

Madame Ehlers to Give Concert Wednesday Eve

Madame Alice Ehlers, Vienna born harpsichordist, will appear in a concert at 8 p. m., Wednesday in the School of Music auditorium.

The concert is the first of the Chamber Concert Series for 1949-50. Tickets for the series are now on sale at the Appliance Center, Wilson's Music Store, or from any member of Phi Mu Alpha, Phi Beta, or Mu Phi Epsilon, men's and women's music organizations. Tickets will also be available at the door Wednesday night.

Madame Ehlers, now a member of the music faculty at the University of Southern California, has played in Europe, Palestine, Egypt, South America, and the United States.

Wherever she has played, critics have raved about her. Olin Downes of the New York Times praised her "amazing virtuosity, precision, and capacity to sing a phrase."

The program for Madame Ehlers' concert will appear in Wednesday's Emerald.

Civil Service Plans Meeting

Civil Service employees of the University will meet at 8 tonight with representatives of the Oregon State Employees Association for an organizational meeting.

The meeting, to be held in Room 3, Fenton Hall, is open to all employees on the campus.

Forty-six chapters of the association are already organized in Oregon, with a membership of more than 4000. The largest of the chapters is on the Oregon State College campus.

Buttons Ready For Weekend

Homecoming buttons — something new this year — will go on sale downtown today, according to Cal Smith, in charge of button sales.

The buttons carry the words "Homecoming 1949" and a picture of a duck. Price will be 10 cents, and purpose to publicize Homecoming. Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is in charge of downtown sales.

Campus sales will begin Friday.

College Grants Criticized More Journalism Professor Travels To Chicago for Conferences

George Armstrong's offer of $50,000,000 to Jefferson Military College if the school would teach white supremacy has been condemned as "deplorable" by Robert A. Kelly, president of the National Student Association.

Kelly called the grant "a melancholy support for discrimination at a time when the concerted efforts of faculty members and students are directed toward its elimination."

The NSA is an association of more than 300 college and university student governments.

Carl C. Webb, manager of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association and assistant professor of journalism, is attending a National Association Managers meeting as part of a 10-day trip to Chicago.

On Nov. 10 and 11 he will take part in the fall convention of the National Editorial Association.

The NAM, of which Webb is past president, opened its meeting Monday and will continue through Wednesday. Webb is scheduled for a talk on "Trade Associations."

On Nov. 10 he will participate in an NEA Advisory Council conference. The convention itself begins the following day.

Webb plans to attend a luncheon co-sponsored by the Oregonian and the Oregon Journal in Portland on his return trip.
