

Daring Sigma Kappa House Adds 'New Look' to Campus Sororities

The "new look" in design has influenced campus sorority house architecture, with semi-completion of the Sigma Kappa house, located at 851 E. 15th St., between the Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Delta Theta houses.

This modern sorority house, conforming in style with latest architectural trends, was started last April by general contractors W. W. Hardie and Son, Eugene. Enough was completed this September to allow members to move in.

Eugene architects Wilmsen and Endicott carried out an exterior theme of Washington red cedar siding with vertical white pine. A combination of colors are used to contrast with cedar on the doors and windows.

The interior continues the modernistic theme, using walls of glass in first floor rooms. The living and dining rooms open onto a large semi-covered terrace with an outdoor fireplace. The basement, not yet finished—will include space for recreation, chapter meetings, storage and laundry. Study facilities for 50 women are provided on the second story, with two sleeping porches on the third floor.

Radiant heating panels and a combination fluorescent and incandescent lighting system with recessed and semi-indirect fixtures are used throughout.

Religious Organizations Plan Open House Sunday

The University Religious Council and its member organizations have announced two dates of interest, directed at freshman and new students on the campus.

On Sunday, Sept. 25, four religious houses have individually planned open houses to welcome all students. These houses serve both religious and social needs of University students. Planned are recreation, suppers, and fellowship hours.

Friday, Sept. 30, is church night, an annual affair on the Oregon campus. Complete arrangements are planned by the University Religious Council and the ASUO officers.

Following is a sketch of the programs of Wesley, Christian, Westminster and Lutheran houses for the opening week of school. Religious clubs on the campus will operate after classes start.

WESLEY HOUSE

Under the direction of Rev. David Seaman, Wesley will hold open house during Sunday afternoon and evening. Supper will be served at 5:15, with Chapel services at 6. At 6:30, Fellowship Hour will feature a talk by Miss Gisela Schmidt of Finland, foreign student Wesley House is sponsoring this year.

Also addressing the group will be Rev. Berlyn Farris, Methodist minister in Eugene.

CHRISTIAN HOUSE

Activities will start with open house Sunday, Sept. 25, at the First Christian Church Annex. Art Johnson, ASUO president, Sherman

Holmes, Religious Council president, and Victor P. Morris, dean of the Business School and a member of the Christian House board will welcome new students. Christian house is under the leadership of Mrs. Clarence Elliott.

WESTMINSTER HOUSE

Under the leadership of Rev. Thom Hunter, Westminster will hold open house from 3 to 5 Sunday afternoon. Buffet supper will be at 5:30 and a Fellowship hour at 7 p. m. During the fellowship period, group singing, entertainment, skits, and musical numbers will be featured.

LUTHERAN HOUSE

Members are planning similar activities during the opening week of school, but definite plans have not been announced. Lutheran is under the leadership of Cleone Olson.

Oregana Chief Tells 1950 Plans

A new type cover will be a feature of the 1950 Oregana, Editor Larry Davidson disclosed today. Other innovations in this year's book will include an ultra-modern layout, and four coeds to replace the usual Miss Oregana.

"A Year to Remember" is the theme of the annual. More extensive campus coverage than in previous years, a layout similar to that of Holiday magazine, and more representative pictures and captions are ways in which Davidson hopes to make this year's book retain the All-American honors won by previous Oreganas.

DRESS RESTRICTIONS

Restrictions have been made this year concerning the type of clothing students may wear when having house pictures taken.

Women are asked by Davidson not to wear peter pan collars, jackets with piping, neutral-color sweaters, or beads. He suggests V-neck blouses or dark jackets with white sweater, white jackets with dark sweaters, or dark cardigan jackets.

NO BOW TIES

Men may wear white shirts, ties, and suit coats. The only request is that they do not wear bow ties.

"All clothing restrictions were made for the sake of appearance," explained Davidson. "Too much uniformity of dress in various living organization pictures detracts from individuals and good photographic effects."

Other restrictions have been made solely from the standpoint of good photography.

PICTURES SOON

Photography of living organization members will take place between October 3 and November 18 this year. Schedule will be sent to the various houses soon, with men's houses set to be photographed first.

No applications for work on the Oregana are being accepted by Davidson at this time; however students may apply November 5 when the yearbook holds its annual open house in its McArthur Court offices.

Bunion Derby Head

Florence Hansen, junior, has been named chairman of the AWS Bunion Derby, President Marie Lombard announced yesterday.

Assisting Miss Hansen will be Ann Gillenwater, publicity chairman, and Shirley Hillard, collections.

The event is scheduled for Saturday night, October 1.

Art Buildings Get Face-Lifting During Summer

Art students will work in improved surroundings this year, resulting from general face-lifting work done on the art and architecture building and annex during the summer.

A small seminar or lounge room for students has been added in the main building. It contains a special library from which students will be able to borrow books at any time.

The annex, now has new tables, lockers and other equipment; acoustical board ceilings will make the rooms sound absorbent. The lecture room is finished and a light control room will enable basic design classes to see new experiments in color.

All floors have been refinished, painting props repaired, and new equipment added, including tubular steel chairs in the sketch room.

City Gleemen Book Concert

The Eugene Gleemen are scheduled to present the first concert of their new season in Newberg, Oct. 20, according to Stanley R. Summers, member.

Sponsored by the Newberg Kiwanis Club, the concert will be in the high school auditorium of that city.

Dr. Theodore Kratt, dean of the school of music, will conduct the Gleemen again this year, and Stacey L. Green, professor of music at the school, will provide piano accompaniment.

Frosh Turn Tables

University of British Columbia freshmen turned the table on upperclassmen yesterday when they tossed 80 Engineering students into the campus lily pond.

The Engineers had intended to dunk all frosh not wearing proper "orientation" clothing. They termed the boomerang attack by the frosh "highly unfair."

"Any freshman ought to consider it an honor to be chucked into the pond by an Engineer," the dripping upperclassmen contended.

Night Staff

Lorna Larson, Glenn Gilespeie, Bill Holman, Jerry Meyers, Ann Goodman, Dave Taylor, Gretchen Gron-dahl, Don Smith.

No news is good news—but try and sell that at a women's bridge club meeting.
