

Betty, Joe Entries Cut to 24

Twenty-four sophomores are still being considered as potential finalists in the Betty Coed-Joe College contest, after preliminary eliminations last night.

Final decisions by the judges today will cut the number of contestants to six for Betty, and six for Joe.

Ch'en Gets $4800 Aid In Physics

Dr. Shang-ye Ch'en of the physics department recently received a research grant in physics of more than $4,800 from the Research Corporation of New York.

He will use the money to study the pressure effect of foreign gases on spectral lines of the earth.

TO NAME ASSISTANTS

Assistants to help with the project will be appointed within the next month.

Ch'en, who has lived in China most of his life, received his Masters degree at Yenching University in Peiping in 1934. He then came to the United States where he received his Ph.D. degree from the California Institute of Technology in 1939.

TAUGHT AT PACIFIC

Returning to his native land, he taught for seven years. His last three years in China were spent in physics research at the Institute of Physics of the National Academy of Peiping.

Before coming to the University of Oregon, Dr. Ch'en taught for six months at Pacific University in Forest Grove.

Talent Chairman Petition Call Issued; Due Thursday at 5

Petitions for chairman of the proposed talent finding and recording board are due to Anita Holmes, Hendricks Hall or Don Pickett, Beta Theta Pi, by 5 p.m. Thursday.

The chairman would have charge of planning and carrying out a system to discover and record talent for campus entertainment shows and civic programs.

Miss Holmes and Pickett will confer with departmental officials and present the petitions which they believe to be superior to the Executive Council for action.

The 12 remaining Betty Coed candidates are:

Barbara Bate, Carson Hall; Betty Jean Boner, Alpha Phi; Katherine Carter, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Dunson, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Diane Ford, Alpha Gamma Delta; Anita Frost, Alpha Chi Omega; Yvonne Heppley, Alpha Xi Delta; Arlene Kennedy, Delta Delta Delta.

The six finalists for Joe College will be selected from the following 12 men:

John Chaney, Chi Psi; Bill Clausen, Kappa Sigma, Bob Gray, Sigma Chi; Bill Kirkpatrick, Phi Gamma Delta.

Dick Lee, Alpha Tau Omega; Duncan Liston, Phi Kappa Psi; Allan Mann, Beta Theta Pi; Martin Meadows, Nestor Hall.

Jay McMurren, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Roger Middleton, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Martel Scroggins, Phi Kappa Sigma; Jack Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Final voting for Betty Coed and Joe College will be at the Whiskerino, Oct. 28, with students voting for one boy and one girl out of the 12 finalists. Ticket stubs will be used as ballots.

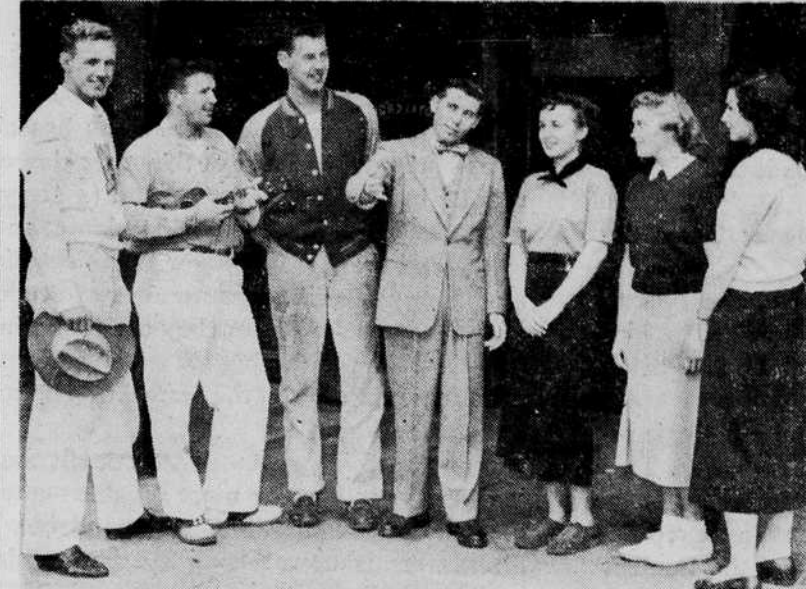

Judges were Art Johnson, ASUO president; Beverly Krueger, "Miss Oregon of 1949"; Joanne Frydenlund, ASUO secretary; Bill Bowerman, frosh football coach; and Mrs. Jacklyn Henderson, manager of "Jacklyn's Dance School."

Slogan Contest Deadline Nears

In 1921 it was "Home to Meet 'Em, Back to Beat 'Em." Last year it was "New Look at Oregon."

Homecoming slogans have a long history, but there are only a few hours left to enter this year's contest.

Deadline for suggestions is 4 this afternoon. Entries, with name and address, may be dropped in a box located in the Co-op. Prize for the winning slogan will be admission for a couple to the Homecoming dance, Nov. 19.

DG's, Kappa Sigs To Serve as Bait At Auction Today

Entertainment, Services Go to High Bidders; AWS Function to Get Under Way at 4 o'clock

Living organizations making the highest bids at today's Associated Women Students Auction, set for 4 p. m. in front of the Side, will win the entertainment and table waiting services of groups from Delta Gamma and Kappa Sigma.

