

Serenade To Finish Weekend

Men, Women Winners Of All-Campus Sing To Serenade Queen

A "serenade by sunlight" will officially close Junior Weekend from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday. No admission will be charged for the musical program that is open to the public in the open-air auditorium behind the music building.

Phil Green, program chairman and master of ceremonies, said the serenade is planned to honor visiting mothers. But he emphasized that it is open to everyone.

A program of ten parts will be given, Green said.

Presentation of the Junior weekend queen and her court will open the Sunlight serenade. She will give a speech to close the two-day holiday.

Violin Duet

A violin duet by Ann Kafoury and Ellen Liebe will be next. They will play the Haydn duet in D major, the allegro movement. Miss Kafoury and Miss Liebe are concert mistress and assistant concert mistress, respectively, of the University symphony orchestra.

James McMullen, lyric baritone who recently sang with the Portland symphony orchestra, will sing "The Song Is You."

Winner of the all-campus sing in the women's division will give the next number.

Theta Chi Quartet

Several selections by the Theta Chi quartet will follow the house group.

Georgine Shanklin will play a piano solo.

Claire Lewis, soprano, and James McMullen will sing "Who Are We to Say."

Winner of the all-campus sing in the men's division is next on the program.

It will be followed by the Delta Gamma trio, composed of Shirley Gilbert, Gay Williams, and Carol Eagleson.

Virginia Walker, soprano, will sing the tenth and last number on the program. Her selections are "Without a Song" and "Songs My Mother Taught Me." Miss Walker was one of the soloists in the winter term performance of "The Messiah."

State Department Intern Jobs Open to Outstanding Students

Outstanding students who will complete their undergraduate or graduate courses in June are eligible to apply for internships in the U. S. department of state, according to Dr. Charles Schleicher.

Students with at least two years' university work, or who have completed their undergraduate or postgraduate studies within the current year are eligible to apply for internships in the annual Summer Student Intern Program of the United Nations Secretariat, in session from July 11 to September 2, 1949.

Application forms for either program are available in 109 Oregon hall from Dr. Schleicher. The applications must be submitted by May 10.

Interns in the department of state program will be appointed at a salary rate of $2520 per annum. Successful candidates will be promoted

Junior Weekend Tickets on Sale

Tickets for all Junior weekend activities, May 6-8, will be on sale at the Co-op and at the Educational Activities office this week.

Price to the all-campus sing is 80 cents; all-campus luncheon 45 cents; and to the Junior prom $2.

Kline Named UO Foreign Student Head

J. D. Kline, assistant registrar, was recommended this week by the committee on international affairs and scholarships to be University foreign student adviser.

Kline's appointment is subject to the approval of President H. K. Newburn.

"This is the first time that we have had such an official, Clifford L. Constance, registrar, stated yesterday. Interested faculty members and officials have aided foreign students, but they have had no centralized office from which to obtain information.

Kline's new duties will consist of making available to foreign students attending the University information on immigration, visas, working, reports to be filed, and admission and academic requirements.

He will also inform Oregon students about requirements for completing studies abroad.

"An adviser of this type has been needed very badly for a number of years," Donald M. DuShane, director of student affairs, commented. "We will now have one place where information on requirements and regulations will be available for all students.

"In former years, information has been scattered about all over the campus in the hands of professors, deans, the graduate placement and student affairs offices."

Kline will continue in his post as assistant registrar.

Good Weather Now Probable

Prospects for a bright and sunny Junior weekend picked up yesterday.

The Eugene weather bureau said that there is a slight possibility of widely scattered showers.

Queen Candidate

BLONDE PRINCESS HARRIET VANATTA, whose home is in Hawaii, came to Oregon during the war when women and children were asked to leave the islands. Princess Harriet was chosen Miss Vogue in 1947 and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. (Photo by Kirk Braun)

Sporting Hawaiian Tan Princess Harriet Likes Spear Fishing in Summer

By Donna Kletzing

"It's all so secret," was the exclamation of Harriet Vanatta, tall, blonde and gracious Junior weekend princess. "They won't even give us a hint," she said, "and everything is done alphabetically."

