

Registration Figures Normal As 2970 Complete Process

Yesterday's registration lines processed 877 students, and total figures obtained last night show that 2970 students have completed fall term enrollment since the process began Monday, a daily average of nearly 1000.

With 976 students finishing Monday and 1117 Tuesday, registration is progressing normally, according to Registrar Clifford L. Constance. "If we get two to three thousand more through this week, it will fill the expected quota," Constance said.

Plans for this term's registration were made by the administration on the basis of last fall term's total for the week, which was 6148.

OLD SYSTEM REVIVED

Constance explained that this year's system is similar to one used up until two or three years ago, and was revived to save time. The additional advisors' authorization card used last year has been discontinued, and unnecessary delay will be avoided by giving class cards directly to departments. Last year, cards were checked through the registrar's office.

The present system will not be perfected until more cash registers and IBM equipment is procured. J. O. Lindstrom, business manager, has ordered this equipment, and it should arrive in time for winter term registration.

STUDENTS AT FAULT

Practically all delay in picking up registration material occurred because students didn't file enrollment cards, Constance reported. These cards should have been filed by every returning student, so that registration material could be ready.

Constance assured that machines

Series Books Four Speakers

Four national figures—Dorothy Thompson, Sigmund Spaeth, Norman Thomas, and William L. Shirer—have signed contracts to address Oregon students during the 1949-50 school year, according to Dan E. Clark, chairman of the assembly committee.

This series of free assemblies will be held at McArthur Court. Dorothy Thompson, columnist, lecturer, and radio commentator, will speak Dec. 8. William L. Shirer, also a journalist and commentator, has scheduled a speech on Jan. 25.

Norman Thomas, long time leader of the Socialist party, will talk on March 1. Closing the series April 4 will be Sigmund Spaeth, writer, musician, and lecturer.

Board Created For Publications

Policy and budget of student publications will be handled by a newly-created student publications board, members of which have been named by President H. K. Newburn.

This group was established after the educational activities board was abolished last year.

Ten members of the board of twelve will have voting power. The Emerald, Oregana, Pigger's Guide and "any other publications which may be established" will come under the board's jurisdiction, according to minutes of an organizational meeting held last spring.

Don Smith, Emerald editor, and Larry Davidson, Oregana chief, will be voting members by virtue of their positions. Students at large with voting power will be George E. Anderson, Marguerite Johns, and Anita Holmes.

Non-voting student members will be James Sanders, Oregana business manager, and Joan Mimaugh, business manager of the Emerald.

Board chairman will be C. G. Howard, professor of law. Other faculty members are Robeson Bailey, associate professor of English; D. M. DuShane, director of student affairs; R. G. Langston, assistant professor education; and C. F. Weigle, dean of the journalism school.

R. C. Williams, Student Union director, will be secretary.

and staff are working rapidly on the material, and should be finished in time for classes.

'How to Study' Tips Distributed By Honor Men

With the improvement of first-year scholarship records as a final goal, the University of Oregon chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary society for men, is distributing "how to study" booklets to freshmen classes in all men's living organizations.

Containing hints on work planning, efficient reading, note-taking, and general study habits, the pamphlet is planned to help entering students smooth the transition from high school to college.

MEETING SLATED

Some booklets have been distributed this week, and all freshmen men are to receive them before classes start, according to Henry Panian, Phi Eta Sigma president. Panian also announced that a meeting of all freshmen men with prep deciles of eight or above will be held sometime during the term.

The Oregon chapter of Phi Eta Sigma was formed last March, and 18 members were initiated during spring term. Membership in the organization is limited to freshmen men who qualify with a GPA of 3.5 or above for the first term, or a 3.5 cumulative during their first year.

BASED ON GRADES

Eligibility is based on scholarship, and election to Phi Eta Sigma is recognized as the highest scholastic honor that can be won by a first-year student. After the freshman year, members continue to serve as officers and advisors to the group.

Glenn Allen, past-president of the society, was awarded a $500 Standard Oil scholarship for seniors this summer and Stan Pierson, last-year's vice-president, won the Burt Brown Barker grade scholarship last year.

FOUNDED IN 1923

Phi Eta Sigma was founded in 1923 to encourage and reward high scholastic attainment among freshman men, and is generally recognized as the freshman counterpart of Phi Beta Kappa.

It is a nation-wide organization in 65 leading universities, and belongs to the Association of College Honor Societies.

Ticket Office Open For Late Students

Student athletic cards, good for admission to the football game here Saturday with Idaho, may be secured Friday evening as well as Saturday morning before kickoff time, Athletic Business Manager Howard Lemons disclosed yesterday.

The ticket offices at McArthur court are open each day from 8 to 12 and from 1 to 5 o'clock. Friday night they will be open from 6:30 to 8:30. Saturday morning the cards will be available beginning at 8 o'clock at the 15th Street ticket office at the stadium.

Millrace May Fill Tomorrow Says Eugene Official

A full millrace became virtually a reality yesterday afternoon, as City Manager Oren King declared "we have all the water we need to work with."

At present, King said, the millrace is being kept to a lower level, and is running faster to clear the bed of debris. Fifty cubic feet of water per second is now being diverted from the Willamette River into the race bed.

The stream is expected to be at its proper level in time for the combined millrace-Idaho game rally to be held Friday night.

King expressed hope that houses on the banks of the millrace would continue to beautify the area and complete the "fine job they did last summer."

