

Substitutes for Christmas Vacation? Maybe; They Don't Sound Bad!

By BARBARA JEREMIAH

What would Christmas be without Christmas vacation? Well, what would Jimmy Durante be without Margaret O'Brien? Certainly not a going thing, but it has interesting theoretical possibilities.

With a few Christmas ingredients from the various departments and a lot of spirits from the Vets Dorm, we might work up an acceptable substitute. First of all, we need a Santa Claus. Right now, no one seems to need a Santa Claus worse than the orphans in the PE department with no scholastic home. Maybe a booth could be set up in the Co-op where Dean Leighton could bounce the kiddies on his knee, with his helpers Miss Murray and Miss Spande handing out free adviser's signatures.

TREES TO LINE WALK

What about a Christmas tree? With a few well-lit members of the student body stationed near the trees lining the Senior Walk, we could have something rivaling Hollywood's famed Yuletide boulevard.

Dinner would be magnificent, if everyone saved all the turkeys they pulled in exams. And who wouldn't appreciate a plum pudding, flaming with cough syrup, followed by after-dinner cold pills.

The talent committee could organize a group of carollers to float past the living organizations on barges singing "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas." The houses would be expected to invite them in for a cup of steaming wassail and a brownie button, redeemable during winter term.

ODD BALLS ON DOORS

Each house could make up a wreath for the front door composed of well-picked, evergreen freshmen, brightened by odd balls. Deferred rushing would make available enough pledge ribbons to tie the packages.

Of course, for Christmas Eve we would have to have a real old-fashioned Christmas party, where everyone could dance the Charleston and small gifts (fraternity pins for the women and thousand-dollar legacies for the men) would be distributed.

And with the cooperation of the faculty, Christmas morning would be the best ever, with A grades filling every stocking.

Rev. Nicholson Named Head Of Local 'Dads'

The Rev. Wesley G. Nicholson, minister of the Eugene First Congregational Church, is the new president of the Eugene Oregon Dads' organization.

He succeeds Blair Alderman, who succumbed to injuries received in an automobile accident last summer.

Appointed to his executive committee are Stanley R. Summers, Donald Husband, Julio Silva, J. J. McGindy, and F. A. Beltz.

The committee and Mrs. Nicholson will meet with President H. K. Newburn for lunch Thursday at the Eugene Hotel to discuss organizational plans. Ways in which the organization can be of service to the University will also be discussed.

Examination Skips Must Have 'O.K.'

Students unable to take final examinations should check with their professors beforehand to insure an incomplete instead of a failing grade on their record, the Office of Student Affairs warns.

Absence from final examinations can be excused only by the professor instructing each course.

Students Called To Form Group For Air Travel

Two students are needed to act as representatives in organizing student groups for cut-rate air transportation home for Christmas, according to Air Travel Inc. of New York.

Student representatives will be paid commissions plus an expense-paid trip home and back for themselves.

Under the Air Travel plan groups of students living in the same area will be flown from Eugene to whatever principal city is closest to their homes, and return the same way at the end of Christmas vacation. Group fares will be 20 to 30 per cent lower than scheduled airlines fares, the company announced.

Students interested in acting as representatives should write to Air Travel, Inc. 420 Lexington avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

YOU'D never guess to see him now, but just two weeks ago there was a sad, forlorn look in Sheedy's beady eyes. People picked on him because his hair looked like he was moulting. Not a gal on campus would even carry a conversation with him. Then he bought a bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic and he's been a gay old bird ever since. Non-alcoholic Wildroot containing Lanolin keeps hair neat and well-groomed all day long. Relieves annoying dryness, removes the loose ugly dandruff that can make you a social outcast. So if your hair is giving you trouble, set your corpse for the nearest drug or toilet goods counter and get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. And ask your barber for professional applications. It's the best treatment your hair cadaver get.
