

Graduate Assistant Wins Columbia U. Lectureship

A $2000 lectureship to Columbia University has been assured to Ching Hou, graduate assistant in economics at the University.

Hou will serve during the 1949-50 year as part-time lecturer in Chinese at Columbia. In addition, he plans to spend two or possibly three years there studying for a doctorate in economics.

Coming to the University from China in January, 1948, on a foreign student scholarship, Hou has spent all of the ensuing time in Eugene. However, he hopes to return to China after obtaining his doctor's degree.

Born in Peiping, China, Hou received his bachelor of law degree from the University of Peking in Peiping and remained there as graduate assistant for two years. His work as graduate assistant included the supervision of a laboratory class in accounting.

A fellowship to Cornell university was also offered to the graduate assistant earlier in the year in recognition of his promise and scholarship, but he declined the offer in favor of the lectureship to Columbia.

Nash to Speak Opera Series On World Plan Pick Chairmen

Dr. Vernon Nash, national vice-president of the United World Federalists, will speak on world government and world peace in the University of Oregon music hall auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

"He may make you angry or leave you elated, but only if you are a cement block will you be indifferent," says Dr. Charles P. Schleicher, professor of political science. He added, "Nash is one of the most vigorous and dynamic 'whole soul' supporters of world government living today."

Nash, at present on a speaking tour of the west coast, will address the Eugene Active club at a luncheon, and will meet the press and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, in the afternoon. His visit has been arranged by the University of Oregon student chapter of the United World Federalists, in cooperation with the Eugene chapter and the Eugene Council on World Affairs.

Don Jordahl, Alma Dopson, and Treva Rice have been named general chairmen for a series of operas to be presented by University music students on May 3, 4, and 14.

Sponsoring the series of three operas is the University chamber concert board, members of which represent the three national professional music groups on campus. These are Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's music fraternity; Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music sorority; and Phi Beta, women's speech and music fraternity.

Ticket sales, which commence on Monday, April 18, will be under the direction of Lynn Sjolund, Jean Hudspeth, and Ann Hopper.

Betty Bagley will serve as business manager for the performances. In charge of publicity will be Clell Conrad, Ed Peterson, and Faye Schick.

Operas to be presented are "The Maid as Mistress" by Pergolesi, "There and Back" by Hindemith, and "The Telephone" by Menotti.

Sixteen Vodvil

"House representatives must turn in their tickets to the booth in the Co-op by 5 p. m. today," Peterson states. Sales at the booth will continue through tomorrow.

Preparations for the actual program Friday night are well under way. A pit orchestra, a sort of "super-size combo," consisting of several local musicians, is scheduled to entertain between acts and at the beginning and end of the show, according to general chairman Art Johnson.

During the judging, the University Singers, under the direction of Donald W. Allton, will sing five numbers.

The Singers' program: "The Spinning Top," by Rimsky-Korsakoff; "Sorrow," by Palmgren; "Matchmaking Songs," by D'Antalfy; "There Is a Balm in Gilead," by Dawson; and "Wasn't That a Mighty Day" by Dett.

Downtown sales will be handled Thursday and Friday by Kwamas stationed at a booth in Miller's department store. The booth will be open both days from 9 to 5, according to Willie Dodds, downtown sales chairman.
