Eight to Attend IRC Conference

Eight students will travel to the University of Idaho at Moscow for the Northwest regional conference of the International Relations Club, Oct. 27-29, according to C. P. Schleicher, professor of political science.

Two foreign students, Winfried Eggert and Gisela Schmidt, are among the group which includes: Jeanette Scott, Nancy L. O'Connor, Claire Cordier, Dave Oestreich, Glenn Morgan, and Marilyn Dawley. E. C. Robbins, instructor in economics and co-adviser of the group, will accompany students.

"Uncle Sam: Shylock or Santa Claus?" is the general theme of this, the third annual conference. Glenn Morgan will lead one of the five round tables, that dealing with American assistance to under-developed areas.

The group will leave Thursday and return Sunday.

AA Party Slated Saturday Night

A carnival and dance will highlight the School of Architecture and Allied Arts' annual Frost Party Saturday night, October 29.

The party is sponsored by the Associated Students of Architecture and Allied Arts. Chairmen are Donald Crump and De Norval Unthank.

"The purpose of this social function," Crump said, "is to acquaint freshman students of the school with the professors and with students of other classes." Activities will begin at 8 p.m. and will continue until 12 midnight in painting studios B and C of the main architecture building.

Faculty members and members of the Associated Students of Architecture and Allied Arts will be admitted free. Others will be charged. The party will be open to all students in the school of Architecture and Allied Arts.

Staff Wanted

Students interested in working on the Demo-Vues, Young Democratic club's monthly publication are urged to attend a meeting of the staff at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the College Side.

Onthank Travels To Personnel Meet

Karl W. Onthank, University director of graduate placement, left Sunday to attend the annual meeting of the Western Personnel Institute in Pasadena, Cal. on Nov. 4 and 5.

Universities and industrial concerns located in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states will be represented at the meeting.

Purpose of the annual meeting is to discuss personnel work and graduate placement in college and industry.

Onthank will meet with alumni and prospective employers in Southern Oregon and California concerning University graduate placement work.

Panel Features Kunz

Representing the Northwest Association of Chemistry Teachers, A. H. Kunz, head of the Chemistry Department, will participate in a panel discussion Nov. 4 at the Pacific Industrial Conferences in San Francisco.

The topic of the panel will be "How Can Colleges and Industry Cooperate to Produce Better Chemists?"
