

Panhellenic Workshop Set For Saturday

Panel discussions will aid sorority women and women's advisers from Oregon State College, Willamette university, and the University of Oregon in their study of "Panhellenic Responsibilities" at Saturday's Panhellenic Workshop.

Alumnae from Portland, Salem, Eugene and Corvallis city Panhellenic organizations will attend the meetings and participate in their own discussion from 11:15 to 12:15 at the Alpha Gamma Delta house.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in alumni hall, Gerlinger.

Panel on Rushing

The first panel will discuss rushing from 10 to 11 in alumni hall. Billie Johns Howard will represent the Oregon delegation.

"Pledge Training" will be the subject of one of the 11:15-12:15 panels, Ann Woodworth and Mrs. W. T. Plummer will be in charge.

Another 11:15 panel will discuss "Leadership," with Dorothy Orr and Mrs. John L. Reynolds in charge.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the Veterans' Memorial building. Mrs. William Seaman, national vice president of Sigma Kappa, will speak.

Afternoon Panels

Afternoon panels will include, from 2 to 3, "Scholarship," with Beverly Pitman and Mrs. E. Charles Pressman, assisted by Pat Kaiser, in charge.

"Standards," will be discussed under the leadership of Shirley Lukins and Mrs. McCombs.

"Living In," also at 2 p.m., will be the subject of another panel led by Oregon State College and Willamette university.

Final panel of the day will be a discussion on summer rushing from 3:15 to 4:15. Mrs. Gertrude Fariss of Portland will conduct a summary of the program.

Library Contest Deadline Nears

Deadline for entries in the annual Library Day prize contest will be 6 p. m. on Thursday, May 5.

Students are urged to enter their libraries in one of the three categories — undergraduate student's general library, undergraduate student's specialized library, or graduate student's library—to compete for one of the three prizes to be awarded in each division.

The prizes, which will be books to be purchased at the Co-op will be given in amounts of $25, $15, and $10. Miss Bernice Rise, head of the circulation department, may be contacted for further information concerning the contest.

The libraries will be on display in the University library reserve room from 10 a. m. on Saturday, May 7, until 6 p. m., Sunday, May 8. Previously, Oregon has been highest among the nation's universities in the quality and number of entries in this contest. It is hoped that last year's total of 55 may be surpassed.

Parties Eschew 'Dirty Politics'

Campus political parties issue countercomplaints yesterday after both USA and AGS campaign posters were torn down Monday night. Walt Freauff, president of USA, stated the signs were torn down "between one and two a.m. Whoever did it left all the AGS posters intact."

In a counter-statement, Mike Madden, co-campaign chairman for AGS, noted that "a number of AGS posters were also torn down during the night. As for the USA posters, the AGS had absolutely nothing to do with tearing them down. We eschew such action, and are very sorry that this came up."

Meanwhile, ASUO President Bob Allen informed the Emerald that the ASUO executive council has passed a by-law requiring all campaign literature to be taken down soon after elections by the parties putting the posters up.

Wac to Explain Army Careers To Senior Girls

Captain Engle will explain how gon-district recruiting officer for the women's army corps and women in the air force, will meet with Oregon senior women this afternoon in Chapman hall auditorium at 4 p.m.

Saptain Engle will explain how to get commissions in the WAC and WAF. She has been in the army six years, returning to the United States in 1947 after a year of service in Japan.

Many women army officers can be used in the Japanese occupation, Captain Engle stated recently, particularly in "assisting Japanese women to assume the same level or standard of living as have women in democracies, and teaching them how to vote, what voting means, and the advantages of voting."

Oregon Science Group to Meet On UO Campus

The fourteenth annual Oregon Students Science conference will meet on the University campus Saturday.

The conference is held on different college and university campuses each year. Membership is extended to science students in all colleges and junior colleges in Oregon and lower Washington.

President of the organization and chairman for the 1948-49 school year is Gerald Harris, sophomore in liberal arts. Bertha Newman, graduate student in biology is secretary.

Approximately 35 papers will be presented by both graduate and undergraduate students in chemistry, biology, physics, mathematics, psychology and geology.

The conference will open at 9:30 a.m. Dr. R. T. Ellickson, associate dean of the graduate school and professor of physics, will introduce the guest speaker, Dr. J. M. Foskett.

"A Sociologist Looks at the Natural Sciences" will be the subject of Dr. Foskett's talk. He is an associate professor of sociology at the University.

The sessions will be held in rooms 101, 103, and 105, McClure hall, and room 103 Deady.

Peace Prospects Better, Royall Says

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—Kenneth C. Royall, outgoing secretary of the army, had this final message for the troops today:

"In my opinion, the present prospects for peace for America are better than they have been at any time in the last three years."

Poetry Contest Deadline Monday

Next Monday is the deadline for the annual poetry competition sponsored by the English department. The Julia Burgess award offers $25 for the best poem submitted by an upper division student. Lower division students will compete for the Walter E. Kidd award of $15.

Rules for submitting material are posted on the bulletin board of Friendly hall. Judges of this year's contest are E. G. Moll, Frank G. Black, and Alice H. Ernst, chairman. Entries should be left with the secretary of the English department.

OSC Graduation Exercises Split Into Three Parts

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 27—The graduation class at Oregon State college this year will be run off like a wartime factory: in day, swing, and graveyard shifts.

The 1,500-plus graduates are too many to join in a single commencement ceremony. So they will be divided into three groups, with separate commencement exercises the night of June 5, the morning of June 6, and the afternoon of June 6.

Kwama Petitions Deadline Extended

The deadline for submitting petitions for Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, has been extended to 5 p.m. today. Petitions may be submitted to Anne Case at the Pi Beta Phi house up until that time.

All freshman women who have been active in campus functions and who have a GPA of at least a 2.00 may petition for the organization.

Young Demos Urge Change In Constitution

By Walter Dodd

The Young Democrats of Oregon, meeting in the annual state convention in Eugene, Saturday and Sunday, urged the calling of a constitutional convention for the streamlining of the state constitution.

In other activities Bob Davis, a University junior was re-elected president of the state group. Howard Morgan, Democratic representative from Clackamas county keynote the convention Saturday afternoon. C. Girard Davidson, assistant secretary of the interior, addressed the convention on the Columbia Valley Administration.

Davidson termed the warning of a coming octopus of federal control in the proposal for the Columbia Valley Administration "misguided understanding and malicious propaganda which is attempting to defeat the proposal."

Davidson stated the home rule demands were a false issue. "Right now you have to go to Washington, D. C., for consultation—an expensive and difficult procedure. Under a Columbia Valley Administration, headquarters would be established in this region and its three directors would be required to undertake consultation with local groups."

Other officers elected by the Young Democrats were: John Winkler, Portland, first vice-president; Dale E. Gibson, Salem, second vice-president; John O. Chatt, Eugene, third vice-president; Alan Carson, Jr., Salem, fourth vice-president; Marion Foster, Oswego, fifth vice-president; William Linklater, Eugene, sixth vice-president; June Dryden, Klamath Falls, seventh vice-president; and David Cromwell, Corvallis, eighth vice-president. Henry Aiken, Jr. was elected treasurer.

Petitions Due For Counselors

Duckling counselor petitions must be handed in to the YWCA bungalow by 5 p. m. today.

"Sophomores and juniors as well as freshmen are urged to petition for duckling counselor," Barbara Metcalf, sophomore commission chairman, stated yesterday.

"There will be transfer students as well as incoming freshmen to counsel next fall, and we will need older girls to take care of them," she explained.
