

Varsity Aqua-Men Vie Frosh Paddlers

Coach John Borchardt's varsity swimmers are now preparing to face George Moorhead's Freshman team in an intra-squad meet that is scheduled Saturday, Jan. 28, in the Men's Pool.

FIRST MEET

This will be the first meet for both teams, and the contest should give a good indication of the part that Oregon will play in later Northern Division encounters.

Although the varsity team has some of the finest swimmers in Oregon (and possibly in the Northwest, too), the Freshmen, from all indications, will not go down without offering a spirited battle. Both teams are well-supplied with talent.

Some of the outstanding individual contests of the meet should take place in diving and in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle. Northern Division records might be broken in the latter two and also in the 200-yard breaststroke.

DIVING ARTISTS

In the diving contests, the varsity team will be represented by Jim Stanley and Harry Ladas, while Don McKillip will participate for the Frosh. Since Stanley captured the Northern Division diving crown last year, this event should be one of the outstanding features of the meet. Stanley is a member of the all-time all-Oregon University swimming team.

Two other great battles are expected in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle, in which Gordon Edwards of the Frosh will compete with veteran Pete Van Dyke.

Van Dyke clipped two-tenths of a second off the Northern Division record in the 440 last spring, and he came within one second of tying the Northern Division record in the 220, set by Washington's Pete Powlinson in 1947. Edwards swam for Lincoln of Portland in 1949, winning the state high school titles in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle races.

While Edwards and Van Dyke are attempting to set new records in the 220 and 440, Joe Nishimoto will be striving to do the same in the 200-yard breaststroke. Nishimoto swam the 220 with a time of 2:26.7 in 1949, coming within one-tenth of a second of tying the Northern Division record, which is 2:26.6, set by Jack Dallas of Oregon in 1939.

NO ADMISSION

There will be no admission price. Northern Division or local Men's Pool records may be equaled or surpassed, and the meet promises to be one that the spectators will not soon forget.

Gridiron Foul Partially Backed

Approximately two-thirds of the football fouls called against Pacific Coast Conference teams in 1949 actually were enforced, an analysis made by the PCC Commissioner's staff today revealed.

The survey, based on reports from game officials, also indicated that the time necessary to play PCC games approaches the national average of 2 hours and 21 minutes.

4:35 Beta Theta Pi vs Mintern

5:15 Pi Kappa Phi vs Phi Delta Theta

Handball

Gamma Hall vs Campbell Club

It was another night for the Greeks in intramural basketball competition Tuesday night as the Kappa Sigs routed Hunter, the Sammies dropped Sederstrom, the ATOs walloped Nestor, and Phi Sigma Kappa ran over Alpha. SAE edged Omega in an overtime and Phi Kappa Psi defeated Cherney in close contests.

KAPPA SIGS BIG

The Kappa Sigs were too big for Hunter and rolled to a 26-4 win, with the reserves seeing a lot of action. Halftime count was 13-4. The regulars increased the lead to 21-4 before bringing in the shock troops. Anderson and Burdette were the big scoring guns for the winners, while Whittaker and Bottemiller each got a basket to take care of the Cherney total.

Pat Dignan's lay-in gave the SAEs their overtime triumph over Omega 11-9, in a fray that was wilder than an Argentine election. Beef was the deciding factor and the SAEs had the most. Numerous missed lay-ins resulted in 4-4 halfway knot and it was 9-9 when the regular period of block-throwing was over. Dignan led the winners with four points and Kiaser had three for Omega. Sigma Alpha Mu had little trouble in racking up a 40-12 win over Sederstrom in the highest scoring affair of the night. Marv Horenstein dropped in 10 counters to top the winners, who held a 22-6 half-time lead. Halverson and Hudson each got four for the losers.

PHI PSI VICTORS

Phi Kappa Psi came from behind in the second half to win over Cherney, 12-8. The dormers stretched a 3-2 first quarter lead to 6-2 at the halfway point but could add only 2 points in the last half. Williamson garnered four points to lead the losing Cherney cause, while none of the winners could do better than two.

