

European Travels Topic of Speech

Mrs. Hilton has been in Hungary with her husband, who was with the American embassy.

Glenna Hurst

"It was a lot of fun," Glenna said, "and particularly so since by own dad portrayed my father in the play."

Another of her interesting experiences occurred in the high school production of "George Washington Slept Here."

"In the original play a few drinks were supposed to supply our incentive for destroying the furniture in our house," Glenna explained, "but since this was high school, of course there could be no drinking. We drank tea instead."

"And I'm sure that it was quite unbelievable to see us work ourselves into such a destructive frenzy after only a few cups of that wicked beverage!"

Glenna is a sophomore, and a speech major, but is not planning a career in the field of dramatics. She is very interested in speech correction work.

Her plans for the immediate future include the establishment of a summer day nursery in Albany.

"The Show-off," under the direction of Charles B. Ingram, opens a one-week run on Friday, May 27.

Diploma, Job

ing as a busboy in a St. Louis hotel.

Any job is better than no job. It isn't as important where you start as it is where you go from where you start. The nice thing about starting at the bottom is that there is only one way to go—up. Work and brains and friendliness will get you anywhere. And honesty will help keep you there.

Of course, you can always marry a rich lady and live a life of ill-ease. But experts in this field all agree there is nothing harder than working at matrimony for a wealthy woman.

Do marry as soon as you have a job and are sure you can hold it. There is no future in being a hem-moth. And a good wife is worth her weight in income tax exemptions. And she can help you get more income tax exemptions worth having.

Whom to wed? A girl with a warm heart, my boy. Never mind her face. It'll change. But a good heart doesn't wrinkle.

Above all, my boy, don't marry a drinking woman—unless you want to spend your life listening to a talking hangover. Never marry a woman to reform her.

Theta Chis Get Golf Crown Plus Two Phi Theta Members

Last night the Theta Chis won a golf championship. Last night members of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary tapped new members.

Two Phi Thetas believe in giving credit where it is due. And it was due to Emerald Sports Editor Dick Cramer and Don Fair, former sports editor and managing editor, for their consistent and ardent interest in women's service honoraries.

The tappers, flanked by their eighteen Phi Theta sisters, approached the Theta Chi house burdened with tapping paraphernalia of mam-moth carrots, emblemed hat and sweater, and hair tonic for Cramer's brother of the extensive forehead.

They were greeted royally. The whole Theta Chi clan rushed past them to congratulate the victorious golfers who followed the girls in.
