

ATO House Scene Of Foreign Students' Honorary Reception

By Frances Gillmore
More than 150 students, faculty members and interested townspeople last Wednesday evening gathered at the Alpha Tau Omega house for a reception honoring the many foreign students on campus. Entertainment for the affair was supplied by the Delta Gamma trio, Shirley Gay Williams, Carol Egleson and Shirley Gilbert singing "When You Wore a Tulip" and "Blue Skies." George Hopkins, piano professor, played two selections.

FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE
Sherman Holmes and Bud Lanser, representing the ATO house and the University Religious Council, respectively, worked side-by-side in planning the event. Refreshments were served.

Throughout the room was an air of friendly congeniality. As one lass from France remarked, "It is so pleasant and easy to make acquaintances in the United States. In France it is not always so easy. I like speaking about my country to these people in this room because they look so interested."

In a far corner of the living room Mr. Hopkins was surrounded by students applauding his rendition of one of Chopin's masterpieces.

FOUR FROM FOREIGN LANDS
The group included Matti Raikkala from Finland, Dirk Schepers from Holland, Ernst Lutz from Austria, and Winifried Eggert from Bavaria. During the singing and playing, the foreign students were as one completely absorbed in the music being presented.

When came time to leave all guests were reluctant to depart from the harmonious atmosphere the informal reception had produced.

"LIKE MORE OF SAME"
Winfried Eggert summed up the thoughts of all present with, "We appreciated the evening very much and would like more of the same."

Said Mr. J. D. Klein, foreign student adviser, "The affair was unusually successful. The benefits were two-fold in that it gave the foreign students a feeling that they are genuinely welcome on our campus. Also it acquainted the Eugene area persons, interested teachers and students with the foreign students. I hope it will be reflected in further similar events throughout the year."

Les Thelemites Schedule Social Meeting Monday

A social meeting of the French club, Les Thelemites, will be held at 8 p.m., Monday Oct. 10, in Wesley House.

The meeting will feature the playing of French records and singing of French songs. Refreshments will be served.

Beginners in French, as well as the more advanced students, are invited.

Under the advisership of Rene L. Picard, assistant professor of romance languages, the club this year is planning to show several French movies.

Last year, members of the group participated in both the Fiesta party given at Christmas by the language groups, and in Moliere's play, "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," presented in April.

Petitions Due At Noon Today

Homecoming Committee chairmanship petitions are due this noon to Chairman Willy Dodds at the Delta Upsilon house.

All students are eligible to petition for the following chairmanships: variety show, noise parade, bonfire, sing contest, barbecue or fish fry, pre-game ceremonies and half-time entertainment, registration, and publicity-promotion.

World Economy Topic of Talk For IRC Meet

Howard S. Piquet, visiting professor of economics, will speak Tuesday, Oct. 11, in the second floor Gerlinger sunporch at 7:30 at the International Relations Club meeting. His topic will be "Can the Pre-war World Economy Be Restored?"

Dr. Piquet is a former member of the United Nations Food Commission and Federal Tariff Commission. During the war he served as deputy staff director of a special White House Committee.

He is appearing as the guest speaker of the International Relations Club's first meeting. Anyone interested in the IRC is invited.

University Classes To Hear Newsmen

Two working newspapermen from the Eugene Register Guard staff will speak to the journalism classes on the campus this weekend.

Dan Sellard, city editor, will talk to Introduction to Journalism students at 8 this morning, and Al Currey, city government reporter, will speak to the reporting class at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Betas, Phi Deltas

to the Tekes' two gave the Betas the victory.

PHI SIGS 6-0
One play was all that the Phi Sigs needed to gain a 6-0 victory over a scrappy Omega Hall team. The particular play a 15 yard pass from Bob Huey to Dan Swaffar did the job. The duration of the game was spent mostly in mid-field with both teams finding the slippery field a handicap.

Norris Attends Research Meet

W. V. Norris, professor of physics, will attend a regular meeting of the Professional Engineers of Oregon in Salem at 6 p.m. tonight. Featured speaker for the event will be E. C. Starr, professor of electrical engineering at Oregon State College. Starr will give a report on atomic research.

Newman Series To Start Sunday

The Newman Club will hold its second meeting at 7 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 9 in the YMCA. Father Gurr, a Jesuit recently associated with Sacred Heart Hospital, will begin a discussion series.

Catholic theology of Penance has been selected as the first topic. An introduction of the Christopher movement will be made also.

Line Failure Causes Dim City

Failure of two 230,000 volt power lines caused Eugene lights to go out shortly before 2 p.m. Thursday.

The failure occurred somewhere between Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River and the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington and affected most of the Northwest.

Cause of the disruption was not known yesterday afternoon but officials speculated that storm conditions may have broken the circuit.

When power from the main system was cut off, power plants in this area were not able to carry the load. Power was restored when the electricity was re-routed through Salem.

Orides Set Pledge Ceremony Monday

Orides will hold formal pledging of new members Monday at 7 p.m. in Alumni Hall, Gerlinger. All off campus independent women are invited. Those interested may contact Dolores Jeppesen, University extension 425, during noon hour.

Sabine to Talk At Noon Forum

Professor Gordon A. Sabine of the School of Journalism will help commemorate National Newspaper Week at noon today when he gives the featured address at the first forum luncheon sponsored by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. The forum will take place at the Eugene Hotel.

Last night Mr. Sabine spoke before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Sweet Home.
