

Oregon Man At Chicago

Carl W. Hintz, University librarian, is en route to the mid-winter meeting of the American Library Association in Chicago.

On the way he will visit several libraries, including those of the Universities of Nebraska, Colorado, and California. He will observe and study divisional organization in preparation for a similar program in the University library.

Hintz also plans to note interior decorations, especially at the University of California.

Dr. E. B. Barnes will act as University librarian until Hintz's return Feb. 4.

Hintz is chairman of the American Librarian Association Board of Resources and also on the committee for implementation of national plans of associations of college and research libraries.

Talk Scheduled On Latin Fauna

Dr. George Gaylord Simpson, vertebrate paleontologist, will speak at 7 tonight in 207 Chapman on "History of the Latin American Fauna." Dr. Simpson's appearance is sponsored by Sigma Xi, national science honorary.

Dr. Simpson was leader of the Scarritt fossil hunting expeditions in Argentina and Venezuela. While studying in South America, he was elected honorary associate of the Museo de Ciencias Naturales in Caracas, Venezuela.

Curator of the vertebrate paleontology department of the American Museum of Natural History, Dr. Simpson is also a professor of paleontology at Columbia University in New York city. He has received national recognition as a fellow of the National Research Council. His work with the International Board of Education took him to posts in Great Britain, Germany, and France.

Author of many scientific books and papers, Dr. Simpson is the reipient of the Lewis prize from the American Philosophical Society and the Thompson and Elliott medals awarded in the science fields.

He earned his Ph.D. at Yale University where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. During World War II, he served as a major in the U.S. Army.

Sigma Xi presents Dr. Simpson as a regular feature of its lecture series.

Spanish Movie Set For Showing Today

"Carmen de la Triana," only production of Prosper Merimee's famous story actually filmed in Spain, will be shown at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. today in Johnson Hall's Guild Theater.

Imperio Argentina, Spain's leading feminine interpreter of gypsy and regional dances, sings the role of the taunting Carmen. Rafael Rivelles is Don Jose, and Manuel Luna plays Escamillo, the toreador.

Authentic costumes, dialogue, songs, and music enhance the 99-minute production, which will be shown with English subtitles. Admission charge is 35 cents.

There's one thing certain—our bubble gum tots never will turn out to be busts themselves.

A tree fell on an Ohio artist, breaking his arm. Well, think what some artists have done to trees.

Foreign Movie To Be Shown

An Italian film, "To Live in Peace," will be shown tomorrow and Thursday at the Mayflower Theater. The film is under the sponsorship of the Foreign Movie Club.

The third foreign film in the series sponsored by the club organized early this year concerns an American soldier housed by an Italian family during the liberation of Italy at the end of World War II.

Aldo Fabrizzi, who played the role of the priest in "Open City," takes the leading role in "To Live in Peace." English subtitles will be shown.

That Salem woman who just got her 15th divorce and is still looking for the right man may be an optimist. On the other hand maybe she just doesn't know when she's well off.

Law Honorary To Initiate Six

Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity, will initiate six students and one honorary member at ceremonies in the Lane County Courthouse Feb. 4, President Edward L. Clark of Oregon chapter announced Friday.

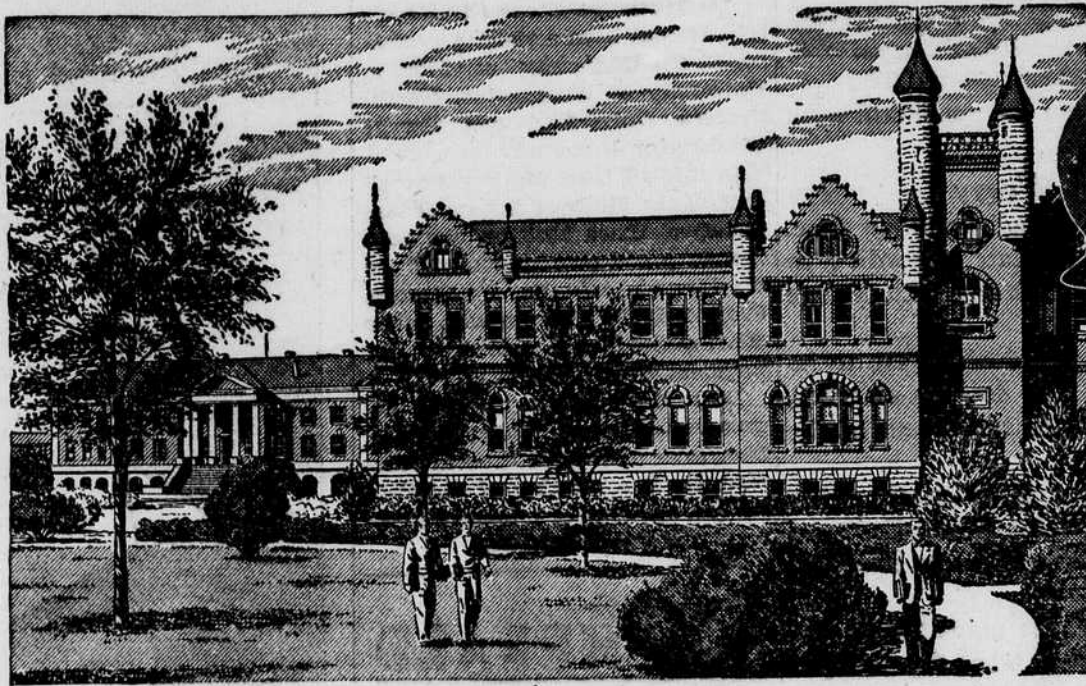

Circuit Judge William G. East, '32 graduate of the University School of Law, whose headquarters are in Eugene, will be initiated as an honorary member.

Students who were pledged by the organization during this week's "rushing" period were selected from the members of the first year law class having at least a 2.5 cumulative grade point average in law courses.

They are Robert S. Kerr, John R. Sabin, Jack R. Brown, Robert W. Hill, and Fred A. Risser.

Robert E. Gagnat, a second year student, was pledged earlier, and will be initiated in the courthouse ceremonies. A banquet will follow initiation, and an outstanding member of the Oregon bar will be the featured speaker, Clark said.

Major Norm Hays, Oklahoma A&M, '40 -Aviation Executive, U.S. Air Force!

A native of Grove, Oklahoma, Norman Hays graduated from Grove High School in 1935. The following year he entered Oklahoma A&M, where he majored in engineering; also took public speaking.

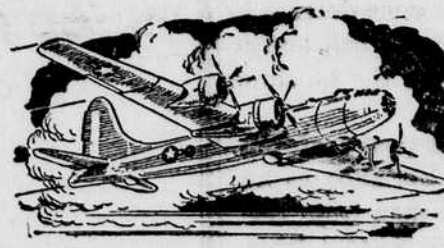

Active in national 4H Club work while in college, he helped organize its statewide activities, won a national 4H championship in Public Speaking. In 1940 he received his BS degree in engineering.

A month later he began navigator training as an Aviation Cadet. In 1941, he received his navigator's wings and a commission as Second Lieutenant . . . married his college sweetheart.

Sent to an RAF Navigation School in Canada, he graduated with the highest possible rating of Specialist. Norman served overseas for 18 months in the Aleutians, Italy and Saipan.

Accepting a regular commission after the war, he was assigned to development of navigation instruments; navigated the B-29 "Pacusan Dreamboat" on its famed Hawaii-Cairo non-stop flight in 1946.

Typical of college graduates who have found their place in the U. S. Air Force, Major Hays is Chief, Navigation Section, at Headquarters in Washington . . . with a secure career . . . a promising future.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain about these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.
