

Co-Queens to Rule Festivities

Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Phi Capture All-Campus Sing

Mary Margaret Jones and Phyllis Morgan Picked as Co-Queens of Junior Weekend

Two junior weekend queens, Mary Margaret Jones and Phyllis Morgan, were crowned last night at the annual all-campus sing. This is the first time in history that two girls have received the same number of votes.

Alpha Phi and Sigma Phi Epsilon were first place winners in the men's and women's divisions of the sing. Jean Lichty led the Alpha Phi's, who sang "Waltz of the Flowers," while Kurt Finch directed the Sig Eps in "Were You There?"

Delta Gamma, led by Gay Williams, took second place honors with "I Love Little Willy," as did Sigma Nu's "Shenandoah," directed by Steve Stone.

Sally Terril led the Chi Omega's in "Snow White Medley," which won third place. "A Capital Ship" by Beta Theta Pi, with Paul Edlund as song leader, placed third in the men's division.

Procession of Queens

The sing was opened by a procession of the princesses. Donna Masterson, Phyllis Morgan, Virginia Thompson, Harriet Vannatta, and Mary Margaret Jones, with an honor guard of Scabbard and Blade military honorary members. Mayor Edwin Johnson of Eugene crowned the queens, whose names were kept in sealed envelopes carried to the stage by Michael Newburn. Rickie Fogdall was crown bearer, and Suzanne Johnson was flower girl.

Eight students were named to receive cash scholarships that ranged from $350 to $75. Winner of the Josephine Evans Harpham cup for the best house library reading program was Delta Delta Delta sorority, whose librarian is Frances Healy. Winning second, third, and fourth places were Rebec house, Highland house, and Alpha Chi Omega.

Chosen to receive the Hazel P. Schwering memorial scholarship, given annually to a junior woman, was Leola Odland. Honored as winners of the two new Delta Delta Delta scholarships were Anita Holmes, as incoming junior woman, and Rose Seid, as incoming senior woman. Money for these awards was earned by a baby-sitting project of Tri-Delt members.

Smith Memorial

The Janet Smith memorial co-op scholarship went to Jean Livingston. Dottie June Sorg, Carol Alzner, and Barbara Marie Murphy all received scholarships from Pi Theta Upsilon, junior women's (Please turn to page seven)

Juniors to Cop Honors Tonight At Annual Prom

Jimmy Zito Band To Furnish Music; Mothers Will Watch

Juniors of next year and this year will receive honors tonight at the biggest dance of the school year—the Junior Prom, with the music of Jimmy Zito and his orchestra. The affair will begin at 9 p. m.

Flowers are optional for this formal affair. Mothers will have a special section reserved in the east balcony, with refreshments served for them in a lounge on the east balcony mezzanine.

Big Decorations

Bigness will be the impressive thing about the decorations, according to Co-chairman Mac Epeley, who is working on decorations with Joan Mimnaugh. The City of

The frosh-sophomore tug-of-war, originally scheduled for yesterday, will be held at 10 a. m. today, behind the Kappa Sig house. Will Urban of the Order of the O, requested that each men's living organization send one freshman and one sophomore to participate in the traditional event.

Bagdad will be represented behind the band stand, with curtains surrounding the dance floor with designs representing 1001 Nights.

The Koyl and Gerlinger cups, awarded to the outstanding junior man and outstanding junior woman, the Burt Brown Barker cup to the men's and women's organization with the highest GPA, tapping for Druids, junior men's honorary, tapping for Skull and (Please turn to page seven)

QUEEN PHYLLIS I and QUEEN MARY III (top) are crowned at the all-campus sing last night in McArthur court by Eugene's Mayor Edwin Johnston. Appropriately, both girls are from Eugene. Hard at work on their float for the parade this afternoon are these Campbell Club members (lower left). Chi Omega songsters give forth with their contribution to the All Campus sing (lower right).

—EMERALD photos by Kirk Braun