

Visiting Prof Publishes Book

"Is our civilization doomed?" is one of the questions asked in "The Directive in History," by Dr. H. N. Weiman, visiting professor of philosophy. The book is one of the Phoenix Series published by the Beacon Press and has just come off the press.

Two faculty members received research grants from the Pacific Coast Committee for the Humanities, a branch of the American Council of Learned Societies. Five hundred dollars was awarded to Professor Wallace S. Baldinger, associate professor of art, for research in connection with a new book entitled "Introduction to Arts of Sight."

For research and completion of a book on John Dryden as literary critic, Professor Hoyt Trowbridge, professor of English, was granted two hundred dollars.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

Every known facility for safe operation and control of an automobile is built into it. These safety features have been given gruelling tests, they have been proved and perfected by years of the finest engineering experience. But their maintenance and handling are up to you. Safe driving depends upon the efficient operation of these factors.

Watch your steering gear for excessive play—keep your brakes in trim, inspect tires for weaknesses that may result in blowouts. Be sure all lights are working, "one-eyed" cars are dangerous. Check your mirror for clear rear-vision. Be sure your horn works—but don't abuse its use. Do your windshield wipers wipe?

Remember, no matter how good the safety features of your car—they are only as good as your ability to control them. If you are overtired from driving strain—stop, rest, drink a cup of coffee. If you are mentally or nervously upset, let someone else drive. If you've been drinking, stay off the road.

Keep your car—and yourself—always in condition for safe motoring.
