UofC Fraternities Wear Black In Protest to Drinking Ban

BERKELEY, Cal., — (UP) — Fraternity men paraded in black arm bands and flew flags at half mast Wednesday in impromptu but good-natured demonstrations inspired by a stern official warning against student drinking.

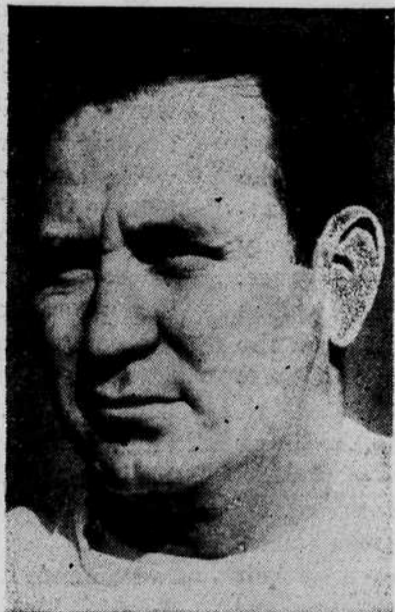

One of the signs read: "First loyalty oaths; now temperance; sex next."

The office of U. of C. President Robert Gordon Sproul sent each campus of the University of California a set of regulations covering "The Common Standards of Morality and Good Taste" which should govern conduct of the schools and their recognized student activities.

Outlaws Bars

The order specifically outlawed the serving of intoxicating beverages in fraternities and student gatherings, and banned the installation or maintenance of bars. The latter rule supposedly would require removal of any such bars now in existence.

Power Failure Threatens NW

PORTLAND, Ore., — (UP) — An 800-acre slash fire burning on a five-mile front Wednesday endangered two 230,000-volt Bonneville transmission lines and threatened the Northwest with a power failure, the Bonneville Power Administration announced.

In all probability, the BPA reported, the fire will go through the lines and cause a Northwest power blackout similar to the one last month when an electrical storm passed over the Portland area.

The fire was within three-quarters of a mile of the lines. Should a snag or burning branch hit the lines, they would be short-circuited and the entire Bonneville power system overloaded.

Two engineers from the J. D. Ross substation at Vancouver, Wash., were flying to the site of the Beacon Rock fire to check on its progress. Firefighters were hampered by 35-mile-an-hour winds out of the Columbia gorge.

The first area to have a power interruption would be metropolitan Portland. If the circuit were overloaded, every major community in Oregon and Washington would have electrical failure, the BPA said.

Order Mums Now For Portland Game

Gals who want to look sharp at the Portland Game should order their mums before 2 p.m. Friday lest they find themselves without one.

Portland florists warn that mums will be scarce because so many were sent to New Orleans this week for the All Saints day celebration.

The mums will be decorated with water-proof ribbon and carry a large, green chenille "O". They may be ordered and paid for at the Co-op, and picked up Saturday at Lubliner Florist, on Morrison between Sixth and Broadway, Portland, near Multnomah Stadium.

Registration cards will be the only student admittance to football films of the 1948 and 1949 Oregon-University of Southern California games which will be shown tonight at 7 p.m. in Room 101, Physical Education Building.

If a large crowd attends, a second showing will be made at 9 p.m. Student and faculty members are invited to this movie.

Cards, Competition Boost Ducat Sales For Portland Rally

Interest in the flashcard fund and inter-house competition are boosting ticket sales for Friday night's Portland rally, Jerry Kinnersly, ticket chairman, stated Wednesday.

The rally, slated for Portland's Paramount Theater, will begin at 8 p. m. instead of 7:45 as previously announced. Students arriving from 7:30 to 8 will see a half-hour program of football short subjects on the screen.

A 20 per cent kickback on all tickets sold on the campus will be given by the Paramount to the rally board for use in developing a flashcard rooting section for grid game entertainment.

PASSES FOR WINNERS

Free passes to a future attraction at the Paramount will be presented to each member of the living organization buying the largest percentage of rally tickets.

Ducats, at 85 cents each, are being sold in campus living organizations and at a booth in the Co-op. House representatives must turn in their tickets to Kinnersly by 10 a. m. Friday.

Ticket price will admit Oregon students to the 45-minute campus talent show and rally plus the Paramount's feature attraction, "Pinky."

"PINKY" TO SHOW

Billed as 20th-Century Fox's bid for this year's Academy Award, "Pinky" is the story of a Negro girl who was mistaken for a white woman. The picture stars Jeanne Crain, Ethel Barrymore, Bill Lundigan, and Ethel Waters.

"Portland Extravaganza," a program chairman Gay Baldwin titles his campus talent show, will feature the Delta Ducklings and Kappa Sigma quartet separately and in combination. Participants are Tri Delt Barbara Henton, Margot Spangler, Elizabeth Erlandson, and Phyllis Higinbotham; and Kappa Sigs Has Haight, Dick Shirley, Harry Gester, and ATO Bill Monroe.

Twenty-Four Vehicle Pile-Up Mars Bay Bridge Accident Record

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—The lower deck of the Bay Bridge, with relatively few accidents marring the record of its heavy bus and truck traffic, lost some of its distinction Wednesday in a spectacular 24 vehicle pile-up apparently caused by one of the season's heaviest fogs.

Bridge highway patrolmen called it the "worst day ever" on the heavily-trafficked lower deck. Four men were injured and hospitalized.

Heavy bus and truck traffic and electric trans-bay trains were stalled for 30 minutes when a key system bus collided with the rear

University Theater To Issue Calendars

Calendars will be given to holders of season tickets for University Theater productions this year, it was announced yesterday.

The calendars, now being prepared, will enable theater-goers to know the dates that each of the four regular productions are being given. They will be mailed to season ticket holders with their tickets.

Those wishing to purchase season tickets may do so by calling at the business office in the new University Theater, or may make reservations by calling extension 401. Tickets may also be obtained by writing to the University Theater in care of the speech department.
