Chemistry Prof Elected Officer

Dr. Pierre Van Rysselberghe, professor of chemistry, has been elected president of the international committee for research and control of electrochemistry and kinetics.

This committee is to organize and coordinate studies and research projects in electrochemistry, particularly the systematic study of fossilization phenomena.

Photographic studies such as those on corrosion are now being conducted here under an Office of Naval Research contract.

There will be a chairman in each country. Work will be conducted through Dr. Van Rysselberghe's office.

Dr. Marcel Pourbrix of the University of Brussels will spend two months here to work with Dr. Van Rysselberghe and Dr. P. Delahay. Dr. Pourbrix is a well known expert on the electrochemistry of corrosion.

Persons attending the meeting where organization of the committee was decided were from France, Great Britain and Holland. Support was also received from a number of persons in Switzerland, Italy and the United States.

Kwama to Sponsor Two Scholarships

Two scholarships, each paying a full year's tuition, will be offered women students by Kwama. Sophomores are especially urged to apply.

Petitions are available in the office of Golda Wickham, director of women's affairs, in Emerald hall. They should be returned there by this Saturday, April 23.

Scholarship, need and activities of applicants will be considered by the judges in awarding the scholarships.

Students Invited To Alumni Meet

Students are invited to attend the Oregon Alumni institute in Portland this week-end according to Les Anderson, alumni secretary. The conference will be held in the Rose Room of the Multnomah hotel beginning with a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow. Those desiring to attend may purchase tickets at the door. Price for the luncheon and conference is $2.00 per person.

President Harry K. Newburn, the main speaker, will discuss the question "Are You Really Educated?"

Other speakers include, James H. Gilbert, professor emeritus of economics; Roy C. McCall, head of the speech department; Theodore Kratt, dean of the music school; Raymond T. Ellickson, professor of physics; Paul S. Dull, professor of political science; and Football Coach Jim Aiken.

Race Relations Discussion Set

George Boyd, graduate student in the department of psychology, will discuss prejudices and discriminations faced by Negroes in Oregon at a forum on race relations at Westminster house Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m.

Attitude of University students toward Negroes and the pattern of discrimination in Eugene, as it relates to fair employment and participation in labor unions by Negroes will be specific points in Boyd's talk.

Purpose of the forum is to penetrate the emotional issues involved to find facts on which to base intelligent opinion, and to show Christian ethics and belief concerning the situation.

U of W to Sponsor 'She Shell' Crew for Well-Rounded Coeds

SEATTLE, April 21—(AP)—The University of Washington, the "Notre Dame" of intercollegiate rowing, is considering letting the girls into the act.

Rowing has been strictly a man's sport at the school since 1917. But an editorial in the University daily the other day fanned the flames into flames of enthusiasm.

"Crew might teach the girls to submerge a sometimes irritating individualism into the 'one for all and all for one' tradition common to rowing," the paper stated.

A poll of students brought such comments as "it would be good for the girls and good for the student body," "it would undoubtedly raise the morale of the varsity crew," "terrific."

Joanne Tartre, Associated Women Students' president, said: "It would be another extracurricular activity to make the girls well-rounded."

"Amen," murmured a kibitzing male student. Coach Al Ulbrickson said girls' rowing wouldn't interfere with the "men only" occupants of the crewhouse.

The "she-shells" would be manned by girls only. Any coeducational activity would continue to be confined to the campus canoes.

The net losses provision in the income tax must be a terrific temptation to some fishermen. Some people call it hard times because they can't borrow the price of a new auto.

Petitions Asked For Honoraries

Women interested in becoming members of Kwama or Phi Theta Upsilon, sophomore and junior women's honoraries, may petition now, according to the presidents of both groups.

For Phi Theta membership applicants with a GPA of 2.4 or higher will be considered in preference to those with lower grade points. Kwama petitioners must have a GP accumulative of 2.25, and must include their own picture with the petition.

Petitions for both groups must be accompanied by eligibility slips, which, together with the petitions, may be obtained at Dean Golda Wickham's office.

Anne Case will accept Kwama applications at the Pi Phi house by noon, April 26. Phi Theta petitions may be turned in to Maggie Johns at the Delta Gamma house by 5 p.m., April 25.
