chair-Co-op and women's living organi- men are Estelle Nordgren, programs; Nancy Elfstrom, decorasored Junior-Senior breakfast to be tions; Barbara Stevenson, tickets; held in the Veterans Memorial Janice Kent, contact; Rhoda Wilbuilding, 1626 Willamette street, liams, entertainment; Beverly Buckley, posters; Jackie Barbee, Included as a part of the break- promotion; Theda Wilson, arrangefast program will be a talk by Dor- ments and tradition; and June Fitzothy McCullough Lee, mayor of gibbons and Donna Kletzing, publicity.

Tickets are priced at 95 cents

Oregana May Be Out This Term

Ah, to Be A Boy Once Again

Students take advantage of sunshine to revert to boyhood recreation. (Photo by Mike Mitchell)

the competition for the April 15 show, proceeds of which will go to the World Student Service Fund Pleasing Contrast

By Barbara Hollands

Guild theater's venerable stage was host to something different in dramatic production Monday night when the French department and the University Theater presented Moliere's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme."

Performed entirely in French, the seventeenth century comedy-ballet by the famous French playwright was comprehensible, amusing, and very well done. Under the direction of Dick Rayburn, with R. L. Picard, assistant professor of roproduction, the small cast of French students did an excellent job of a difficult assignment.

Ed Van Natta played the leading role of Monsieur Jourdain, about whom the amusing satire revolves. Jourdain, a wealthy bourgeois, employs a number of tutors, and in his obsessive desire to simulate "the people of quality," he is unable to realize that he is being swindled. The climax is reached when his daughter is married to one whom he but is, in reality, the commoner to whom he has denied her hand. Coralie Nelson, Beverly Rohrer, Nancy Morgan, Bill Wallace, Glenn Morgan, Jim Eakin, Ann Thompson, Jim Blue, Jo Ann Jarvis, Julian Hoffman, and Bill Johnson play the other principal roles.

A French atmosphere was maintained throughout the production by original seventeenth century music played by a small orchestra composed of students from the school of music, and the Frenchspeaking ouvreuses and vendeur des programmes. Robert D. Horn, professor of English, presented the English prologue.

Starting this morning, faculty, and student wives, and University employees may get free tickets to a special Friday afternoon recital.

Presented by prominent members of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, the recital will be held at 4:15 in the music school auditorium this Friday. The program, conducted by Dimitri Mitropoulis, will be one hour.

Would-be listeners may receive tickets at the Educational Activities office in McArthur court from 8 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m. long as the limited number of tickets lasts.

Concert Master of the Minneapolis symphony, Louis Krasner, is head of the select group. Commonly called the Krasner Chamber Music Ensemble, they have frequently appeared together in major cities.

This recital is in addition to the full concert to be given Friday night at 8:15 by the entire Minneapolis symphony orchestra. The evening concert will be in McArthur court and students will be required to show registration cards.

Publication Still Possible With 3 Week Strike

Whether or not Oreganas will be distributed this term depends on the duration of the lithographers' strike in Portland. The strike, called Saturday, is over a dispute between labor and management concerning a welfare plan for workers.

The Oregana could weather a three-week strike and still be distributed spring term, but if it lasts longer than that the yearbook will have to be mailed to students during the summer.

There is no indication as to the possible duration of the strike, according to Dick Williams, educational activities manager, who spoke with Arthur J. Markewitz, general manager of Bushong's in Portland yesterday morning.

Nearly two-thirds of the Oregana is completed, leaving about 100 pages to be run off. Two Portland firms-Irwin-Hodson, in charge of lithography, and Bushong's, which has the contract for color insert and cover-each have about 10 days work on hand. Both these businesses are being picketed by the lithographers.

Oregana Editor Trudi Chernis expressed confidence that the yearbook would be distributed this term, since all editorial work has been completed and is in the hands of the printers. As soon as the lithographers' strike is over, the yearbook can be readied for distribution.

Mothers Club Asks Members From California

For the benefit of all Oregon students from the bay area, the Emerald has been asked to print the following letter from Mrs. J. B. Norcross of San Francisco

"The California branch of the University of Oregon Mothers' club will hold a luncheon meeting on Wednesday, April 27, at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley, Calif. We will be very happy to welcome any mother who has a son or daughter at Oregon, or any former student or graduate.

"We meet only three times a year and there are no dues.

"Will all California students from the Bay area please send this invitation home to their parents or guardians? For reservations today, tomorrow and Friday, or as please phone or send postal not later than April 20 to Mrs. J. B. Norcross, 39 Wawona St., San Francisco 27, California."

Young Demos Meet

Young Democrats will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the YWCA.

The purpose of the meeting will be to further the plans for the state convention of Young Democrats to be held in Eugene on April 23 and

All students and faculty interested are invited to attend.