

Sculpture Show Open to Public In AA Building

By Bill Pottker

Amor Caritas, Hope and Charity . . . Auguste St. Gaudens considered this bronze casting to be representative of his highest ideals and creative abilities. It is a part of the current exhibit, "300 Years of American Sculpture," now open to the public at the art gallery of the Arts and Architecture building. It was developed between 1887 and 1898.

This cast was originally conceived as a monument for the Ann Smith tomb at Newport, R. I. However, before the piece was completed, the tomb was destroyed. It was later considered for the Morgan tomb. When these plans fell through, the project was abandoned. In 1895, the project was resumed under commission of the Ministry of Beaux-Arts of France. The first cast was completed and installed in the Luxembourg gallery at Paris. The French acknowledged the "Amor Caritas" as one of the most significant pieces of the period. Upon its completion, St. Gaudens was elected to the French Legion of Honor.

ARMOR CARITUS

This bronze casting is a high relief involving some of the finest technical handling and control to be found in modern foundry. The cast on display here is the second to be made and is now a part of the permanent collection of Detroit Institute of Arts. A third cast was made but destroyed shortly afterward in the St. Thomas church fire in New York.

According to the writings of St. Gaudens, the theme, Hope and Charity had attracted him for many years. He considered this delicate casting to be his triumph in the field of modeling.

Aggie Baseball Series

Oregon's backyard baseball war will receive a public airing this weekend. State station KOAC announced that it would carry all four games of the "crooshul serius" between the pennant chasing Webfoots and the Oregon Staters. Friday's game, to be played at Howe field will come on the air at 2:55. Saturday's contest at Aggieville will be heard a half hour earlier at 2:25.

Crash Victims Rescued

After six days of wandering in Canadian-U. S. borderwolds after their plane crashed, Bill Grant (second from left) and Sheila Cure, 28-year-old student nurse of Vancouver, B. C., talk with rescuers while eating at logging camp near Lightning creek, just inside the American border about 100 miles east of Vancouver. (AP Wirephoto)

Campus Calendar

(Notices for Campus Calendar should be turned in, in typewritten form, to the Emerald News Editor's office by 3 p.m. of the day preceding publication. Notices will not be accepted.)

- 12:00 Wednesday—Red Cross cabinet meeting—Dr. Means' office.
- 7:00 Wednesday—Executive council meeting—Christian house.
- 7:30 Wednesday—Freshman IFC meeting—Phi Delta Theta.
- 7:30 Wednesday—"Business Cycle" lecture by Déan Victor P. Morris, discussion leader Lynn McCready—Browsing room of library.
- 7:30 Wednesday—Discussion on religion—Friendly house.
- 8:00 Wednesday—Council meeting—Luther house.
- 9:00 Wednesday—Coffee house—Luther house.
- 9:30 Wednesday—Jive night—Wesley house.

A SHORT MEETING of the Young Democrats tonight at 7:30 in the back room of the side.

In the event that the amendment to the constitution has passed, the purpose of the meeting will be to hold a special election for the office of president, which was vacated by the resignation of Duane Lemley.

THE JOURNAL CLUB of the department of foreign languages will hold its last meeting of the year on Thursday evening, May 19, at 8 in the faculty club. Professor Rene Picard will talk on French literature in the Baroque period. All interested faculty members and students are invited to take part in the informal discussion.

'MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION' a tender love story woven around a rich spiritual experience, will be shown in 207 Chapman at 7 and 9 p. m. today. Robert Taylor, Irene Dunne, and Ralph Morgan, are starred.

The film is based on the novel by Lloyd Douglas.

A playboy, indirectly responsible for a famous doctor's death, then causes the doctor's wife to go blind. Finally he gets a purpose in life—the study of medicine to restore the sight of the woman he loves.

"Glinka," a movie of the famous Russian musician's life, will be shown in Chapman hall Thursday, May 19, by the Russian Arts club.

American subtitles will translate the Russian language spoken in the film. Three showings have been arranged, at 3:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p. m.

ALL METHODIST preference students interested in helping sponsor a foreign student at the University will meet at Wesley house Thursday evening from 6:30 until 7:15. J. D. Cline, adviser of foreign students, will speak to the group presenting facts involved in such a sponsorship. He will also present applications of foreign students for admission to the University of Oregon. All interested students are invited to attend.

"Boy, that's a hot number," said the steer as they pressed the smoking branding iron against him.

'Operation Amigos'

Operation Amigos

Madison, Wis.—"Operation Amigos," a program of student study and travel in Mexico this summer, has been added to the National Student Association's summer program for 1949.

Students planning to attend "Operation Amigos" summer sessions at the University of Mexico will fly from Dallas, Texas, and Los Angeles arriving in Mexico City between June 20 and 25. The six-week classes, starting June 27, will be taught in Spanish and English.

Upon completion of school on August 13, the students will go to Acapulco, Mexico's seaside resort for ten days. Students not interested in attending summer school can take a 56-day vacation which will cover practically all of Mexico.

Prices for these programs range from $290 to $500 and up, depending upon the method of transportation. Applications must be turned in by May 1, and further information may be obtained by writing the NSA Inter-American Travel commission, Room 2, Eshleman hall, University of California, Berkeley.

Scoop on ROTC Aired on KOAC

A non musical version of "This is the Army," was the feature of Campus Headlines over KOAC at 9 last night. Col. Frank R. Maerdian took part in a program designed to show what goes on behind the ROTC curtain.

Continuing a series designed to acquaint the radio audience with various University departments, Headlines spotlighted the department of military science and tactics. An original script written by Gene Deutschman, and Gwen Roberts, told the story with the aid of Col. Maerdian, and tape recording of the University band playing appropriate martial airs. Bob Hines was announcer and narrator, and the program was directed by Hal Larsen.

The symposium of the University of Oregon was also heard over KOAC last night. The half hour show featured Dr. E. R. Nichols, assistant professor of speech as moderator for the topic, "Federal Aid to Education." The program began at 8:15.

Today's Staff

Copy editors: Dewey Rand, Bill Holman.

Night staff: Lorna Larson, editor; Marjorie Bush, Bill Holman, Dewey Rand, Penny Singleton.

Day manager, Jean Lovell
Solicitors: Georgie Oberteuffer, Jean Burgess.

SENSATIONAL VALUE!

SUN DRESS, HAT and JACKET

all at one low price!

Here is Lady Alice's brilliant new fashion idea—a waffle pique sun dress, with street jacket and the cutest little matching sun-bonnet you ever saw, complete at one low price. 12.95

HADLEY'S
WILLAMETTE AT TENA

PEARS

A Delicious and Refreshing dessert when chilled

DIAMOND "A" BRAND

EUGENE FRUIT GROWERS