home runs in the game, with Bob Hendrickson, Dick Brown, Archie Gracek, and Abe Johnson contributed one apiece.

The winners had little trouble after the opening stanza, when they hit pay dirt three times. Pete De Santos took the loss.

The Betas advanced in the play-offs past Sigma Chi on the strength of Al Mann's sparkling one-hitter.

MANN received an early lead when Max Vincent powered a long four-master in the initial inning, and he then subdued the enemy batters all the way, chalking up 12 strike-outs. Daryl Davis was a fielding standout for the losers.

Despite the fact that losing pitcher Perry Holoman yielded only two bingles, he issued five free passes, which hurt him considerably.

In the final contest, a six man run rally in the final stanza broke up a tight duel and enabled SAE to down Phi Kappa Psi.

JIM POPP registered the win as he outpitched Bob Carey. The losers took an early 1-0 lead, which SAE overcame in the second as they went ahead, 2-1, on Dick Alguire's two-run homer.

However, the score was knotted again in the next inning when Gene Hover tripled and came in on Basil Kokos' single.

This set the stage for the rally, when the Sig Eps combined three singles with four walks to hang up the decision.
