

Dorothy Thompson To Give Open Speech In Mac Court Dec. 8

Journalist Dorothy Thompson will speak to students, faculty, and townspeople at McArthur Court on Dec. 8.

Miss Thompson is a widely traveled authority on world affairs. She entered social work after graduation from Syracuse University. While on a visit to Europe, she had a chance interview with Terence McSweeney several hours before the Irish patriot was arrested and jailed. This story marked Miss Thompson's debut as a journalist and foreign correspondent.

WORKED FOR EASTERN PAPERS

She spent eight years in Vienna and Berlin for Philadelphia and New York papers. When she took over the Berlin office of the New York Evening Post, she became the first woman ever to hold such a position for the American press.

She wrote a number of articles on Hitler before his access to power in 1933. After the publication of her "I Saw Hitler" in 1934 she was ordered out of Germany and permanently denied permission to return.

LIST OF BOOKS

Miss Thompson's other books include "Refugees: Anarchy or Organization," "Dorothy Thompson's Political Guide," "Let the Record Speak" and "Portrait of a Christian."

Her most recent trip to Europe was in early 1947 when she went to Poland to report on the national elections.

Campus Station KDUK Delays First Program

The debut of campus station KDUK will not come during this term according to a statement made Monday by Herman Cohen, instructor in speech and faculty adviser to the station.

Lack of personnel to handle technical problems was the chief reason given by Cohen for the delay. He asked that any students with radio experience see him as soon as possible.

Roger Hogle, technical director for KERG, the Register-Guard station, has volunteered to assist in the setting up of KDUK.

Commenting on the future of KDUK, Cohen said no definite decision as to the station's fate can be made until the University radio board meets sometime this week. The board is studying several proposals, and will make their recommendations to the proper authority.