The water is being diverted into the millrace by the use of headgates, not pumps, as reported in Tuesday's Emerald.

Vets, Wives Can Sit Together at Game

Veteran's wives will be able to sit with their husbands in Section Q at Saturday's football opener against Idaho, the athletic ticket office made known yesterday.

The ladies will be able to purchase tickets at the 15th Street offices at Hayward Field from 8 to 12 o'clock Saturday. The price is $1.80.

Regular students will sit in sections M to P, inclusive, with the males occupying sections M and N, and females sections O and P.

Fifty-Nine Instructors Join UO Faculty for 1949-50 School Year

Oregon faculty ranks were swelled by fifty-nine persons this fall, according to the offices of Harry Newburn, president of the University of Oregon.

New faculty members in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts include Stanley Bryan, Howard Sebold, Frederick Heidel, Richard Prash, Allen McNow, A. M. Vincent and W. S. Baldinger.

Journalism added one new member, Raymond Johnson.

BA INSTRUCTORS

Business Administration school classrooms will see Woodside Monagan, Dwaine Rideins, Saville T. Ford, Betty Carkin and Jessie May Smith, while education has added Leonard Roos and James Caughlan.

The department of military science and tactics has named Lt. Col. John Cunningham, Major W. E. Hanes, Capt. R. C. Worden, Sgt. John Jameson, M. Sgt. E. T. Akin and Sgt. Lon Weaver to its staff.

New to Health and Physical Education are Howard Meredith, Evelyn Hudson, and Marjorie Murray.

LARGE INCREASE

The largest increase in staff is in the College of Liberal Arts which has appointed the following to academic positions:

L. Mildred Wilson, home economics; F. W. Bliss, Jr., John

Race-Idaho Rally Slated Friday Eve

Led by members of the temporary rally squad, trucks and sound equipment, a combination millrace-Idaho game rally will snowball Friday night from the Delta Delta house to the millrace, beginning at 7:30.

Houses will not be paired off for the rally. Men's and women's living organizations will join the parade as it passes their homes. Independent men and women whose houses are not on the parade route will meet at 19th and University at 7:30 sharp.

PARADE ROUTE

From the Tri Delt house, the parade will move down University to 19th; down 19th to Alder; down Alder to 11th. Alder street between E. 10th and 11th will be blocked off for a street dance.

Student officials yesterday emphasized that rooters must keep off the lawns of residences surrounding the street dance site. Street dances have been taboo in the past because of damage done to the grounds of private homes. If care is exercised, it may be possible to have more such events in the future.

COURT IN CANOES

At the millrace, opening ceremonies will include the descent of last year's Junior Weekend court down the race in canoes. The traditional tape will be cut just above the bridge in the blocked-off area.

Additional entertainment to be presented will be announced in tomorrow's Emerald.

UO Frosh Oriented At Meeting

A program of entertainment and introduction to leading campus personalities and activities was presented to Oregon freshmen last night, at the year's first McArthur court ASUO assembly.

Master of ceremonies Bob Nelson, dubbed by student body prexy Art Johnson "Oregon's king of entertainment," introduced performers.

QUARTET SINGS

The Kappa Sigma quartet, Hass Haight, Dick Shirley, Harry Gestes and ATO Carl Reusser, performed, followed by the Alpha Gamma Delta trio, Pat White, Fran Caldwell, and Virginia Ellis, accompanied by Carolyn Williams.

Giving newcomers the inside dope on outstanding activities were Kwama, president Lorna Larson, Skull and Dagger head Vern Beard, YWCA president Billjean Reithmiller and YMCA representative Gerald Harris.

THEATER OPENINGS

Openings in the University Theater were described by Gordon Erickson and Grace Hoffman, while Emerald editor Don Smith and business manager Joan Mimaugh put in a word for the campus newspaper. Larry Davidson and Jim Sanders, Oregana editor and business manager, extended the yearbook's welcome to newcomers.

Sherman Holmes explained the work of the University Religious Council, while AWS President Marie Lombard and WAA head Bonnie Gienger joined in the welcome.

Representing Phi Eta Sigma, the "freshman's Phi Beta Kappa," was Hank Panian. All ASUO and class officers present were introduced.

Church, Rose Coleman, Merrel D. Clubb, Jr., Donald DeBrodt, Robert DeMaria, Debrah LeSage, and Ezrel A. Wages, Jr., English; Bernardo Gicovate, W. A. Roecker, W. H. Jacob Gair, John Dart, S. C. Sargent, geography and geology; J. C. Gysbers, Fred Young, mathematics; Shang-Yi Ch'en, F. E. Dart, G. P. Hoyt, physics; H. S. Piquet, P. B. Simpson, economics; E. S. Pomeroy, E. R. Bingham, history; Alburey Castell, Arthur Pap, philosophy; V. A. Ostrum, Ivan G. Nagy, political science; W. R. Hubbard, psychology; V. S. Lewis, John James, sociology; W. S. Loughlin, anthropology.

LIBRARY ADDITIONS

The Bureau of Municipal Research and Service has added Edgar J. Davies to its staff, while the library will have Perry Morrison, Lillian Pankrantz, and Gert-rude Stalper.

David H. Williams will work in the business office, H. P. Barnhart in the dormitory offices, Jerry Lillie, R. D. McClure, and Robert Sullivan in athletic activities, and Olga Yevtich in the student union offices.
