

Library Contest Entry Blanks Available At Circulation Desk

Entry blanks for the Library day prize contest are now available at the circulation desk and in the browsing room of the University library. Prizes of $25, $15, and $10 in books, which may be purchased at the Co-op, will be offered in each of the three divisions of the contest—student's general library, student's specialized library, and graduate student's library.

Judges for the contest, who are chosen each year from a wide variation of schools, are: Undergraduate student's library—Dr. Edward Frank Q. Black, chairman; Mrs. Randall Mills, Dr. P. A. Killgallon, Dr. R. D. Clark, Miss Lucia Haley. Undergraduate student's specialized library—Dr. Lloyd Staples, chairman; Mr. Marion Ross, Mrs. Alice Henson Ernst, Dean Victor P. Morris, Dr. John McGee. Gradu-

Students are urged to enter the contest, sponsored by the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon Library, since as large a showing as possible is desired. According to Miss Bernice Rise, head of the circulation department, the University of Oregon is the highest-ranking campus in the nation for the number and quality of personal libraries submitted by the students.

Those who wish to enter the contest should contact Miss Rise for further information, and should turn in their entry blanks to her along with the titles of the books and a statement of the general nature of the collection.

Young GOP's Sponsors Panel

Oregon's forty-fifth legislative assembly will be the topic of a panel discussion between two Republican and two Democrat state representatives at 7 p.m. Tuesday, room 3 Fenton, in the first of the University Young Republican's service forums.

Speaking for the Republicans will be John Logan and Rudie Wilhelm Jr., Howard Morgan and Phil Dreyer will represent the Democrats. All are representatives from Multnomah county.

Logan and Wilhelm are authors of one of the Junior College bills discussed in Salem this session, and also introduced a bill prohibiting cities from levying income taxes.

The forum is the first Young Republican activity of the term.

Assistants Chosen

Mary Stadelman, chairman of the Junior Weekend sunlight serenade, announced her assistants yesterday. This event will be held from 3-5 p. m., May 8.

Assistant chairmen are Barbara Stevenson and Phil Green, programs; Ruth Landry, arrangements; Florence Hanson, contact; Janice Kent, decorations; and Ruth Dexter, refreshments.

Same Old Stand

Just submit your entry in 3000 words or less on what I Dislike About Women. A staff of trained researchers will compile the evidence which will be presented forthwith in this column. Why not take advantage of this sterling opportunity to see your favorite gripe appear in print.

Off-hand I can't think of anything the women would have to complain about where the fellows are concerned, but just to be democratic I will include them also and will accept their entries—if there are any.

I have just come across a splendid recipe for the manufacture of mead. All persons interested in becoming mead makers should run out right now and buy 15 or 20 pounds of honey, 5 pounds of raisins and a linen cloth.

Don't hurry. As soon as you get back we will continue.

Grade Students Audition Thursday

Approximately 40 grade school students from Eugene and surrounding schools will be on campus Thursday to audition for solo position with the annual "Let's Sing, America" grade school and combined chorus broadcast, which will be held in McArthur court on April 21.

This broadcast, scheduled by radio station KOAC, is sponsored by University music school students majoring in public school music.

Solo parts in "The Merry Life," an old Italian song, will be sung by the youngster winning Thursday's auditions. Previously, a University student sang the solos on the program, for which 1300 grade school students have registered at this time.

Music Prof Slates Jazz Talk Today

George Hopkins, professor of piano, will discuss "Jazz in Contemporary Music" during the second Ethel R. Sawyer browsing room hour of the term, Tuesday, April 14, at 4 p. m. Mr. Hopkins will supplement his talk with records.

The public is invited to attend the browsing room hour, sponsored by the house librarians. John Brown is chairman of the program.

Women's Rushing

Women interested in spring term rushing are requested to sign up in the office of Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs, by April 22.

Showing her jubilation here with a terrific display of leg, Nella Zannier, 17, was elected queen of the 1949 crop of beginner mannequins in Paris.

UO Faculty On Program

Oregon health and physical education faculty members dominate the program of the district meeting of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation to be held in Portland this week.

Principal parts in the three day conference will be taken by Janet Woodruff, secretary-treasurer of the professional group, and Dr. Paul R. Washke, who will serve on the nominations committee. Other Oregon faculty members taking part in the program will be Dr. H. S. Hoyman, Dr. P. O. Sigerseth, Dr. E. D. Furrier, Dr. Margaret S. Poley, Dr. Dorothy Mohr, Vernon Sprague, Jennel Moorhead, Rosalind Wentworth, Margaret Logan, and William Rhoda. Six others will attend the conference.

The national group which sponsors annual discussions on problems and advances in the field is one of the largest members of the National Education Association. The national meeting in Boston next week will draw representatives from the University, also.

All physical education and health classes will be conducted as usual

Nominating Of Officers Subject Of Co-op Meet

"Where the Co-op Dollar Goes" will be outlined this afternoon at 4 in room 207 Chapman at the annual meeting of the Co-op board. G. L. Henson, manager of the University store will give the short explanation of finances.

Nominations for student directors of the Co-op will be made, and Don Dole, president of the board will give a summary of the past year's activities. Bill Green, junior member of the board, will talk briefly on the recently completed insurance plan for store employees.

Nominations for the one freshman, the two sophomores to be voted onto the board at ASUO elections will be made from the floor. Besides their year in college, there are no other qualifications for nominees other than membership in the Co-op at election time.

Present members of the Co-op store's board of trustees are Don Dole and Ann Woodworth, senior members; Bill Green and Barbara Heywood, junior members; and Joe Richards, sophomore member.

Others on the board are O. K. Burrell, professor of business administration; P. W. Ellis, associate professor of economics; and Mr. Henson.

Dole, Richards and Miss Woodworth's terms of office expire at the end of this year.

UO Speakers In Speech Meet

Joe Herscoe and Warren Dobbin will represent the University of Oregon in the Pacific Northwest forensic meet beginning on the Whitman college campus today. They will compete with representatives from member schools of the Pacific Forensic league in debating the topic "What Can We Do about the Problems of Monopoly?"

In addition to the regular debate, Herscoe will speak in the oratory division and Dobbin the extemporary speaking section. Professor E. R. Nichols accompanied the team to Walla Walla.

The contest, sponsored by the Pacific Forensic league, an all-coast conference, will continue through Friday.

Cressman Back From NEA Meet

Dr. L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, returned from Chicago after attending the fourth annual conference of the National Education association, division of higher education in Chicago April 4-7.

Sections discussed problems relating to students, curriculum and instruction, faculty, and organization, administration and control were emphasized in the meeting. Dr. Cressman participated in a group discussing the problem of improving college teaching.

He returned home by way of Cleveland, where he visited the Cleveland Health museum to study its program and materials.
