

Sixteen Copies Of Early Diaries Presented Libe

Sixteen handwritten volumes of the diaries of Moses Aaron Williams, a Presbyterian minister who founded the first church in Jacksonville, Oregon, have been given to the University library by Mrs. A. F. Sandlin of San Bernardino, California.

Leaving New York in 1852, Williams reached southern Oregon in 1856. At that time, Jacksonville was the metropolis and mining center of southern Oregon.

The diaries cover the period between 1852 and 1897, the year in which Williams died. They give a history of the early churches in Oregon, with emphasis on the Presbyterian, and describe Pioneer life and places which have since faded from the maps.

The volumes are a record of the day-by-day life of Williams, including all of his marriages, burials, and baptisms he performed. One volume contains the topics of all the sermons he preached up to 1849.

Williams' account records his period of acting as a circuit rider between Jacksonville and Salem two years spent in Valparaiso, Chile, and a trip up the Columbia river as far as Wallula in 1870. During the latter trip, there was a circus train complete with lions aboard the boat.

Choir to Present Modern Cantata

"The Garden and the Cross," a new cantata by Alec Rowley, will be presented at 8 p.m. April 15, at St. Mary's Episcopal church at 166 E. 13th.

The choir director will be Milton Dieterich and the organist will be Lyall Gardener, Jr.

The choir includes 24 voices, among which are several students of the University.

Five soloists are: Clyde Everton and Eldon Penttila, tenors; Janet Anderson and Barbara Dieterich, sopranos; and Earl Anderson, baritone.

There is no admission charge; however an offering will be taken.

Crumbaker to Lead Conversation Hour

Dr. Calvin Crumbaker of the department of economics will lead the conversation hour in a discussion on "Views of Economics" at Friendly house Friday evening at 8 p. m.

Roy Andrews will furnish recorded music for Friendly's recorded concert from 7 to 8 p. m.

A cosmopolitan party will begin at 9 p. m. Coffee and cookies will be served.

Everyone is welcome.

Warm weather came just in time to save the shorn taxpayer.

Kwama Initiates Ann Gillenwaters

Initiation of Ann Gillenwaters into Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, took place last night before a regular meeting of the group at the Delta Gamma house.

Miss Gillenwaters was tapped for the organization last week, to fill a vacancy left by Barbara Hamilton.