Harriet, whose home town is Kōhala, Hawaii, has a very Hawaiian sun tan, and claimed one of her favorite summer pastimes as spear-fishing. "That's where you swim under water with a spear-bamboo weapon and spear the fish. I always do my hunting near shore, though," she explained, "and I have a conch shell in my room that I caught one day while fishing."

When asked why she came to the University, Harriet explained that during the war when all women and children were asked to leave Hawaii, her mother, who was originally from Grants Pass, her three brothers and herself came to Oregon. She attended the ninth and tenth grades in Eugene before returning to Hawaii where she was at Panahou high school in Honolulu.

"I was amazed at all the white people when I came to the United States," she exclaimed, "because all through grade school there were only two other white children in my school. All of the others are Oriental or Hawaiian, and the majority of them are barefooted at that," she added.

Since Harriet who is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma has been at Oregon, she has been a member of Hui-O-Kamaiina and is a member of the quartet that has been guest singers for different campus and civic organizations. When she was a freshman, she became known as the 1947 Miss Vogue.

Majoring in cultural anthropology, Harriet has no plans as yet when the class of '50 graduates, but explained that it's as yet early.

Arabs, Jeep Bear '1001 Nights' News

"Clear the streets."

That's the word for between 10:50 and 11 today and Friday. Cuz four Arabians are going to be careening through the campus astride a jeep bearing tidings about "A Thousand and One Nights."

Further word on Junior weekend will be disseminated by the "five little professors" of Stanford Chaparral fame who will carry messages on their little suitcases.

"Other student antics" have been promised by Lance, who refused to give the identity of the professors, but named the Arabians as Frank Rauch, Gay Baldwin, Bert Campbell, and Con Sheffer, and Jerry Crary.

JW Prom Activity List Grows

Sophomore Honorary Tappings Added to Intermission Program

Tapping for Skull & Dagger, sophomore men's honorary, has been added to the intermission activities of the junior prom this Saturday evening in McArthur court. Jimmy Zito and his orchestra will play for the annual formal dance.

Ticket sales, at $2 a duet, have been proceeding favorably, according to Paul Johnston, chairman of the dance. The Co-op and educational activities office will be handling tickets each day this week until Saturday noon. They will also be sold at the door Saturday night.

That Man Again

Zito played last fall for the Sophomore Whiskerino, and has played at a number of colleges in California. The trumpet player first reached national fame with his solo passages on "High on a Windy Trumpet" with Les Brown's orchestra.

Zito's recent record releases include "The Man with the Horn," "Just Naive," "Hold Me," and "Key Largo."

KUGN To Broadcast

KUGN will broadcast 30 minutes of Zito's music at the prom Saturday from 11 to 11:30.

The awarding of the Koyle and Gerlinger cups to the outstanding junior man and junior woman, Burt Brown Barker cups to the men's and women's living organizations with the highest GPA, cups to the float parade winners, and tapping of Druids, junior men's honorary, will also be included in the intermission.

Johnston announced that anyone wishing to aid on his committee should call him at the Delt house.

Senior ROTC Classes Open

Applications for admittance into advanced ROTC or air ROTC courses for 1949-50 may be submitted now by students who have completed or will complete the basic second year course this term and by veterans of World War II under 27 years of age.

Colonel Frank R. Maerdian and Lt. Col. John W. Watt Jr., of the military science department, explained in making this announcement that this year's early enrollment will enable the department to obtain summer draft deferments for those students selected for advanced courses.

Mayor Ed Johnson Will Crown Queen

Eugene Mayor Edwin Johnson will crown one of the five princesses as Junior weekend queen this Friday night at 8 in McArthur court.

Little Michael Newburn will carry the sealed envelope with the queen's name inside.
