

All Campus Sing, Coronation Headline Tonight's Activities

Janet Davis Cooperative award. Miss Elizabeth Nelson will sing and the Lambda Chi Alpha Short-Jean Symphonette will entertain to complete intermission.

Mr. Moreman, the Sing judge, will arrive in Eugene by plane this afternoon from California. He is considered "one of the foremost choir directors in Los Angeles," where he leads the UCLA choir and a city choir.

Trophies Offered

Ten trophies will go to the winning organizations at the close of the program. Mr. Moreman will award a rotating cup and a permanent trophy to the winner in both the men's and women's divisions.

Judging for the all-campus sing will be based on the following points:

- 20 per cent—tonal quality (harmony, intonation)
- 20 per cent—interpretation (including audience appeal)
- 20 per cent—diction.
- 20 per cent—musical arrangement (including suitability for the voices, general suitability of the song, i. e., song selection)
- 10 per cent—stage appearance (way in which group approaches, leaves stage)
- 10 per cent—following the song leader.

Winning song leaders will receive two cups, and rotating plaques will be given to the second and third place winners in each section. This is a record number of awards, according to the sing chairman.

Preceding the sing, one of the princesses, Donna Masterson, Phyllis Morgan, Virginia Thompson, or Harriet Vannatta will be crowned queen of the 59th Junior Weekend.

Miss Orr and Miss Michel will announce the winner. The envelope holding the queen's name will be carried to the stage by Michael Newburn. Rickie Fogdall will be crown bearer. Flower girl will be Suzanne Johnson.

Procession at 8

The coronation procession is planned to begin exactly at 8 p. m.

Details of the ceremony will be broadcast by radio station KUGN. Bob Allen, ASUO president, will be master of ceremonies for the entire program.

"Snow White Medley" by the Chi Omega chorus will open the singing. Twenty houses will compete, with men's and women's groups following in alternate order.

Committee chairmen for the all-campus sing are Mildred Chetty, decorations; Jim Sanders, program; Ron Phillips, publicity; Joanne Frydenlund, judges; Paul Edlund, seating; and Bob Hankins, tickets.

Eight Week Field Trip Planned On Klamath Indian Reservation

Plans for the eight-week anthropology summer field session beginning June 21 on the Klamath Indian reservation have been announced. Professor L. S. Cressman, head of the department, and Theodore Stern, assistant professor of anthropology, will direct the work.

The field work will be divided into two sections. The larger group of approximately 20 students will do archaeology under the direction of Dr. Cressman, and a small selected party of four or five will do ethnological work supervised by Dr. Stern.

It will be the third summer that Dr. Cressman has spent in study of the Klamath culture in the Northern Great Basin cultures. "Evidence so far indicates that occupation of the area goes back before the eruption which formed Crater lake," he said.

This study was first started by Dr. Cressman in 1940-41. Next September he will begin a year's leave of absence from the University to continue his research independently under the Guggenheim fellowship which he was granted this spring.

Tickets Still on Sale

A few tickets for the Oregon Mothers buffet breakfast business meeting Saturday morning remain in the graduate placement office. Tickets are 85 cents each.

Corsages Optional

Corsages will be optional for the Junior Prom, the prom committee announced yesterday. The prom is formal except for mothers, for whom the dress is optional.

Panhell Meet Called Success

Saturday's Panhellenic workshop, held with sorority actives and alumnae from Oregon, Oregon State, and Willamette, was such a success that it is hoped that it will become an annual affair, according to Oregon Panhellenic president, Fran Robson.

Delegates have been invited to a 1950 convention at Willamette university in Salem. A similar workshop was held two years ago at Oregon State.

"The exchange of ideas with other schools was very valuable to all of us," Miss Robson stated.

The workshop was carried out in the form of panel discussions on such subjects as rushing, living in, standards, scholarship, and leadership.

Junior Weekend May Be Sans Rain

The Eugene weather bureau sounded an encouraging note for the 59th annual Junior weekend, by predicting "fair weather."

The prognosticator admitted it was hard to forecast the weather three days in advance, but optimistically announced that it "looks OK" right now. Wednesday, the five-day forecast had listed the weather as "showers" for the traditional event.

Counsellors Must Attend Meeting

Unless women who have petitioned to be Duckling counselors show their interest by attending one of next week's training meetings, they will be disqualified, it was announced yesterday.

Meetings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 4 p.m. in the YWCA bungalow, and will last approximately 20 minutes.

Over 200 petitions have been received, Barbara Metcalf, sophomore commission chairman, announced at a recent sophomore cabinet meeting.
