Sunlight Serenade Displays Top Talent

Junior weekenders will hear the cream of the University's musical talent tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 at the Sunlight Serenade. The free program will be held in the open-air auditorium behind the music building.

The two winners of last night's all-campus sing will furnish part of the two-hour program. The queen and her court will be introduced. She will give a speech to close the weekend.

Refreshments will be served, Mary Stadelman, serenade chairman, said. She announced that the program is especially planned for mothers, but is open to everyone.

Musicians in the serenade will include James McMullen, lyric baritone, Claire Lewis, soprano, Ann Kafoury and Ellen Liebe, violinists, Virginia Walker, soprano, Georgine Shanklin, piano, and several vocal ensembles.

Phil Green, program chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

Committee members who planned the serenade are Barbara Stevenson, Florence Hansen, Janice Kent, Ruth Landry, and Ruth Dexter. Automobile parking space is available near the music school.

UO Students Take Part in Festival

Two University music students will participate in the spring festival to be held today, May 7, at the music school. They are Betty Bagley, and W. C. Martin, both of whom are pianists.

The majority of those participating will be grade and high school students. The program will be from 8:00 a.m. till 6:00 p.m. Vocal students will be in the theory room at the music building and pianists in the music auditorium. This program is open to the public.

The festival, held under the direction of the Eugene district of the Oregon Music Teachers' association, is not of a competitive nature. Its purpose is to afford music students, who are studying privately, the benefits of oral and written comment by competent judges in the musical field.

Local president of the association is Donald Alton, Stacey Green is the chairman of the festival committee.

Judges are Jean Williams, Portland, who will judge piano students, and Robert Walls, head of the OSC music department, who will judge the vocalists.

In life beware of the law court; in death beware of hell.

'Fair and Warmer,' Weatherman Says

The weather man gazed into his crystal ball yesterday afternoon and came up with the optimistic prediction of "fair and warmer" for the 59th annual Junior weekend today and tomorrow.

He did not say it would be a record heat wave nor did he admit it would turn out a cool crisp weekend.

But the sun will be out. High temperature yesterday was 81.

Tickets for the prom and all-campus luncheon will be on sale at the Co-op and the educational activities office until 12 noon today. Prom tickets are $2 and luncheon tickets are 45 cents.

Exclusive west coast showing of "300 Years of American Sculpture" opened Thursday in the art gallery of the arts and architecture building. This exhibit will be open to the public between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., during Junior weekend.

Such pieces as "Little Ida," a bas-relief in marble by John Calvery and "Falling Leaves," a mobile formed of wire and sheet metal by America's foremost constructionist, Alexander Calder, highlights the show. Also included is a set of panels furnishing photographs and complete descriptive material explaining sculptural development from the early Indian to the present day.

The pieces for this exclusive showing are on loan from museums in New York, Detroit, and Portland.
