

Correspondence With Foreigners Possible Through 'Letters Abroad'

Students wishing to hear from other countries, to trade information or to practice languages, are urged to write to Letters Abroad, World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, 1411 Walnut street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania.

According to Miss Alison Raymond, director of Letters Abroad, students in foreign countries want to exchange ideas and points of views with those in America.

A student wishing to do this should tell his age and chief interests. A foreign letter will be sent to him. Thereafter the student can write directly to the foreign student.

The World Affairs Council will provide a free translation service if necessary. The only requirement is a sincere desire to maintain the correspondence once it is started, said Miss Raymond.

A young German worked out the following from his English dictionary: "Too improvement my English language knowledge I wish with an young lady at the olds of twenty in letter discount too step."

An Italian boy of twenty writes, "It is already more than four years since the guns were silenced. Those same weapons that did so much damage to friends and foe alike. I would like it if you will find me a partner in the ranks of youth. Maybe you will be able to take two former enemies, both of whom had to risk their life and health for their respective countries, and make them friends with each other. This would add another little stone in the attempt to make a better understanding in the world."

Theatre Asks Trials Tonight in Villard

The tryouts for the University Theater productions originally scheduled for Wednesday afternoon will be held tonight in room 102 Villard. All students who have not attended either of the previous tryouts or filled out a tryout card are asked to attend.

Newburn Names S U Board Heads

Names of the Student Union Board will be announced sometime this month by President H. K. Newburn's office, Dick Williams, director of the Student Union, said yesterday.

Recommendations by the deans and department heads have been submitted to a committee consisting of Art Johnson, ASUO president; Ed Anderson, ASUO vice-president; and Williams. By the process of elimination they will select, with the approval of the deans and department heads, a list of names to be submitted to Newburn.

This method of selecting the board is being used in order to have an equal representation throughout the student body.

Deadline Today For Art Sketches

Students wishing to apply for the position of art editor on the Pigger's Guide must turn sketches in to Editor Dorothy Orr at the Alpha Xi Delta house by 4 p.m. today. The art editor will draw the cover for the handbook. Past covers may be consulted as to the type of drawing suitable.

Any changes or errors as to names and information in last year's guide should also be phoned in to Miss Orr.

German Reading Class Starts Today

A General Extension Division class in "Elementary Reading German" will meet for the first time today from 7 to 10 p.m. in 14 Friendly Hall.

Previously it was announced that the class was scheduled for last week.

Rudolph Ottenbacher, instructor in Germanic languages, will teach the class. The course will begin with a study of basic grammar and advance through German folk lore into Twentieth Century German literature.

Registration may be made at the class meeting, or at its meeting the following Wednesday.

Lid Petitions Due

Petitions for positions on the rooters' lid sales committee are due tomorrow at 5 p.m. to Beverly Buckley at the Delta Delta Delta house.

More rooters' lids are available for women students at the Co-op now, Miss Buckley stated yesterday.

Book Larnin' Yields To Modern Methods

Evidence that the book is yielding to other methods of recorded knowledge is shown in a report made by William H. Carlson, director of libraries of the State System of Higher Education, to Chancellor Paul C. Packer.

For example, Carlson calls attention to the rapidly growing Audio-Visual Department at the University, the biggest item of which is some 34,107 slides, valued at $23,917.88, and all acquired within the last year.

"Such items as sound recordings, slides, film strips and motion picture films would have been foreign to the libraries of only a few years ago," Carlson observes.

Chairmen of AWS Auction Named

Kathy Littlefield, junior in art, was yesterday named chairman of the annual AWS auction at a meeting of cabinet members. The auction is scheduled for Oct. 19.

Assisting Miss Littlefield will be Diane Ford, posters chairman; Gretchen Grondahl, publicity; Ruth Dexter, decorations; Mary Hall, program; Ann Darby, collections, and Virginia Kellogg, clean-up.

Items to be auctioned off are obtainable from the lost-and-found department and living organizations. Proceeds go for AWS scholarships.

Committee members for the auction will be announced yater.

Men's Group Photos Set For This Week

Oregana pictures of members of men's living organizations are now being taken at the Kennell-Ellis studios in downtown Eugene. This week's schedule includes the following:

Pictures of Phi Delta Theta and Pi Kappa Phi will be taken today. On Thursday, members of Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon will have their pictures taken.

The schedule for the week concludes with Theta Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha on Friday.

Wickham Scheduled As B.P.W. Speaker

Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, University director of women's affairs, will speak at a Business and Professional Women's banquet in Sweethome tonight.

Topic of her speech will be "The Orientation between High School and College."

Teachers from the Sweethome area will be guests at the banquet.

U.O. Library Claims State Loan Record

The University library loaned more books to other libraries in 1948-49 than did any other library in the State System of Higher Education, William H. Carlson, Director of Libraries, reported recently.

All seven libraries in the System loaned more books last year than they borrowed, loaning 3,609 volumes and borrowing 3,172, Carlson said.

Ad Students Invited To Honorary Meet

All advertising students above freshman standing may attend an open meeting of Gamma Alpha Chi Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Dale Cooley, of the Cooley Advertising Agency in Eugene, will be guest speaker.

Foreign Students Reception Slated Tonight at 8p.m.

Thirty foreign students now attending the University are expected to attend an informal reception from 8 to 10 p.m. today at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house, 1306 18th Street East.

Faculty members, heads of campus living organizations, and other interested persons will be present at the reception.

"We hope it will give interested people an opportunity to meet foreign students, and vice-versa," commented Bud Lancer, co-chairman of the event with Sherman Holmes.

Lancer emphasized that the reception will be on an informal basis. Refreshments will be served from a buffet table at 8:30 p.m.

The University Religious Council and Alpha Tau Omega are co-sponsors of the reception.

YMCA to Hold Open House Friday

Open house for all University students and faculty will be held Friday night at the YMCA from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. The program for the evening will include dancing, games, and refreshments.

The open house will be strictly informal and it is primarily a no date affair although you may bring your date if you have one. Campus clothes are in order.

New Degree Plan Gets Vote Today

Changes in requirements for master's degrees and Ph. D.s will be voted upon in today's faculty meeting.

Under the proposed plan, master's degrees would be granted either with or without thesis, subject to approval by the school or department. Students omitting the thesis would be required to take a final oral examination and a final written examination.

Under the plan proposed for Ph.D.s, a student would be able to start work on his Ph.D. after receiving his bachelor's degree, omitting the master's.

Paris police are working on a subway murder mystery and likely hope to solve it with underground information.
