

Campus Political Parties List Campaign Platforms

Both campus political parties, the AGS and USA, yesterday announced the platforms on which their candidates will run in the elections Wednesday.

While the platforms vary in many respects, both favor more student participation in university affairs, especially student participation in the direction of the student union.

AGS Platform

We believe that the University of Oregon exists for the purpose of training the students for a fuller and better informed life; that the student government of the University of Oregon exists for the purpose of training students to make fundamental decisions, and for educating them for the fuller responsibilities of citizenship.

In order that such a government may function to its fullest potentialities, there must be a maximum of student interest, and there must be action upon the part of the duly elected representatives of the students.

We the members of the Associated Greek Students believe that to further such a policy, there must be responsibility, continuity, and a sincere desire for complete student participation.

We further believe that there have been certain areas of student government, which either through lack of action, or lack of information, have not been fully developed. Therefore, since the campus exists for the students, let the students help run the campus.

Ours is a program of increased student interest, and of action by student representatives. Ours is the hope for interest and for action.

With:

1. Student participation in the Student Union direction by means of a paid under-graduate representative, or a board representative of the student body—whichever is chosen by the student in open election.

2. University policy, on student issues decided by means of joint student-faculty decision. Since it is the affair of both—both should have a say in it's determination. No school can exist without students and faculty; no institution can be healthy without full participation by both.

3. Relaxed censorship of student activities and publications. If the students of this university are ever to lead adult and reasoned lives, they should be able to make decisions themselves without naive, if, well intended, "protection."

4. Aroused student interest in government. It can occur only if that student government takes action in the interest of the students.

The students have the right to be informed of the decision of their government, and to take a part in the formulation of these decisions. We believe in publication of complete minutes of all Executive Council meetings, the encouragement of student attendance at these Executive Council meetings, and a definite effort by the student government to work in the best interest of the student body.

We believe that our responsibility is not only to the members of our party, but to the student-body as a whole; for our existence depends upon the policies we state and our abilities to put these policies into action.

We cannot make rash promises for the sake of short term gains nor do we believe in the shifting of political affiliations for the sake of personal interests.

The security of our promises lies in the fact that although officers and candidates may no longer attend the university, the units of our party are an integral part of the university; that these; and all their

USA Platform

The platform of the United Students association, as announced by Walt Freauff, president of the USA, and Art Johnson, candidate for ASUO No. 1, is:

1) Wiping out of social lines in campus politics. The choice of candidates should be only on the basis of the ability and integrity of individuals.

22 Student-dominated Student Union board.

(a) Selection to be non-political.

(b) Development of a well-balanced program with proper consideration for the 2500 off-campus students. Development of new and more campus leaders.

(c) Planning of successful activities to support non-revenue producing programs.

3) Gradual assumption of more student responsibility. Eventual autonomous, responsible government commanding respect of the administration.

4) All-campus vodvil and Faculty Follies.

5) Water in the Mill Race by next fall.

6) More campus consciousness of student government.

(a) Publication of council agenda beforehand and minutes following meetings.

(b) Open meetings with representatives of all campus organizations especially invited.

(c) Close tie between ASUO council and Emerald.

(d) Installation banquet to be made an all-campus affair.

7) Freshman-sponsored all-campus functions.

) Endorsement of constitutional amendment on ASUO ballot.

9) Fulfillment of platform.

The Sophomore class platform for the USA, as announced by Lloyd Neal, candidate for No. 1 position, is:

1) Sophomore council; more small social events.

2) A successful Whiskerino, both financially and socially.

Ed Peterson, USA candidate for No. 1 position in the junior class, announces the following platform:

1) Coordinated activities of the class through the establishment of a Junior council.

2) Make Junior Weekend more successful by long-range planning

Council Nixes Petition for 3rd Polling Booth

The executive council last night turned down a petition from members of the veteran's dormitories requesting that an additional polling booth be set up for the coming elections.

The council denied the request because it felt that it was too late to set up another booth and that three voting booths would be adequate. It was decided to table the petition until next year. If the council then approves the petition, the additional voting booth will be set up.

A judiciary committee was appointed for the elections. This committee will take care of any election complaints. The committee will be composed of Orlando J. Hollis, dean of the school of law; Charles G. Howard, professor of law; Paul S. Dull, assistant professor of political science and history; Walt Freauff, junior in political science; and El Hale, junior in business.

A revised draft for the proposed traffic court was presented. The council reviewed petitions for court membership, but it was decided to defer further action on the court until the May 2 meeting.

Student To Present Piano Recital

Tonight, April 26, at 8:00 p.m., Sylvia Killman will present a piano recital. The program, which will be held at the music school auditorium, will consist of selections from Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, and Prokofiev.

Miss Killman has accompanied both the orchestra and some voice concerts this year. She is studying piano under Robert Hord.

Kwama Petitions Due Wednesday

Freshman girls interested in applying for Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, have until tomorrow noon to turn in petitions.

Both petitions and eligibility slips may be obtained at the Dean of Women's office. A small snapshot of each applicant is also requested.

Girls will be chosen on the basis of campus activities and scholarship. Petitions should be turned in to any Kwama before Tuesday noon, but only to Anne Case at the Pi Phi house between Tuesday noon and Wednesday noon.

Library Meet To Discuss Life Of McLoughlin

The annual dinner meeting of the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon library will be held in the Persian room of the Eugene hotel on Saturday, May 7, at 6:30 p.m.

"New Evidence in the Life of Dr. John McLoughlin" will be the topic of a speech to be given by Dr. Burt Brown Barker, vice chairman of the association and vice-president emeritus of the University of Oregon.

A book of original letters written by Dr. McLoughlin will be displayed publicly for the first time at the dinner meeting. The book was among various souvenirs which were located by Dr. Barker, who is also the vice president of the McLoughlin Memorial association.

Toastmaster for the dinner will be Dr. James H. Gilbert, chairman of the association. A report on the progress of the library addition and outstanding gifts which the library has received during the past year will be given by Mr. Carl W. Hintz, University librarian.

Winners of the student private library contest, and the librarian from the living organization which receives the Josephine Evans Harpham silver cup for the best house reading program, will be guests of the association. Miss Bernice Rise will tell about the student house library program.

Reservations for the dinner which will be $1.75 per plate, may be placed with the association secretary in the library office before Thursday, May 5. Formal dress is optional. The library staff is invited to attend and visitors will be welcome.
