

Physical Science Aid Exams Due In Washington Office by Dec. 13

Applications for the U. S. Civil Service Physical Science Aid examination must be received in the Commission's Washington office by Dec. 13, according to information received here.

Positions paying from $2,200 to $3,100 will be filled from registers compiled from the examination. For positions paying $2,450 and above, applicants must have had from one to four years of appropriate experience in the physical sciences. Pertinent education may be substituted for required experience.

Registers established from the examination will also be used to fill positions as technical aid, technical and scientific aid, laboratory helper, scientific aid, computer, observer, museum or exhibits aid, cryptanalyst, and other subprofessional scientific positions.

Optional branches covered are chemists, physics, metallurgy, geology, mathematics, and other branches of physical science except meteorology.

Vacancies to be filled exist in Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the University graduate placement office, Room 216, Emerald Hall.

Bridge Tourney Open to Students

Oregon students will be eligible to play in the 1950 Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, Lester Jones, Student Union Board chairman announced Tuesday.

Regulations concerning entering the contest will be made public by the Student Union Board in January, Jones said. A preliminary round will be played by mail in February, with finalists meeting in Chicago on April 21 and 22.

Expenses of the finalists will be paid by the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee which sponsors the contest.

Tolerance is a word which has several shades of meaning; to some people it really means condescension; to the Christian it ought to mean sympathetic understanding..

The conclave, according to Young GOP President Beldon Owens has requested that members of the organization pay yearly dues at today's meeting to be eligible to vote for the delegates.

Book Debtors Get Two Alternatives

Fall term purchasers of the 1950 Oregana who have already paid $2 down on a yearbook are reminded by Jim Sanders, business manager, that they may take one of two alternatives in completing their payment before Jan. 15.

The fee assessors in Emerald Hall have been instructed to accept during pre-registration:

1. A $2 payment which will hold the 1950 book leaving $2 to be taken from the student's breakage fee.
2. A $4 payment which when added to the down payment will complete the full $6 cost of the book.

The Oregana purchaser must tell the clerk which plan he wants to use.

Students are urged by Sanders to note that whichever plan the student chooses he must have paid a $4 minimum to the Oregana before Jan. 15 or forfeit the original $2 and his book reservation.

Standards Studied

A special faculty committee for the study of academic regulations has been named by President Harry K. Newburn.

Members are C. F. Weigle, chairman; P. E. Eiserer, K. J. O'Connell, E. S. Wengert, W. J. Dixon, A. H. Kunz, Robert Leeper, R. D. Clark, and John Stehn.

Art Johnson To Represent Oregon at NY

Art Johnson, student body president, will represent students of the state of Oregon at the 54th annual Congress of American Industry in New York City, Dec. 7, 8, and 9.

Johnson is among 49 college students—one from each state and the District of Columbia—invited to the conclave by the National Association of Manufacturers. He will leave for New York on Dec. 3.

While in New York, Johnson will meet with University of Oregon alumni in that area.

The college students, whose expenses, including transportation, are to be paid by the NAM, will have a chance to win one of six prizes offered by that organization for the best essay appraising the meeting.

Speakers who will be heard at the three-day session include Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, Carlos P. Romulo, president of the general assembly of the United Nations, and Paul G. Hoffman, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration.

'Quartet' Billed By Movie Club

"Quartet," the British production of four stories by W. Somerset Maugham, and the second picture in the Foreign Movie Club series, will be shown at the Mayflower Theater from Dec. 4 to Dec. 7.

A matinee will be given on Sunday afternoon, with two evening showings on each of the four nights.

Student pledge cards may be obtained until Sunday.

The Foreign Movie Club was organized earlier in the fall by Rene L. Picard, assistant professor of Romance languages, to make possible the showing of first-class foreign pictures which could not be brought to Eugene without an organization of this sort.

We'll skip the item about a Connecticut doctor being held up by a patient. Why rib the whole profession.
