

Oregon, Idaho In 35th Clash

Steve's Ankle Okay

BIG STEVE DOTUR, left tackle of Jim Aiken's forward wall, is completely recovered from the ankle bruise sustained in the Ducks' 24-7 triumph over the St. Mary's Gaels last Friday night. Dotur figures to handle most of the offensive chores at left tackle, while Bob Roberts, defensive captain and 219 pounds of lounging dynamite, will take over on defense.

Aiken Tapers Drills; Howell In Vow Year

When Oregon tangles with Dixie Howell's Idaho Vandals Saturday afternoon at Hayward Field, it will be the 35th meeting of the two schools.

With Steve Dotur back off the injured roster, and the entire Webfoot eleven in excellent physical condition, Oregon will make a strong bid for its 13th consecutive Pacific Coast Conference win, and its 29th win over the Vandals in 35 tries.

LAST VANDAL WIN IN 1925

Idaho has failed to hit the win column against the Ducks since 1925 when they copped a 6 to 0 victory. In 1924, the Vandals hopped on a weak Oregon eleven to gain a 13-to-0 win. And that is the entire story of Idaho triumphs over Oregon.

The record shows 28 wins for Oregon, two for Idaho, and four ties.

Although the Spudmen have been beaten often by the "Big Green Machine," they have never been shamefully trounced. In 1932 the Ducks won their most lopsided victory, 32-0.

Even the win-minded 1948 Web-foot squad could do no better than 15-8.

DIXIE MAKES PROMISE

Stanford had its "vow team"; with the installation of Marchy Schwartz; Coach Dixie Howell has his "vow year." Three seasons ago when he came to the helm of a team that couldn't spell win," Howell reported that in three years he would field an Idaho eleven that would have to be respected. Willamette University is full of respect for Idaho.

The Oregon-Idaho rivalry goes back to 1901 when the two squads battled to a fierce 0-0 deadlock.

Twenty years ago, a strong Idaho squad invaded Multnomah Field in Portland to do battle with the Webfoots.

DUCKS STRONG IN 1924

"Oregon put on as nice an exhibition of passing as I ever hope to see. The first pass they tried and completed for a touchdown, was perfectly timed and placed . . . Archer grabbed it without even changing stride. Kitzmiller must have thrown the ball at least 45 yards—and right over the end's shoulder. Archer could have caught it with his teeth."

That was the comment of the one and only Buck Bailey, then Washington State line and baseball coach after "one of the best Oregon teams that has ever appeared on a football field" smeared Idaho 34-7.

Dixie's Hope at Center

VERN BAXTER, offensive center of the invading Idaho Vandals, is the key pivot man of Head Coach Dixie Howell's mystery offense, the "Maybe T." The Idaho team blasted the lid from the new offensive last Saturday with a resounding 79-0 victory over the Willamette Bearcats of Salem.

All-University Tennis Tournament Scheduled To Commence Tuesday

Tuesday afternoon is the day when extensive play on the Emerald Street Tennis Courts will swing into full scale action according to Saal Lesser, varsity net coach. A tournament is scheduled to start on this date. The double court sport has come into its own at Oregon since Lesser took over coaching activities in the spring of '48.

Sign-ups for the tournament are under way at the tennis courts. Monday afternoon is the deadline set for the concrete and net followers. Applicants must leave phone numbers at the courts when they sign-up for action.

This tourney is designed to single out Oregon's top tennis stars. All University men have a chance to compete—Frosh, "profs.," everyone has a chance to participate, Lesser said.

There will be no "seeding" according to Lesser. Everyone will have the opportunity to show their ability with the "cat-gut" paddle and balls.

Football Team Needs Lower Division Managers

Freshmen and sophomore men who are interested in being football managers should contact Stan Corning in the equipment room of McArthur Court between 4 and 5 p.m. any day next week.

This opportunity offers a chance to be associate manager and manager. This work entitles men to sweater awards and road trips.

Dotur Becomes Father

Steve Dotur, left tackle of the Ducks, became a father of a 6 pound 5 ounce baby boy yesterday at 4 a.m. Both son, Geoffrey Stephen, and wife Patricia Ann are doing well in Sacred Heart Hospital. This is the first child for the Doturs.

Officials Needed By IM Office

Intramural football officials are still needed, Everett Peery, newly appointed IM sports manager, disclosed yesterday. Men interested in officiating should contact Peery at the IM sports office, Room 106, in the physical education building. The University will pay 75 cents an hour for officials.

Schedules and handbooks for the coming season are also available at the IM office. Peery urged all team managers to pick them up as soon as possible.
