

Huxley Novels Lecture Subject

Aldous Huxley and his novels will be discussed by Dr. Carlisle Moore, professor of English, in a library browsing room lecture at 8:30 this evening.

The lecture is open to members of the University faculty and students.

Huxley, an English author who settled in Southern California in 1938, has written nine novels. His "Brave New World," a picture of the future world, started many of his contemporaries on books with similar theme, according to Dr. Moore.

Dr. Moore will discuss Huxley's change from a satirist with no faith in God or ideals to his present standing as a modern mystic. He thinks Huxley to be one of the greatest authors of our day.

Huxley is brother to Julian Huxley, head of UNESCO.

Other books by the author include "Point Counter Point," "Ape and Essence," and his most recent, "Eyeless in Gaza."

Chess Players Enter Tourney

Chess teams from three schools, including the University of Oregon, will unite to play a tournament with the highly praised Portland Chess Club Feb. 19, according to Tom Young, tournament director for the club at the University.

Playing in the tournament will be the University of Oregon, Oregon State College, Pacific University, and possibly the Salem Businessmen's Chess Club. The games will be held in Salem.

Young said the Portland Chess team was very good and is considered the champs of the Pacific Northwest.

The University of Oregon Chess Club has played two tournaments this year winning both. They defeated the Oregon State College Chess team and that of Pacific University—both by close scores.

Twenty boards will be played, two games to each board. Players will be ranked according to strength—the best players of each team being matched.

Grads in Foreign Service Return

Two Oregon graduates now working as junior officers in the state department foreign service are paying a short visit to the University campus, Karl W. Onthank, graduate placement service director, reported.

Thomas Turner, class of '39, is on leave from work in Zurich, Switzerland, and Robert Schott, class of '43, returned from Teheran for a vacation. Turner was formerly stationed in Tunis, while Schott previously worked in Iraq and Iran.

Deady, Villard Parking Nixed Warns Neely

Traffic court chairman Dick Neely Tuesday night issued a warning to speech and drama students who have been parking in the small area between Deady and Villard Halls.

"This area was put in by a requirement of the state fire marshal for protective purposes and must be kept open at all times," Neely stated. "In the future tickets will be issued to violators, who must also pay towing charges if it becomes necessary to haul the vehicle away."

Neely's warning came after the first winter term session of the student traffic court Tuesday evening. A total of $8 in fines was collected, with two students who appeared being fined $1 each, four $1 bail forfeitures and one $2 bail forfeiture.

Sentence was suspended in the cases of four students found guilty of violations.

The chairman also reminded new students to register their cars with the student court. Failure to display a student registration sticker is a violation in itself. Over 2000 cars are now on the court's rolls, Neely said.

Council Approves Parking Meters

The Eugene city council last night approved the purchase order for an additional 75 parking meters to be installed in the business district adjacent to the University of Oregon campus.

The meters, to be installed within the next two months, will be placed on 11th Avenue between Hilyard and Alder, parts of Alder between 11th and 13th, and along 13th in the Kincaid to Alder block.

As with the parking meters now in use in the city, the new meters will be purchased on a time payment plan. Fifty percent of the monthly "take" will be paid to the manufacturing company until the purchase of the meters is complete.

The council also agreed to approve the fire protection plan for the campus recently compiled by a joint meeting of University officials and the City Water Board of Eugene and to pay its share of the cost of installing water lines and hydrants.

Modern Films Slated Today

A program of movies on surrealism and experimentalism will be shown at approximately 4 p.m., tomorrow, at the Mayflower Theater, under the sponsorship of the Foreign Movie Club and the Journal Club.

R. L. Picard, president of the Foreign Movie Club, will introduce the program, beginning at 3:30. The four movies will last for about an hour and a half.

Tickets, which may be obtained from club members or at the box office of the theater, are priced at 25 cents.