The Phi Sigs used everybody in the house for a 15-2 runaway over Alpha. Bill Laughton broke loose for a lay-in in the final period to prevent the losers from being blanked. It was 5-0 at half-time and 11-0 at the end of the third quarter. Wahlers paced the winners with six.

The ATOs-Nestor fracas was another case of the big boys against the little boys, and the big boys won, 31-2. The difference at half-time was 16-2. The Nestorites used a fire wagon shoot-anywhere attack that was about as successful as other such attacks used on this campus. Kittleson led the scoring with nine.

BETAS CLICK

Beta Theta Pi blanked Sigma Hall, 3-0, in the only handball action to uphold the Greek supremacy for the night.

Sharman Leads Southern Division

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Forward Bill Sharman of the University of Southern California leads Pacific Coast Conference Southern Division scorers after four games and appears to be headed toward a new season scoring record, the PCC Commissioner's Office reported today.

Sharman had made 90 points in the first four loop tussles for a 22.5-point average. When Hank Luisetti of Stanford set the division mark of 232 points in 1938, he averaged 19.3 per game.

Far behind Sharman in total points are George Yardley of Stanford with 61, Al Sawyer, UCLA, 56, Jim Walsh, Stanford, 46, and Bob Matheny, California, 43.

Sharman tops the loop in free throw shooting, getting 24 out of 25 attempts. In field goal percentage, Sharman is third behind teammates Stan Christie and Al Lamont. Christie has a .432 average, Lamont .414 and Sharman .402.

Southern Cal tops the four division teams in free throw percentages with a .671 mark and in field goal percentage with .367.

In the old days, the farmer had ways of dealing with such larceny. Un-huh, a gun full of rock salt. But we wouldn't recommend that now. There's the telephone and it takes only a few minutes to get a cop.

Top Golfers Ready For Meet Finis

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Ben Hogan unlimbered his tired legs and Sam Snead warmed up his hot-and-cold putter today for their delayed playoff tomorrow for the Los Angeles Open Golf Championship, an anti-climax to a heart-warming comeback and heart-stopping rally.

The 18 holes of medal play over the Riviera Country Club's 7,020-yard course brings together the nation's top two golfers, shooting for the lion's share of $4,500.

It is one of the few times that two golfers of such stature have met in man-to-man competition and probably never has a match been played under such dramatic conditions. If they still are tied at the end of 18 holes, they will continue under "sudden death" conditions until one player wins a hole.

TIED AT 72 HOLES

Hogan and Snead tied with four-under-par 280's at the end of the regulation 72 holes in the rain-deviled $15,000 tournament last week.

Snead shot a full 18-hole practice round at Lakewood Country Club, getting a one over par 82. He felt confident he would be able to master Hogan in the playoff "if my putting game holds together."

Hogan practiced at Riviera but did not play a full round. He concentrated on sharpening his drives and iron shots and conserved the strength in his weakened legs. Asked how he expected to fare, Hogan replied, "I'll give Snead a run for his money."

Bantam Ben, in his first tournament since an auto accident nearly ended his life a year ago, carded three consecutive sub-par 69's after going one over par for 72 in the first round. Snead, finishing after Hogan in the last round, dropped 15-foot putts for birdies on the 17th and 18th holes for a sizzling 66 to tie the courageous little Texan.

RAINS PREVAIL

They were scheduled to play off last Wednesday for the $2600 first place money, $1900 second place and an even split of 50 per cent of the gate receipts, but heavy rains washed out the match and the golfers went north for the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Tournament.

Snead finished in a four-way tie there with Dave Douglas, Smiley Quick and Jack Burke after blowing a seven-foot putt. Hogan, tired by the grueling Los Angeles play which went an extra day when rain forced postponement of the third round after he'd gone 11 holes in a storm, wound up nine strokes back with a 223.

"I'm a little tired after the long grind of two tournaments," Ben said today as he prepared to warm up at Riviera, "But I figure I'll be in pretty good shape tomorrow."

Hogan said he hadn't anticipated the strain he underwent in the Los Angeles Tournament. The postponed third and playoff rounds gave him little time to rest his recently shattered legs.

Meanwhile, rain again threatened the playoff. The forecast was occasional light showers during the day, but the match was expected to be played unless another deluge made the course completely unplayable as it was last week.
