GAX Sponsors Ad Discussions This Week

Stanley G. Swanberg, vice president and director of Botsford, Constantine, and Gardiner Advertising agency will discuss various aspects of advertising while on the campus today and tomorrow under the sponsorship of Gamma Alpha Chi, national women's advertising fraternity.

Swanberg will talk to the copywriting, advertising production, and general advertising classes. The Retail Merchants' association is sponsoring a luncheon today. At a 2 to 4 section this afternoon he will discuss "New Horizons in Advertising" at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

This evening Swanberg will make the main address at a banquet sponsored jointly by Gamma Alpha Chi and Alpha Delta Sigma, women's and men's national advertising fraternities, for their new members.

Swanberg is a member of the educational committee, American Association of Advertising Agencies, an instructor and lecturer in the college of business administration, University of Chicago, and an instructor in advertising courses in the extension division of the University of California.

is growing smaller. Currency restrictions and the dollar shortage make it increasingly difficult for students to obtain the necessary funds to maintain themselves while they are here. Each year numbers of available tuition scholarships go unfilled because of this.

THERE IS NO lack of interest in student interchange, however. The Institute of International Education last year received more than 35,000 inquiries from people in all walks of life concerning the exchange program, and currently letters are pouring in at the rate of 150,000 a year. In 1948-49 the institute sponsored 1,040 foreign students and specialists studying on scholarships in this country.

The 1948-49 census is based on a poll of 2,512 institutions in this country—about 900 more than have ever been polled before. Previously the census recorded information from only 1,623 institutions.

Jobs Listed For Graduating Seniors and hiring of a name band early.

3) Wipe out the deficit of almost $600 which now burdens the class.
The Senior class platform for the USA, as announced by Ron Phillips, candidate for No. 1 position, is:

- 1) Organization of all class officers to plan social calendar and work together to make class events a financial success.
- 2) Joint promotion of all-campus social events; as assemblies, dances, and rallies, with other campus organizations.

The USA wants as candidates thinking people who will accept responsibility as individuals, who will act for no single organization or group, but who will be responsible to all University students.

The USA wants to provide sufficient student government for all of the students. We are tired of a party for a party's sake; we want a party for the University's sake.

Program Scheduled for Meeting Of Oregon Parents and Teachers

Oregon students and faculty members will participate in the 36th convention of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, beginning in Eugene today at the Methodist church and continuing through Thursday.

Under the direction of Charles P. Schleicher, professor of political science, a panel of four from the University will discuss "Living in a World Community" at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Those participating in the panel include Leslie John Martin and Chi-Ming Hou, graduate assistants in journalism and economics respectively. Martin is from Great Britain and Hou from China. Emily Diamant from Austria and Neville Clark from Tobago, British West Indies, complete the panel members.

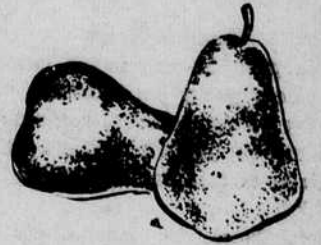

Student folk dancing, under the direction of Rosamond Wentworth, associate professor of physical education, will be demonstrated Tuesday night from 9 to 10 p.m. The University Singers, directed by Donald Allton, assistant professor of organ and theory, will perform at the noon luncheon on the same day.

Leading general singing for the meeting will be Maude Garnett, associate professor of public school music.

Theme of the entire conference of parents and teachers is "Cornerstones for Living—Home, School, Church and Community."