Last-minute collections are being taken in campus living groups as the hour for the auction approaches.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

Hats, jackets, books, notebooks, pens, and small items of wearing apparel gathered from the campus lost and found department, and from donations by living organizations, will also go on the block.

Proceeds will go toward AWS scholarships. Representing the Delta Gamma sophomore class will be Martha Stapleton, Barbara Claren, Sally Ford, and Lois Williams in a brief skit. The entire class of 14 girls will be auctioned to the highest bidder. The winning house will be entertained and served at dinner by the girls sometime this term.

Last year Kappa Alpha Theta sorority won a group from Phi Gamma Delta, while representatives from Alpha Phi were purchased by Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

SELECTIONS FROM PROGRAM

A selection from the Kappa Sig entertainment program will also be presented. Included in the offering are ten waiters, the Kappa Sig quartet, and Russ Haehl and Dick Bryon in a blackface act.

Flying speeches completed coverage of campus living groups last night, notifying them of the event.

Journalism Conference Enrollment Reaches 175

Approximately 175 delegates already have enrolled for the Oregon Scholastic Press Conference to be held Oct. 22 at the School of Journalism. As the conference nears, registration figures are expected to soar, Mrs. Gloria Billings, secretary of the school, who is in charge of enrollment, indicated Tuesday.

These delegates represent some 69 high schools in Oregon.

A policy adopted this year allows schools to send four official delegates, but as many unofficial delegates as they wish. Previously, there was a restriction on the number of delegates that might attend.

23rd CONFERENCE

This year's 23rd annual conference, which will serve as a get-together for both the Oregon Scholastic Press and Oregon Association of Journalism Advisors, will include a Yearbook Forum, in addition to the regular newspaper meetings.

An extensive program has been planned for the all-day conference. Newly instituted student-conducted panels, round-tables, and adviser's conferences are on the agenda.

NOMINATIONS SLATED

Nominations for offices of the Oregon Scholastic Press and Oregon Association of Journalism Advisors will be made.

Charles A. Sprague, former state governor and now editor-publisher of the Salem Oregon Statesman, and Assistant Professor Ivan G. Nagy of the political science department will give the main talk.

Wanted--Actress For Leading Role

Small, dark, young, and beautiful?

If so, hold on a minute—you also should be sweet, intent, brilliant, and a wonderful actress.

Meaning?

Out of 150 applicants for leading lady in the first production in the new University Theater, none have proved to be "exactly right," says Horace W. Robinson, director of the University Theater.

Would-be leading ladies have been asked to contact Robinson immediately, or attend rehearsal at 7:30 Thursday, 102 Villard.

Student Court Hears 13 Cases; Fines Total $14

Thirteen cases were considered and $14 in fines collected by the student traffic court in its regular session Tuesday night.

Six cases had posted bail in the Office of Student Affairs. Seven cases appeared; all were found guilty and one student was fined an additional $1 because of failure to display registration sticker.

HAMPTON ATTENDS

Sophomore member Merv Hampton sat in as an observer for his first meeting. He will become an official member after the confirmation of his appointment by the Executive Council next Monday.

The new student parking area behind Emerald Hall was opened last week. Use of this area could have prevented many of the violations considered last night, since a number of students were fined for parking in the physical plant area only a few hundred feet from the unfilled student lot.

Several other students were fined for parking in service entrances. This is strictly prohibited because of fire regulations.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED

Some students have twice failed to appear before the court. After two warnings have been issued and no response made, the court will turn the case over to the Office of Student Affairs, where measures up to suspension of University registration will be considered.

The court has noticed a trend toward improvement during the last week, chairman Dick Neely commented, with fewer tickets being issued to students.

Court sessions are held each Tuesday, 7 p.m. in 6 Friendly.

'Triskaidekaphobia' Not Caused by Polluted Race; It's Novelty Piece Played by Les Brown Orchestra

"Triskaidekaphobia" is a novelty tune students will hear when Les Brown and his "band of renown" play for the annual Whiskerino, Oct. 28. Butch Stone, comedy vocalist, will sing the number.

Stone, one of Brown's four top vocalists, is best known for his Columbia record, "A Good Man is Hard to Find." Other vocalists who will appear are Amy Lou Polk; six feet, four inch, Ray Kellog, baritone; and at five feet, Stumpy Brown, youngest brother of the band leader.

OTHERS FEATURED

Also featured with the orchestra will be Ray Klein, trombone, and Abe Most, clarinet.

"Whenever we go to work on a new tune, we always figure things from a musicians' angle, but the customer is the final judge," observed Brown.

LES BROWN

His recording of "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm" has recently been number one throughout the country. Brown is currently featured on the Bob Hope program.

ORCHESTRA OF ATHLETES

Brown's orchestra holds the mythical baseball crown among big name bands of the country. His boys have played baseball with almost every other orchestra in the nation and have never lost a game. They also make a good football eleven, advance reports say.

Skull and Dagger members are in charge of Whiskerino tickets which will go on sale today in all men's living organizations. They will be $2.40, tax included.

Lillian Schott, ticket chairman, warned that only a limited number of tickets are available.
