

Meters Set For Parking By Campus

Parking meters will be installed within the next 30 to 60 days in the business district adjacent to the campus it was learned yesterday from City Manager Oren King.

The action was recommended by the University Civic Club, an organization composed of businessmen in the University area, to facilitate a faster turnover in vehicle parking and permit patrons a better chance to park near the business houses.

Pending official approval of the city council Monday night, 75 meters will be ordered at an approximate cost of $75 each. The meters will be set up for 30-minute and one-hour parking depending on the location.

They will be put on the business side of 11th Avenue between Hilyard and Alder, parts of Alder between 11th and 13th, and along 13th in the Kincaid to Alder block.

Japan Requires Normal Trade States Matsui

By Mary Ann Delsman

The establishment of normal trade connections with other nations is necessary for the economic recovery of Japan, Dr. Schichiro Matsui, Japanese economics professor, said in a lecture last night.

"The Japanese economy is based on foreign trade," he pointed out. It is impossible for the nation to raise enough food to maintain herself because less than 20 per cent of the land on the four islands making up Japan is arable. Even in a good year enough food is raised to feed only 50 of the 80 millions of people in Japan.

Dr. Matsui's speech was the first of the University Lecture Series to be held this term. He was introduced by R. H. Ernst, chairman of the University Lectures Committee. Title of the speech was "The New Democracy in Japan."

JAPAN CHANGES OUTLINED
The speaker outlined the changes made in Japan by the United States occupation and discussed their effects.

"General McArthur is considered very conservative in the United States, but in Japan he is considered radical," Dr. Matsui explained.

"One of the important changes produced by the occupation was the adoption of a new constitution which changed the status of the emperor from a living god to a mere symbol of state.

EMANCIPATION PROVIDED

"The new constitution also provided for the emancipation of women which had far reaching effects. It gave them the right to vote, the right to own property, and through this right to inherit property.

Another important change instituted was the distribution of the holdings of one company which before the war controlled the majority of the national production.

Term Registration Jumps to 4,810

Students registering Thursday totalled 565, bringing the winter term total to approximately 4,810.

Wednesday 698 students registered.

Registration will continue until noon on Jan. 14 in Emerald Hall. Students failing to complete registration by Saturday noon will be assessed a late fee of $5 starting Monday.

Fire Safety Plans Finished by Group

By MARJORY BUSH

Plans for increased University fire protection were completed Thursday at a meeting of campus, city, and Eugene Water Board officials.

President Harry K. Newburn will present the groups' report to the Chancellor for approval of the State Board of Higher Education the last of January.

When the plan is officially approved, work will begin immediately, J. O. Lindstrom, business manager said.

NEW FIRE LINES

The immediate action program is designed to supply sufficient water to the campus by new fire lines on the old campus for Deady, Villard, and Fenton Halls, a loop for Chapman, Susan Campbell, and Gerlinger Halls, a stub for the Vets Dorm and for the Physical Plant warehouse, and a loop for McArthur Court and the Physical Education Building.

The cost of this immediate program, which was recommended by Joe W. Gault, deputy state fire marshal, has been estimated at $22,275 by I. I. Wright, superintendent of the Physical Plant. Work should be completed by approximately Apr. 1 by both the city and the campus.

WORK SLATED SOON

The new lines will have eight-inch mains of either cast iron or steel. Twelve new hydrants will be installed on the campus by the University. Three new hydrants on city streets will also benefit the campus.

Work on the Vets Dorm stub and the line for the warehouse can be started soon, Wright said.

Long-range plans to protect adequately the growing campus were also tentatively set. They will increase protection in the vicinity of Carson and John Straub Halls, the proposed science building, the Infirmary, and Hayward Field.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS
All work on the campus will be financed by the University, while off-campus lines will be installed by the Eugene Water Board.

Present at Thursday's meeting in Johnson Hall were Lindstrom, Wright, Gault, Oren L. King, Eugene city manager; Ed Surfus, Eugene fire chief; Ray Boals, superintendent of the Eugene Water and Electric Board; Walter Moore, superintendent, Water Department; and Norman Johnson and Fred Northrup of the Water Board.

12 Positions Open For Dads' Day Work

Twelve sub-chairmanships are open for this year's Dads' Day celebration Jan. 28, with petitions due 5 p.m. Monday.

Petitions may be turned in to Chairman Gerry Smith at Phi Gamma Delta or to Assistant Chairman Virginia Wright, Alpha Xi Delta.

Chairmen will be chosen for publicity, promotion, budget, decoration (including house, campus and downtown signs), special events (including Hostess selection), housing, cleanup, registration, hospitality, luncheon, basketball game, and awards.

Advertising Week Set For January 8 to 14

Advertising Recognition Week will be observed on campus from Jan. 8 to 14 with Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi, the national advertising fraternities, taking part in the activities.

The week-long program, designed to acquaint the public and business with the function and values of advertising, includes the appearance of Richard Montgomery, Portland advertising agent.

ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION

He will hold a roundtable discussion with advertising majors Jan. 13 and the following day will interview seniors concerning job possibilities on the Pacific Coast.

A banquet will also be held on Jan. 13, at which time pledges in both fraternities will be initiated.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

Advertising Recognition Week is sponsored by the Advertising Association of the West, which includes all advertising clubs in 11 Western states. Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi are associate members.

Co-chairmen for the week are Jack Schnaidt, president of Alpha Delta Sigma, and Marilyn Turner, president of Gamma Alpha Chi. R. D. Millican, assistant professor of advertising, is adviser.

ASUO Council Petitions Due

Petitions for four ASUO Executive Council posts will be due by 5 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 12, at the ASUO office, Emerald Hall.

Vacancies include one sophomore representative, two junior representatives, and one senior representative to the Council.

Openings on the Council were created by the resignations of Phil Patterson, AGS, senior representative; Anita Holmes, USA, and Bill Lance, AGS, junior representative; and Ron Brown, USA, sophomore representative.

Petitioners will be interviewed by the Council at its first meeting of the term, Jan. 16. The meeting scheduled for next Monday has been cancelled.

Alumni Study Of Living Plan Makes Progress

Progress on the alumni study of the deferred living plan was reported Thursday by Eugene Attorney Sid Milligan, chairman of the alumni committee. No definite action has yet been taken.

Milligan stated a meeting will be called shortly to discuss a statement from the University administration and other information received.

Ralph Cake, Republican national committeeman, has been appointed to serve on the committee replacing M. Thomas Stoddard, who resigned.

The position on the committee held by Mrs. Orville Thompson, resigned, has not yet been filled, Alumni Secretary Les Anderson stated. Mrs. Edith Dodge Duncan declined the appointment.

The committee was formed during the 1949 Homecoming celebration at a meeting of Oregon alumni.

Williams' Office Plans Transfer

First transfer of offices into the newly completed student union building will take place Jan. 12 when Dick Williams, student union director, and his staff move in.

The new office space will be located on the mezzanine near the memorial stairway. Williams said that much of the new furniture for the office is yet to come but the move will give him an "on the job" location as final construction begins.

Tentative date for completion has been set at May 1 by the contractors.

Prospective Journalists to Meet

Students interested in working on the Emerald this term may attend a meeting this afternoon at 4 in room 105 Journalism Building, Managing Editor Glenn Gillespie announced.

Jobs are open on both the editorial and business sides of the paper. Reporters, copy desk workers, night staff, ad soliciting, and office workers are needed. No previous experience is necessary.

U.O. Opens PCC Slate Tonight at 8

The 1950 Northern Division basketball season opens for John Warren's Oregon Ducks tonight at McArthur Court, when the crippled Webfoots meet the Washington State Cougars in the first of a two-game series.

Warren faces his first conference test with his two star forwards listed only as questionable starters.

Paul Sowers will test his back injury tonight and possibly Saturday. Will Urban, whose father died, may play in Saturday's game.

LINEUP UNCERTAIN

A patch-work Oregon lineup worked in the last Columbia game, and Warren may still be experimenting tonight, if Sowers and Urban don't play. Only Guard Mel Krause and Mel Streeter, at forward or center, are listed as sure starters.

Jack Friel's Cougars opened their ND season earlier this week. WSC split with Oregon State at

Entertainment Billed

Gloria Ellexson, shapely and talented drum majorette from College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., will appear in McArthur Court this weekend, during the Oregon-WSC basketball series.

The versatile baton-twirler caught the fancy of many Oregon students early this fall at the Oregon-Washington football game in Portland, when she was "borrowed" by the University of Washington band.

Gloria will be introduced during the half-time intermission tonight, and will perform at half-time of Saturday night's game.

Corvallis, winning the first 42-38 Tuesday, while losing 54-53 Wednesday night.

Two sophomores stand out in the young Cougar lineup. Center Gene Conley, at six feet, seven inches, is fast, becoming a scoring threat, as is Guard Ted Tappe, a transfer student.

Conley scored 22 points against OSC Wednesday night.

CAPTURED BY GAYDA

The Cougars will be captained by Ed Gayda, a steady forward last year who has been bothered with an injured ankle this season. Gayda performs well in the pivot position, gathering points with a deadly hook shot. He's also the team's best board man.

Both varsity games start at 8 p.m., with Oregon Frosh preliminary games starting at 6:15 p.m.

Emerald Shifts Publishing Date

Starting Monday, Jan. 9, the Oregon Daily Emerald begins a Monday through Friday publication schedule. A regular Saturday edition will replace the Saturday edition until further notice, Emerald Business Manager Joan Mimaugh announced Thursday.

The change follows the policy set up by other college papers which publish five days a week. More timely coverage of weekend campus events will be possible under the new system.

One extra-page special edition of the Emerald is planned this term. A 16-page issue will be published for Dads' Day Weekend, Jan. 28 and 29.
