Peace by Power

Of Communism he said, "Communism is no real danger to us—power is."

Speaking of the Chinese situation, he pointed out that the Communists have not really conquered China until they have proven that they can better Chinese economy.

"Communism is not to be defeated by mercenary Capitalist troops," Swing asserted. "Our power and influence are not readily accepted in Asia. There is a mistaken conception in this country that we can combat Russia by arming Japan and Germany."

GERMANY NOT DEMOCRATIC New Germany is not democratic, Swing believes. He witnessed the fact that 60 per cent of the top-ranking officials are ex-Nazis.

"We have agreed to abandon disarmament to placate Western Germany, while a powerful Nationalist Germany means World War III," he declared.

According to the speaker, the fault of the Marshall Plan is that no United States of Europe has yet been formed.

The solution to the world problem he said lies in extending our markets and federating with Europe.

"Federation is the greatest defense against Communism," Swing said. "The alternative to war is to replace world anarchy with a world law where no armies, armadas, or atom bombs are needed. Laws will be enforced by courts and only the guilty will be punished."

Despite its record, Santa Ana was expected to be a decided underdog against Little Rock, the nation's highest scoring junior college this year.

Pearl River, Mississippi state junior college conference champion, picked up its opponent for the Dec. 9 memorial bowl game at Jackson, Miss. The Mississippi team will meet Lamar Junior College of Beaumont, Tex., a club with a record of nine triumphs and one loss.

The Texas rose bowl game, to be played at Tyler, Texas, on Dec. 10, was filled when the Fort Smith Aggies, Colorado junior college champions, were selected to oppose the Tyler Junior College eleven. Fort Lewis won eight games while losing two this season while Tyler won 10 of its 11 contests.

Texas Tech accepted a bid to oppose San Jose State in the fifth annual raisin bowl Dec. 31 at Fresno, Cal. The Fresno chamber of commerce said the acceptance was made after the local organization wired Lubbock, Tex., advising that travelling expenses had been approved.

Violations Settled In Traffic Cases

Of seven traffic violators turned over to the Office of Student Affairs by the student traffic court, six cases have been settled, court officials have reported.

Two cases appeared before the court Tuesday night with both being found guilty. Sentence was suspended for one offender.

Five violators had previously posted bail at the Office of Student Affairs, making a total of $9 in fines collected.

One student will receive his second warning card this week. If he fails to appear before the court at its meeting next Tuesday, his case will be turned over to Student Affairs.

The court made an appeal that car owners do not park by fire hydrants or driveways. Such cars will be towed away and may be retrieved only by paying towing and storing charges, court officials said.
