Vaudeville Acts

and all of next week," Helen Caldwell, ticket chairman, stated yesterday.

"Tickets will cost 50c; there will be no reserved tickets," she stated.
Ed Peterson is in charge of campus sales and Willie Dodds of downtown sales, while Barbara Ness is arranging for house-to-house canvassing in the residential sections of Eugene.

Campus honoraries are aiding in arrangements for the benefit show.
Kwamas sophomore women's service honorary, will sell tickets in downtown Eugene; Druids, junior men's honorary, is printing programs and selling advertising; and Phi Theta, junior women's honorary, will usher.

A large permanent trophy will be awarded to the living organization presenting the best act. The individual performer, whether as a member of a skit or in a solo act, will receive a free trip to Reno and an opportunity to appear on a nationwide radio show sponsored by the University of Nevada.

Women's World

In spite of the sight setback she is shown encountering, Neil Stewart rose from the mat to win in seventeen minutes from Helen Lind in a pro wrestling match at Minneapolis.

Opening Day in Tokyo

So that the spectators will know who's playing, a mascot carries the name of his team in front of a string of Japanese baseball players as they parade on opening day in Tokyo.

Wiley Pictured Most Bell, Bartelt Second

Cameras caught Roger Wiley 13 times to make him the most photographed student in the 1949 Oregon. Editor Trudi Chernis said the index for the yearbook listed Wiley, a senior in health education, more than any other Webfoot.

Athletes George Bell and Jim Bartelt were close behind with ten pictures each in the publication.

The male trio beat out all Oregon women. Helen Sherman and Dorothy Orr were the closest competitors with eight pictures each.
