

Two Webfoot Students Buy Swimmers' Delight

Swimmer's Delight, dance and picnic spot for Oregon students, is now owned and operated by two University students, Barry Wheeler, freshman in biology from Portland, and Don McDonald, Eugene sophomore in psychology, bought the place last May and have since remodeled it.

Both men are veterans, Wheeler of the Air Corps and McDonald of the Marines. Three people are working for them including McDonald's wife.

Asked if the work interfered with studies Wheeler said it just takes their weekends. He is living there this winter while McDonald lives at home. Both plan to finish school.

They report that so far business has been running pretty close but with recent increases in crowds they expect to do very well.

USA Ponders Vacant Posts

Seven petitioners for a position the USA steering committee were interviewed by the present members of the committee Tuesday afternoon, and the names of those who will be considered by a general assembly meeting will be released Thursday.

The steering committee will select from the petitioners those who they feel are qualified for the positions open, and will present these names before a general assembly to be voted on. Nominations from the floor may be made, if the nominee has already submitted his petition and if there are ten people to second the nomination.

Positions open on the committee are three members-at-large, and the office of president. Petitions for the office of president are still being accepted by the committee, and may be turned in to John Day, Minturn Hall, Clara Belle Roth, Rebec House, or any other member of the steering committee by four o'clock Thursday. They may also be brought to the meeting at four at the Side.

Education Majors To Hear Douglas

Dr. Harl Douglas, former Oregon professor in education, will speak to education majors, both graduate and undergraduate, 3 p.m. Thursday, Room 4, Education.

Dr. Douglas, now director of the School of Education, University of Colorado, has been visiting in Alaska during a two-quarter leave. He is now on his way to California, and en route will stop in Eugene.

Lions Club Has Guest Speakers

Miss Gisela Schmidt and Ernst Lutz, foreign students attending the University of Oregon, have been scheduled as speakers at the Lions Club meeting Wednesday at noon in the Eugene Hotel.

Both will speak on conditions in their homelands. Miss Schmidt is from Helsinki, Finland, and Lutz is from Dels, Austria.

Dr. Pap Has Book Published

Dr. Arthur Pap, new University assistant professor of philosophy, has recently had his book, "Elements of Analytic Philosophy," published by the MacMillan Company. The book is said to be an innovation in the philosophy world as it brings the subject within reach of those at the college level.

"Logical positivism" is the name given to this movement in present-day philosophy. Formerly information in it was available only in very technical works.

Dr. Pap has taught both physics and philosophy. He taught physics at Yale and at City College of New York, and philosophy at Columbia university and the University of Chicago. In 1946 he received the Woodbridge prize for the best Ph.D. thesis submitted in the department of philosophy at Columbia.

His baccalaureate and master's degrees were received from Columbia, and he did graduate work at Yale before receiving his doctorate.

Youmans To Speak

Shackrats Join Sigma Delta Chi

Five new members were initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, Sunday afternoon. They were guests at a buffet dinner and "shop talk" at the Del Rey cafe immediately after the ceremonies.

New members are Stan Turnbull, Tom King, Don Smith, Ken Metzler and Merle Gors.

Robert L. Jones, assistant publisher of the Salem Capital Journal, was guest speaker at the dinner and spoke on "Is Newspapering a Game?"

Several other journalism students and Eugene professional members were guests at the dinner.

Cowboy Band Will Appear Here Tonight

T. Texas Tyler and seven instrumentalists will appear tonight from 9 to 12 p.m. at the Lane County Barn Dance, on Highway 99 North.

"Remember Me," "Beautiful Morning Glory," and "Beautiful Life" are a few of Tyler's most popular renditions. His appearance is part of a bi-annual tour through the Northwest in which he plays mostly at barn dances and fairs. Tyler, whose home is in southern California, makes most of his income from Capital records, singing songs in a tearful, pessimistic tone.

He will make a guest appearance at 4 p.m. this afternoon at the Appliance Center in Eugene.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at the Eugene and Springfield Appliance Centers for $1.20 a person.

ROTC Totals 1042 Men

Total strength of the ROTC detachment this fall is 1042 according to figures released by Col. Frank R. Maerdian, head of the Military Science Department. This is an increase of nearly 16 per cent over last year's enrollment of 890.

Although the enrollment in the first year basic course tops last year's by 139 there is a ten man decrease in the second year's course. The first year Advance class is increased by 26, with 69 men enrolled.

Lack of veterans in the undergraduate schools this fall was considered one of the principal reasons why the enrollment in the Basic class jumped.

Statistics show that a little over half of the student officers chose the Ground Forces instead of the Air Forces, in contrast to last year when the Air Force led by a large majority.

Book-Bags Available

The University Book Store now has available cellophane bags which may be utilized in keeping books dry during damp weather. Previously the store had been out of this item; however, popular demand and recent precipitation necessitated restocking.
